LAUD ROOSEVELT; ONE SCORES TAFT

Prof. Laughlin, Contrasting the Two, Pronounces the Present Executive "a Failure."

GOOD INTENTIONS; WEAK.

K. C. Sears, at Rush Banquet, Says the Former President Averted Great Labor Conflict.

Two eminent Americans — their personality and the results of their services as chief magistrates — were discussed and dissected yesterday by Chicagoans in college addresses.

At a banquet of the faculty and alumni of Rush Medical College last night Ex-Judge Nathaniel C. Sears said:

"Theodore Roosevelt has done more than any other 100 statesmen during the last century to make it possible that what property you have accumulated may be handed down in safety to your sons and daughters. His stand for righteousness and the golden rule makes more remote today the clash of those who have millions and the millions who have none."

Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of Chicago, one of the world's authorities on political economy, said at Drake university in Iowa of President Taft:

"He is a tolerant, weak, well-intentioned failure."

LAUGHLIN COMMENTS ON TAFT.

Des Moines, Ia., June 15.—[Special.]—President Taft was held up as a failure before the graduating class of Drake university today by Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, who delivered the commencement address.

Prof. Laughlin is head of the department of political economy at the university and known as an international leader in this line of work.

The address, the subject of which was "Leadership," was a criticism of the president and his administration.

Former President Roosevelt was lauded as a real leader and held up as an example. Prof. Laughlin contrasted the lives and administrations of the two presidents, declaring that the one was a tremendous success, while the other was a failure.

The "interests" were frequently referred to throughout the address of Prof. Laughlin, and their influence on President Taft, he said, was the cause of the failure of his administration.

Contrasts the Two Men.

Contrasting Roosevelt and Taft, Prof. Laughlin said:

"On the one hand is the man who won the hearts of the people by taking them into his confidence, by standing out strongly against selfish and corrupting interests, and by aligning himself with the people on all questions. He had the wisdom to find out what the people wanted, and the moral strength to carry out their wishes. Special interests had no voice in his administration.

"On the other hand is a man who stands out in sharp contrast. Possibly no greater opportunity for leadership ever confronted one man, but this one failed to grasp it. He failed to seize the opportunity to become the leader of a nation, an opportunity which he never will have again.

"He is weak in moral courage and listens to the voices of the selfish interests. He is a tolerant, weak, well intentioned failure. When he entered upon the office he did so while a public waited anxious and eager to accept him as leader. But he failed to respond to them."

TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT.

Credit for averting an "impending" conflict between capital and labor is due in greatest measure to Col. Roosevelt, according to the opinion expressed by ex-Judge N. C. Sears in Chicago last night. He was speaking to the faculty and alumni of the Rush Medical college in the Auditorium.

"Despite his many faults, notwithstanding his brutal egotism and his inexcusable disregard of law, his stand for righteousness, for a spirit of fairness and the gospel of the golden rule, makes more remote today the clash of those who have millions and the millions who have none than it has been for many years past," said Mr. Sears.

"We face the problem of eradicating greed and graft just as you doctors are compelled to remove a cancer from the body," he continued. "If the impending conflict be averted it must be not alone through the eradication of the spirit of anarchy from the hearts of the poor, but also through the inculcation of a spirit of fair dealing in the minds and hearts of those who control millions.

Allays "Class" Strife.

"The advent of one man into the politics of the nation has worked tremendously to prevent this conflict between these two opposing forces. His stand for right has served to allay the spirit of antagonism which some time may bring this struggle to pass. He has done more than any other 100 statesmen during the last century to make it possible that what property you have accumulated may be handed down in safety to your sons and daughters."

The banquet hall at the Auditorium was filled with alumni, graduates of 1910, and the faculty of Rush. Dr. Raymond L. Leonard was presiding officer and Dr. William H. Wilder the toastmaster. Other speakers were Dr. John M. Dodson, the Rev. Frank G. Smith, Dr. Peter S. MacDonald, Dr. Charles S. Reed, and Dr. Ralph S. Fisher.

CLASH OVER MUSEUM FENCE.

Stanley Field Wants Wire, but the Park Board Decides to Use Steel Pickets.

Stanley Field, president of the Field Museum of Natural History in Jackson park, and Henry G. Foreman, president of the south park board, have adverse opinions in regard to the kind of fence that should be built around the museum to protect visitors from walking too close to its crumbling walls. Mr. Field told the board he wanted a wire fence. Mr. Foreman declared it would detract from the beauty of the park.

Finally it was agreed to erect a steel picket fence to cost $3,000.

ON ONE DAY'S NOTICE

Most employers find it hard to get clean cut men of judgment and discretion, especially on short notice.

Here's one Tribune advertiser who needed a lot of such men in a hurry, and knew just how to get into instant touch with the supply. Here's his Tribune want ad:

WE WANT A YOUNG MAN WHO IS alert and clean cut to interview people in certain districts of this city and make an accurate and clear report of the information he obtains. There is nothing to sell—the work is simply to make a careful investigation. If you have experience in interviewing people and can get facts quickly and surely and at the same time leave the people you talk to well impressed, answer at once, giving salary wanted, telephone number, or state where you can be reached Tuesday morning. Address—Tribune.

The results were worth while. The day his ad appeared in The Tribune, it brought 219 applications from snappy, alert young Chicagoans.

KNOCKOUT BLOW BY GOV. GILLETT HALTS BIG FIGHT

California Executive Orders Attorney General to Prevent Jeffries-Johnson Mill.

FRISCO MAYOR DEFIES HIM.

McCarthy Says Contest Will Take Place as Advertised; Clash of Authorities Is Threatened.

MAY BE HELD IN RENO, NEV.

THIS IS WHAT THEY ALL SAY

GOV. GILLETT—The fight will not come off if I can prevent it. It is a direct violation of our state laws.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WEBB — The governor's orders are that the fight must be stopped. I will see that they are carried out.

MAYOR PAT M'CARTHY—I am running San Francisco. I am taking no orders from Gillett or his attorney general. You can bet your last dollar the fight will be pulled off just as advertised.

TEX RICKARD—If Gov. Gillett says it's all off, that goes. We won't buck against him, but we will hold the fight somewhere, perhaps in Reno, Nev.

JAMES J. JEFFRIES—I don't believe Gov. Gillett has issued such an order. I am going to keep on training and I'm sure the fight will come off.

JACK JOHNSON—I don't care where the fight comes off. I am going to keep on training and I'll fight anywhere Rickard and Gleason say.

JAMES J. CORBETT—I can't believe it. This order is most unjust and I hope it will be reconsidered.

RENO, NEV.—Come on down here, boys, and fight your heads off. We'll erect an arena, pay your license, and guarantee a crowd.

BY H. E. K.

San Francisco, Cal., June 15.—[Special.]—The governor has said No! Jeffries and Johnson will not fight in California.

Tex Rickard and Cheerful Jack Gleason say they will move their show to Reno and pull it off on the date set, but this while the town is still shuddering from the force of the gubernatorial cataclysm which came today sounds like a giant joke and only serves to start fresh tears.

To show that his order is "on the square," Gov. Gillett had ordered Attorney General Webb to stop the Langford-Kaufmann fight, scheduled to take place here next Saturday.

The blow came as suddenly as the earthquake did and the town, or that portion of it with which visitors are brought in contact, is utterly crushed. The "million dollar proposition," which had started in to populate the gaudy cafés and skyscraper hotels has tumbled like a house of cards. The wreck is complete. The salvage will be only a trace, and the insurance nothing.

The advance sale of seats for the fight already has reached $130,000 in actual cash receipts.

Rickard Stops Arena Work.

Gov. Gillett's message to Attorney General Webb is sweeping and admits of only one interpretation, and that is the interpretation that the attorney general has put upon it. The case has been taken out of the hands of the friendly local authorities who had fostered the enterprise through motives not wholly unselfish, and the wisest among them are as much flabbergasted by the sudden move of his excellency and his attorney general as the simplest stranger.

Rickard was about the first to realize that "the stuff was off" so far as California was concerned, and the first newspaper extra was not issued before he had ordered work stopped on the colossal arena on Eighth and Market streets, upon which $25,000 already has been spent, and got into communication with Salt Lake City and Reno.

Salt Lake was his first choice and he thought the fight would be safe there. But when his attention was called to the fact that it was on account of Gov. Spry's blunt refusal of his sanction in the first place that the fight was brought hither he said "Reno would be the place."

Reno Not a Good Place.

Reno is indulgent and expectant, according to telegraphic assurances, but it is no place for a fight of this magnitude. It could not be hoped to collect and accommodate enough people to pay the purse, not to mention the incidental expenses, and after having had a fortune dangled before their gaze for several months it is not reasonable to suppose that the fighters will be willing to accept a cut.

It has taken a lot of pressure and a promise of a big price to get Jeff in the mood to assume the white man's responsibility, and this pressure has had to be continually exerted to keep him in that mood. It is known that he has no heart for Nevada after his experience there, and he has been quoted frequently in poisonous terms with reference to that state. In the light of all this it would not be astounding if Jeff broke training and tossed up the match for good, if he has not already done so.

What Caused the Change?

What caused the sudden change in the attitude of Gov. Gillett is a matter of speculation. The persons affected, and they form the bulk of San Francisco's population, are too busy calling him names at the present writing to analyze his motive or look for any sound business reason back of his unex-

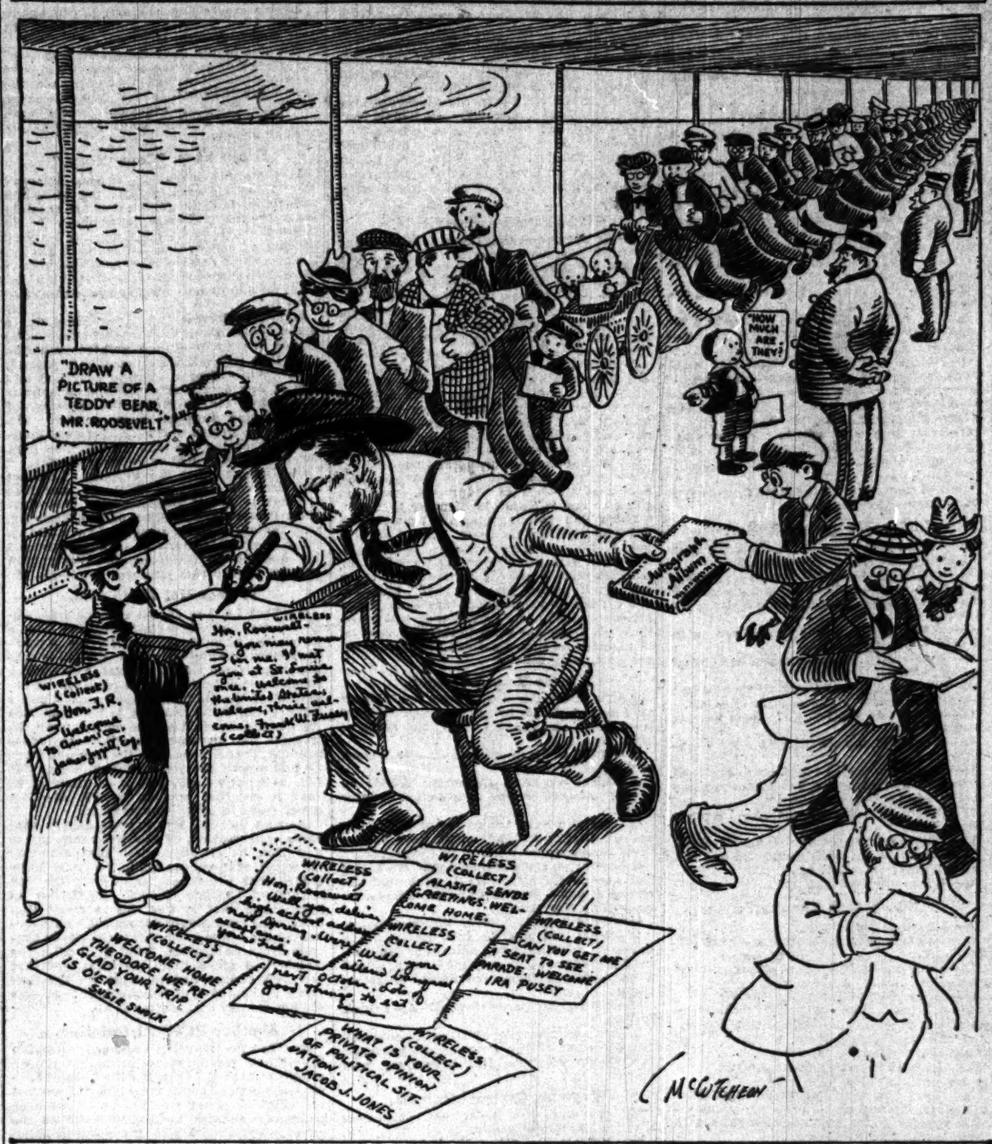
AUTOGRAPH DAY ON BOARD—NO. 6.



MUSIC LANDS THEM IN COURT

Two Ardent Amateurs Practice 14 Hours, Ignoring Protests.

JUDGE EXCUSES DILIGENCE.

Tried Their Best to Master "Glad Stars of Gloomy Night."

One hard place in "Glad Stars of the Gloomy Night," a duet for cornet and trombone, was responsible for a scene in Municipal Judge Cottrell's court yesterday, when fifteen neighbors of James and Peter Borich, amateur musicians living at 2637 Princeton avenue, protested because they were prone to practice fourteen hours at a stretch.

James and Peter have been getting ready for a concert to be given on Tuesday of next week. They are down on the program for a duet. James plays the cornet and Peter the trombone.

On Tuesday they took a day off and determined to learn the concert selection properly. They began at 9 o'clock in the morning and ended at 11 o'clock at night, and along the way they encountered other obstacles than those included in the musical score.

Climax on "Gloomy" All to Bad.

It seems there is one terribly complicated place in the duet, "Glad Stars of the Gloomy Night." It comes right on "gloomy." The time is not only syncopated, but it must be played rubato ad libitum, too. Somehow or other Peter never could get the rubato effect. James would blow along from the start and hit the "gloomy" exactly on schedule time, but Peter was always two measures ahead and going easy, or else way back of the flag.

That hard place made all the trouble. They had the rest of the piece in fine shape. But the section that had its climax on "gloomy" was all to the bad. After breakfast they'd start back about fifty yards and take a run for that hurdle.

They would go through dozens of da cappos and cadenzas without a break, but whenever "gloomy" rounded the curve well in sight Peter would shy and James get excited, and when they landed on it the sound was of a tin roof scraping on the edge of a broken plate glass window.

There was nothing to do but go back a ways and take another run at "gloomy." This they did again and again—the while with the windows of their house wide open.

Racket Causes Protest.

Patience and tolerance finally fled from blocks around, and at an apparently preconcerted signal denizens from fifteen houses flocked to the seat of the terrifying cacophony of sound. In pajamas, bath robes, pants, déshabillé, common garden variety of night shirt, and ordinary dress they came and smote upon the front door of the Borich residence. Peter and James poked their heads out of the second story window and intimated in terms more or less emphatic that all those who had no appreciation of the finest of the arts, as translated by cornet and trombone, could go to that place from which no traveler ever sends home for winter underwear.

The upshot of it was that a lot of mad folk went back to bed vowing vengeance. Peter and James went on practicing, and are said to have gotten over "gloomy" with the proper regard for cadence and harmony along about midnight.

Yesterday before Judge Cottrell they promised never more to practice fourteen hours at a stretch, but the court refused to impose a fine.

Mathias Vonsech, who cannot sleep when just one of the horns is going and has blue nightmare at a cornet and trombone duet filed the charges which resulted in a court hearing.

BURGLARS ROB GARY STORE EARLY TODAY AND SKIP IN AUTO

After Getting $500 Out of Safe They Get Motor Car on Plea That Mother Is Dying in Chicago.

Two young burglars broke into the drug store of Clarence Hall in the heart of the business section of Gary, Ind., early this morning and robbed the safe of $500.

After getting the money they went to a garage a block away and hired an automobile, one of the thieves telling the proprietor that he had to rush to Chicago to reach the bedside of his mother before she died. The Gary police notified the Chicago authorities, giving a description of the two men.

The safe was unlocked. Mr. Hall, remembering that he had failed to turn the combination, returned to the store at 12:30 in the morning and discovered his loss.

About fifteen minutes before he reported the matter to the police the thieves secured their auto at the nearby garage. The drug store is at Fifth avenue and Broadway. The burglars got in through the basement.

CHASE CLOTHES IN STREETS.

Crowd Joins Pursuit of Thieves, Who Are Caught by Detectives in Milk Wagon.

Dressed only in their bathing suits and heading a procession of running policemen, Leon Coldwell, 751 East Forty-fifth street, and Herschel Lane, 4448 St. Lawrence avenue, chased two colored boys who had stolen their clothes from the beach at the foot of Forty-seventh street for eight blocks through the streets of Kenwood last evening.

The policemen who joined in the chase were unable to keep up with the boys and sent a call for the automobile patrol, which arrived with seven men and took up the chase.

But Detectives McFadden and Magnus, who had boarded a milk wagon, were the ones who finally caught the boys at Forty-ninth street and Kenwood avenue. The clothes were restored to the owners.

CONDUCTORS ASK FOR SEATS.

Street Car Men Think Collecting Nickels Entitles Them to "Stools."

Conductors on the north and west side street car lines are tired of standing while collecting and ringing up nickels. They feel that if passengers are entitled to a seat for a nickel they ought to be entitled to a "stool" for taking the nickels, so yesterday officers of the union presented a petition to President John M. Roach of the Chicago Railways company requesting that conductors be given stools such as the motormen use. Mr. Roach said he will give a definite answer on Saturday.

CROSS-QUIZZING OF WHITE IS DONE; STORY UNSHAKEN

Questions Aim at Claim That "Tribune" and Deneen Conspired to Destroy Browne.

HINT DEEP, DARK PLOT.

Lawyers for Defense Batter at Character of State's Chief Witness in Bribery Case.

FIGHT OVER MYERS' TESTIMONY.

THESE WERE FEATURES OF THE BROWNE TRIAL YESTERDAY.

Legislator White's cross examination ended, after two days of quizzing, with his bribery story unshaken. Defense reserved the right to return to its attack.

Browne's attorneys indicated that their main line of defense would be a charge that he was the target of a political conspiracy involving Gov. Deneen, "The Chicago Tribune," and various citizens.

Two labor lobbyists named as probable witnesses who would testify that White threatened to make "the Lorimer bunch" put him "on easy street for the rest of his life."

White denied insinuation that he had attempted, when a labor lobbyist in 1907, to "hold up" J. W. Doyle, also a labor representative.

Two women named by White in his admission that he had directed one of them to alter dates and places on Pullman passes sent him as a member of the legislature.

Representative George W. Myers, a Democrat who refused Browne's solicitations to vote for Lorimer, was put on stand as Prosecutor Wayman's second witness. Argument still on as to admissibility of his testimony. On Judge McSurely's decision will depend whether Representatives Link and Beckemeyer will be allowed to testify that they, like White, received $1,000 each for their Lorimer votes.

The cross examination of Legislator Charles A. White by Lawyers for Lee O'Neil Browne was finished late yesterday afternoon. After two days of attack White's account of how he was bribed by Browne to vote for Lorimer for senator stood unshaken. This was the judgment of those who followed closely the course of the quizzing. Disappointed at their ill success, Browne's attorneys unexpectedly ended the cross examination and turned White back to State's Attorney Wayman, reserving the right to subsequent quizzing.

Everything except the Lorimer bribery, which is the sole subject of the indictment, was pushed or pulled into the case by the defense while White was on the stand. Mingled with the queries conveying intimations regarding White's character were other questions framed to suggest to the jurors that Senator Lorimer and Browne were the victims of a political plot so elaborate and complex and so "deep" in its motives that even a diagram might not have explained it.

Alleged Features of History.

Insinuations of crime or other misconduct followed each other so rapidly from the lips of Attorney W. S. Forrest that White was kept busy in denial. Among the alleged features of his life history, which the legislator stamped as false, and to confirm which the defense has brought nothing as yet but the insinuation, were the following:

That he had killed two men in the south—one white and one black man.

That he had tried to blackmail a labor lobbyist at Springfield in 1909.

That he had told William Rossell, a labor lobbyist from Chicago, he intended to make certain political leaders "come through" and put him "on easy street."

That he told Katherine Woods in St. Louis he intended to make the Lorimer bunch take care of him for the rest of his life."

That he had registered at the Briggs House with a woman as his wife.

That he had "invented" his confession.

White entered a further string of denials to questions as to an alleged "political conspiracy," as to which he said he had no information, but reiterated the simple procedure by which he brought his story to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which investigated it, conducted protracted inquiries to verify it, and then contracted for its purchase and printed it.

Mentions Many Public Men.

Among the prominent public men mentioned by Attorney Forrest in questions along this "conspiracy" line were the following:

Gov. Deneen described as a foe of Browne because the minority leader opposed the deep waterway project.

Mayor Fred A. Busse, listed as another foe of Browne because Browne opposed a Chicago gambling bill under which the city could issue $16,000,000 in bonds for public improvements.

R. R. McCormick, president of the sanitary district, who was named by Forrest as a "candidate for mayor of Chicago" with the $16,000,000 bond issue as some sort of a "campaign fund."

A. J. Hopkins of Aurora, former United States senator, by whose traction company Otis Yarbrough, friend of White, was said to have been employed at $8 a day.

In addition to the foregoing, Attorney Forrest also dragged into the cross examination the name of the late Robert W. Patterson, editor of THE TRIBUNE, attacking his

$300,000 LOST IN OIL BLAST

Big Damage by Flames in Hansell-Elcock Co. Iron Works.

PLANT SCENE OF A STRIKE.

One Quarter of City's Fire Fighting Apparatus Called.

Fire starting from an explosion in the architectural iron works of the Hansell-Elcock company, Twenty-third place and Butler street, shortly after 12 o'clock this morning, resulted in an estimated loss of $300,000 to the iron concern and damage of $25,000 to the plant of the C. Selig Cooperage company, directly in the rear.

The fire was not brought under control until one quarter of the city's fire fighting apparatus and the fire tug Graeme Stewart had been summoned in a "3-11" alarm.

Chief Horan in Charge.

Chief Horan was in active charge of the fire fighting forces. He was aided by Assistant Chief Seyferlich.

An investigation will be made by the police of a rumor that the explosion was caused by sympathizers of disgruntled iron workers who had figured in recent labor troubles at the Hansell-Elcock plant.

The explosion was in the machine shop and threw burning oil in all directions. Martin Volkna, who is employed in the plant as a watchman, was near by and immediately gave an alarm. Policemen reached the place quickly, but gained no information that would lead to immediate arrests.

Firemen climbed to the roof of the north part of the building and sought to check the flames. They were driven from their posts and were compelled to fight the flames from the streets.

Dwellings Are Endangered.

Dwellings along Canal, Butler, and the cross streets were endangered for a time. The firemen turned streams of water on the roofs of most of them as a precaution against flying embers. A number of the occupants of the dwellings fled into the streets when their homes were threatened, and returned later when the firemen checked the flames from spreading.

The plant with the exception of a three story brick building at the northeast corner of the site was destroyed. This is used as the offices of the company, and blue prints and plans for structural iron work were stored in it. The firemen when they saw that the plant was doomed directed their efforts towards saving this structure, and it was hardly scorched by the flames.

Workmen employed in the place worked until late at night, but had left the plant before the explosion occurred. It is not known what caused the oil to explode. Up to a week ago the machinists and iron workers employed by the company were on a strike. The trouble was adjusted and the men resumed their work.

The Hansell-Elcock plant covered most of the space running from Butler to Canal street, and extended from Twenty-third place to Twenty-fourth street.

Edward G. Elcock, who resides at 4806 Grand boulevard, is president of the concern. The secretary is Frank J. Koepke, 1630 Tripp avenue.

BURNED TRYING TO SAVE WIFE.

Woman's Clothing Ignited as She Steps on Match in Closet at Her Residence.

Mrs. Charles Peters was burned seriously last night and her husband was burned on the hands and face while rescuing her from a fire that started when she stepped on a match in a closet of their residence, at 1615 Gray street. Mrs. Peters' clothing became ignited. Her husband extinguished the blazing garments with blankets.

same the fiction of a candidacy for the United States senate.

White Makes Two Admissions.

Questions along these lines elicited blank looks of astonishment from White, who, however, made two admissions from which Attorneys Forrest, O'Donnell, and Erbstein drew consolation.

Admission number one was that White caused a stenographer, Miss Katherine Woods, to alter the dates and terminals named on a bunch of Pullman passes sent to him as a member of the legislature. United States District Attorney William E. Trautman of East St. Louis was mentioned in this connection as having overheard White give his orders for the changes.

When White said he was uncertain whether, as he had testified, June 16 of 1909 was the day on which he received $850 of the Lorimer money at the Briggs house, Attorney Forrest tried to show the discrepancy by the stenographic reports, but Judge McSurely suggested that this was a matter for the jury.

Fight Over Myers' Testimony.

The first big climax of the trial was reached in the afternoon following an attempt by State's Attorney Wayman to question State Representative Myers of Paris, Ill., a Democrat from the Twenty-second district, who had refused to vote for Lorimer. Mr. Myers had told the grand jury a week ago that Browne solicited his vote for Lorimer, saying there were political jobs to be had and also "plenty of the ready necessaries."

Immediately after Mr. Myers, who was the state's second witness, had been sworn and had answered preliminary questions, a bitter legal fight started over the admissibility of his testimony. The jury was excused for the day and Mr. Forrest was still arguing in opposition when court adjourned.

Upon the ruling of Judge McSurely will depend also whether the testimony of Representatives Link and Beckemeyer, who have confessed they each received $1,000 for their Lorimer votes shall be admitted. State's Attorney Wayman relies upon Beckemeyer, Link, and Myers for much of the corroboration of White's story.

Opposes Theory of Defense?

Judge McSurely indicated his probable decision when he referred to a case, tried before him and carried to the Supreme court, where it was affirmed. He said he had admitted testimony in that case contrary to the theory of the defense. Attorney Forrest admitted the various cases in the law reports were conflicting and could not be reconciled. Anyway, he claimed, Beckemeyer and Link committed no crime if they received $1,000 each after voting for Lorimer and without a corrupt agreement preceding the ballot.

Judge McSurely put a final quietus on "jackpot" evidence when he refused to allow the introduction of the complete manuscript of White's story, part of which was published.

Attorneys for the defense were asked regarding the positive rumors that Senator Lorimer would be a witness, but declined to comment.

William Gregori, who is a brother-in-law of Senator Lorimer, was in the court room all day. Another visitor who attracted attention was Charles A. Allen, former member of the legislature and known to fame as author of the Allen bill.

Examines White in Afternoon.

In the course of the afternoon session of court State's Attorney Wayman took White in hand for redirect examination and elicited the details of White's visits to THE TRIBUNE office in connection with his confession that Browne bribed him to vote for Lorimer.

Attorneys for Browne objected time after time to questions, but the court ruled the defense itself had paved the way for a full explanation in its questions regarding THE TRIBUNE contract with White.

After White had told that Edwin R. Wright, president of the State Federation of Labor and a personal acquaintance, was the man who suggested that he go to THE TRIBUNE office with his story, White was asked by Mr. Wayman to relate all that happened when he went to the office of THE TRIBUNE.

Tells of Visits to Office.

The witness—I went to THE TRIBUNE office and met Mr. Hammer. I sent my card in. I inquired for Mr. McCormick, and Mr. Hammer asked me what I wanted to see Mr. McCormick about, and I told him that I came there through the advice of Mr. Wright to obtain some information. He asked me for what information.

Q.—Did you see Mr. McCormick that day? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Whom did Mr. Hammer tell you to see? A.—Mr. Keeley.

Q.—Mr. Keeley? A.—Yes, sir. He asked me to return the next day, I believe it was.

Q.—Did you return the following day? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Where did you go after leaving THE TRIBUNE? A.—I went to my home after leaving Chicago.

Q.—Did you go to any other—did you go back to see Mr. Wright? A.—I did not.

Q.—Did you call on any other representative of labor connected with Mr. Wright? A.—I called upon some of the union officers here in town.

Returns to "The Tribune."

Q.—When you came back to Chicago did you go to THE TRIBUNE? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Yes, and did you have a talk with Mr. Keeley? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—You may state the conversation?

Mr. Forrest—"I object to it, if the court please."

Mr. Wayman—"Mr. Keeley being the man who signed the contract."

The court—"Objection overruled."

A.—I told Mr. Keeley my business there; that I wanted to get some advice as to where I could get that published, that I had made an effort to get it published by other publishing houses and had failed to get it published, that one of them claimed that it would take possibly six months to make an investigation, and Mr. Keeley asked me if I had the manuscript with me and I told him—that I did not believe I had it, and he asked me if I would bring it in and I told him yes, and I got the manuscript and brought it back to him and he asked me if I would leave it there for him to read, and I told him yes. I left the manuscript with him a few days and when I went back he asked me if I had any corroborative evidence. I asked him what he meant by that, and he said, "Is there any other of the members that will corroborate you," and I said, "Mr. Keeley——

Court Overrules Objection.

Mr. Forrest—"One minute, one minute. I object, if the court please, to the rest of the conversation upon the ground it is not redirect examination and it is not relevant to any fact in issue in this case and not competent.

The court—"You asked questions as to what occurred when he got there. You introduced in evidence for identification a paper that was signed there."

Mr. Wayman—"And read it in evidence, if the court please."

Mr. Forrest—"Yes, I read it in evidence, yes, if the court please, and I asked also who was present at the time that the contract was made, but I asked for no conversation that was made with him."

The court—"I overrule the objection."

Mr. Forrest—"Exception."

Mr. Wayman—"Proceed."

Asked Corroborative Evidence.

A.—Mr. Keeley asked me if I had any corroborative evidence. I told him that I had no corroborative evidence in that line; that it was a story that I had written and I was wholly responsible for the story. He asked me if I could produce corroborative evidence, and I told him I did not know if I could, that it was my experience—it was a story I had written of my truthful experience. He asked me if I would give him a few days to investigate it. I told him I did not like to delay the article too long; I wanted it published before the primary election; and he asked me then if I could give him ten days. I told him yes, he could have ten days, and he asked me if I would help corroborate the story, or words similar to that, and I told him yes, and in the meantime, after THE TRIBUNE read the article, then the story began to be corroborated. Mr. Keeley told me it was a case for the state's attorney and not for him and asked me if I knew the consequences of it. I told him I realized all of the effects it might have. He asked me if I knew the danger it would place me in. I told him I knew, that I was thoroughly conscious of all of the consequences that might result, and he proceeded to investigate the story then.

Q.—Never mind about that. Now, following the interview with Mr. Keeley, did you again go to see Mr. Keeley? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And did you see anybody else at that time? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Who? A.—I saw Mr. McGuire.

Q.—The gentleman sitting here? (pointing to Detective Thomas McGuire.) A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—With me through this case? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Did you have any talk with Mr. McGuire and Mr. Keeley together? A.—I did.

Q.—State that conversation.

Warned of His Danger.

Mr. Keeley and Mr. McGuire asked me a number of questions about the incidents that happened; he made notes about it and told me that I should realize the danger that it would place me in in case it was published. I told him I did realize it, but that I wanted the article published, and he requested me to give it a few days' time for investigation and requested me to come over and see you.

Q.—To come over and see the state's attorney? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Following that conference, did you see the state's attorney? A.—I did.

Q.—And how long was that before the publication in THE TRIBUNE of April 30? A.—That was about a month.

Q.—At the time you came to the state's attorney's office and had that conversation with the state's attorney, was the manuscript which you had left with Mr. Keeley on the states' attorney's desk? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—How long were you in the state's attorney's office at that time? A.—I was in there quite a while; I don't remember exactly how long.

Q.—Did you come to the state's attorney's office alone. A.—Yes, sir.

Under Wayman's Orders.

Q.—Did you go over the manuscript with the state's attorney? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Following that did you go anywhere in the state of Illinois in company with any one under the orders of the state's attorney? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Where did you go? A.—I went with men to Vandalia.

Q.—Vandalia? Whom did you see there? A.—Mr. Clark.

Q.—The same Joseph Clark whom you had previously met at St. Louis? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Where else did you go? A.—I went to Carlyle.

Q.—Whom did you see there? A.—Mr. Beckemeyer.

Q.—The same Mr. Beckemeyer who had served in the legislature, and whom you had met at St. Louis? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Where else did you go? A.—I went to Mitchell.

Q.—Whom did you see there? A.—Mr. Link.

Q.—The same Mr. Link whom you had met at St. Louis? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Where else did you go?

White Sees Shephard.

A.—I went to Jerseyville.

Q.—Whom did you see there? A.—I saw Mr. Shephard.

Q.—The same Mr. Shephard whom you had seen in St. Louis? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—On the 15th of July? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—All right. When did you write the manuscript that you submitted to Mr. Keeley, and the manuscript about which you had the correspondence just referred to? A.—Well, I began to write the manuscript along in September of 1909.

Q.—When you went to THE TRIBUNE office to see Mr. McCormick had you any acquaintance whatever with anybody connected with THE TRIBUNE? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Up to the time that you saw Mr. Keeley did anybody in THE TRIBUNE office know that you had written this article? A.—No, sir; not that I know of.

Article Sent to New York.

Q.—Was the article, the manuscript of which you left with Mr. Keeley, ever sent down to New York? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—To whom? A.—Doubleday, Page & Co.

Q.—Prior to the time that it was submitted to Mr. Keeley? A.—Yes, sir.

Mr. Wayman: Q.—Is it a fact that from the time you had the second conference with the state's attorney that you have been constantly in company with a representative of the state's attorney's office, a detective? A.—Practically so.

The state's attorney brought out further from the witness that he had been in the custody of a detective from the state's attorney's office ever since the senatorial scandal story was printed on April 30 and that by order of the officers White had been taken to a number of cities, including Milwaukee, Madison, Minneapolis, Grand Rapids, and Waukesha. He also led White to tell further of his efforts to have the story published before it was taken to the office of THE TRIBUNE. The witness aid he had offered it to the publishers of Everybody's Magazine, the Doubleday-Page Publishing company of New York, and the Kerr Publishing company of Chicago.

Mr. Wayman then made an effort to introduce the manuscript of White's story in evidence, but the court ruled it out, because it contains the story of the "jackpot" party in the Southern hotel in St. Louis.

Fight Over Myers Begins.

The examination of the state's witnesses was brought to a halt in the late afternoon and the rest of the session given over to arguments by Attorney Forrest against the admissibility of alleged bribery or attempts of bribery on the part of Browne when the examination of Representative Myers was begun by State's Attorney Wayman.

Mr. Myers said he was a Democratic representative, a banker, and lived in Paris, Ill., He was a member of the last legislature and voted the day that Lorimer was elected.

"For whom did you cast your ballot that day?" asked Mr. Wayman.

Attorneys for the defense arose together and volleyed objections and Judge McSurely said he would entertain the arguments of the defense, as the same arguments would be urged against the introduction of the evidence of Representatives Link and Beckemeyer. The jury was excused and Mr. Forrest began his argument, which will be concluded this morning.

Ends Cross-Examination.

Earlier in the afternoon Mr. Forrest rounded out his cross examination of White, continuing his questions concerning alleged conversations with labor leaders and other friends of Browne. The witness denied all imputations that he had told any one he was about to engage in any political blackmail scheme, as suggested in the interrogations.

Mr. Forrest asked him: "Didn't you meet J. W. Doyle, a labor lobbyist, in the rotunda in the state house in Springfield, Ill., about eight days before the election of Senator Lorimer and ask Doyle 'How is railroad legislation coming?' and did Doyle say, 'All right, I think.' Did you then say to Doyle, 'You are the tightest bunch I ever saw,' and did Doyle say, 'How so?' And did you then say to Doyle, 'What do you fellows suppose we are going to live on down here, wind?' And did Doyle then reply, 'I don't know, I have nothing for any one'?"

A.—No, sir; I had no such conversation.

Admits He Knew Rossell.

Q.—Do you know a Mr. Rossell? A.—Yes, sir, William Rossell.

Q.—What is his business? A.—He was connected with the Chicago Federation of Labor.

Q.—Were you stopping at the Palmer house in the city of Chicago in March, 1910? A.—I think I stopped there a while. I don't remember the exact dates.

Q.—Did you at about that time meet Rossell on Madison street, just as you were coming out of a nickel show? A.—I think I remember meeting him there one day this spring, somewhere on Madison street.

Q.—Did Mr. Rossell then say to you, "You are flying pretty high for a labor skate," and did you reply, "Yes, and I will fly a damn sight higher before I get through"? A.—I did not.

Q.—Did Rossell then say to you, "Labor has many friends among the leaders of both parties, and I don't want you to do anything that will hurt labor legislation in the future"? Did you reply to that, "I don't care anything about that; I am looking for White," and did you then say to Mr. Rossell, "If you know anything about senatorial graft tell me about it and I will make it worth your while"? A.—No, sir, that is not the conversation. I can quote the conversation if you wish it, though.

Talked About Lorimer.

Q.—My question is, did you have this conversation that I have just repeated? A.—No, sir, we did not have that conversation. We had one relative to Senator Lorimer.

Mr. Forrest—Did you and Rossell then go over to the Palmer house after leaving that nickel theater and meet Senator Gibson at the Palmer house? A.—Yes, sir, I think we met Senator Gibson in front of the Palmer house.

Q.—Do you know Fred Zentner? A.—I met Mr. Zentner through Mr. Browne.

Q.—Were you with Mr. Zentner about Aug. 19 at the Briggs house? A.—I think Mr. Zentner was there, and Mr. Browne.

Q.—And was Mr. Stermer there also—William Stermer? A.—Yes, he is the assistant manager of the Briggs house.

Q.—You all spent some part of that evening, did you not, in the barroom of the Briggs house? I think we did.

Q.—You and Mr. Zentner had been drinking quite freely there that evening, hadn't you? A.—We had had several drinks, yes, sir

Q.—Did you drink enough that evening to become talkative or quarrelsome? A.—I don't know whether I was talkative and quarrelsome or not; possibly I had a great many drinks.

White Denies Statements.

Q.—Didn't you at that time tell Zentner and Stermer you were going to take a big trip in the fall and winter, that you were going back to your home at O'Fallon and then back to New Orleans, and then over to Cuba, and then up to New York, and that you were going to have a big time in New York, and then going back home again, and didn't Stermer or Zentner then say to you, "White, you must have a lot of money to stand for anything like that," and did you (White) reply, No, that you didn't have a lot of money, but that you were going to get it, without working, too, and did Fred Zentner ask you how you were going to do that, and did you hesitate awhile and then say, "Well, that Lorimer crowd and our old pal Browne, too, have got to come across good and hard when I say the word, and I am going to say it," and did Zentner then say, "Have you got anything on them?" and did you (White) then say, "No, I ain't; I got the worst of it down there at Springfield, but that makes no difference. I voted for Lorimer and I am a Democrat, and I can say I got money for voting for Lorimer, can't I, and do you suppose they could stand for that game? And I guess they will cough up when I say the word to them?" A.—No, sir; I made no such statements as that. They are absolutely untrue.

Knows Young Woman.

Q.—Do you know some young ladies down at East St. Louis by the name of Woods? A.—I know one young lady by the name of Miss Woods.

Q.—What is her name? A.—Katie Woods, or Katherine Woods.

Q.—What did Miss Katherine Woods do there? A.—She is—she runs a cigar counter there.

Q.—Did you have her do any work for you at any time? A.—She might have done a little stenographic work of no importance.

Q.—What was the stenographic work you had her do for you? A.—I think that she changed some of the Pullman tickets, or something like that.

Q.—What is that? A.—The Pullman passes.

Q.—What did she do with the Pullman passes? A.—Well, I had several of the Pullman passes that they gave me, and she might have rewritten them, the dates, or something.

Q.—Did you get her to do that? A.—I think so, yes, sir.

Q.—Do you remember having a conversation with her or her sister about that when the state's attorney, Mr. Rodenburg, was standing by?

Wayman Corrects Forrest.

Mr. Wayman—Not Rodenburg. Trautman was the district attorney.

Mr. Forrest—Q.—When Mr. Trautman, the district attorney, was standing by? A.—No, sir.

Q.—You remember that she changed the first batch for you—that is, Miss Woods did—and then you brought back the second batch, and when you brought back the second batch Mr. Trautman was there? A.—I don't remember Mr. Trautman.

Q.—He heard the conversation between you and Miss Woods? A.—I don't think so; I did not see him.

A.—And then Mr. Trautman said to you: "That won't do; that is forgery"? A.—I don't remember any such conversation at all.

Q.—Did you send anybody down to Miss Woods within the last two months to get any tickets that you left there? A.—Well, I don't recall now; I think Otis Yarbrough or Sidney Yarbrough called for them.

Q.—What did you send for? A.—Some of the Pullman tickets she had redated.

Q.—Some of the tickets that you had left there to be redated? A.—Yes, sir.

Had Tickets Redated.

Q.—Why did you want to get them? A.—Well, the Pullman company——I didn't have time to write the Pullman company for new transportation and I had those redated or changed.

Q.—But I mean why did you send your friend Yarbrough down there for them about a month ago; did you want to use them? A.—No, he was down there on a visit; he went down there to his home, and I told him to call there and get them.

Q.—Why did you want them? A.—I wanted them in case I would need them.

Q.—Didn't you want them so they could not be used in the prosecution of you for having changed them? A.—No, sir; I never thought of that.

Mr. Forrest—Q.—Didn't you know it was forgery at that? A.—There was no forgery about it; I did not change any signatures.

Q.—You simply changed the dates? A.—That is all.

Does Not Recall Number.

Q.—Didn't you change also the places? A.—I don't remember now distinctly. Some of them read from East St. Louis to Chicago, and some from Chicago to East St. Louis, and some Springfield to Chicago, and some Springfield to East St. Louis.

Q.—How many of them did you have changed in that way? A.—O, I don't recall exactly; possibly half a dozen.

Q.—Where did you get those passes? A.—The Pullman company sent them to me.

Q.—Did you tell Miss Katherine Woods you were writing a history of what you did in the Lorimer legislature, and that the Lorimer bunch would have to pay you enough to take care of you the rest of your life, and that if the Lorimer bunch didn't do it you would make it hot for Lorimer? A.—No, sir, I did not tell her that.

Q.—Did you also tell her you were going to run for congress and some rich people in Chicago were backing you? A.—No, sir.

Q.—And that you had spent $3,000 looking this matter up and a whole lot of time and that you were going to get it back? A.—No, sir.

Denies Such a Conversation.

Q.—And did Miss Woods then say to you, "You will land in the penitentiary," and did you reply, "No, I have influential friends who will protect me"? A.—No, I had no such conversation.

Q.—Did you also tell her at that time that a rich man in Chicago was furnishing you money to enable you to get up that history? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Was there any rich man in Chicago or any man in Chicago furnishing you money at that time? A.—No, sir.

The rest of the final cross examination of the state's chief witness was given over to fuller details concerning his movements. He was asked if he had not told Miss Woods he had killed two men in the south, one a negro and the other a white man. He denied this with emphasis.

Hints at a "Conspiracy."

At yesterday morning's session Attorney Forrest in his cross-questioning of White apparently laid the foundation for an elaborate defense of Browne based on an alleged political conspiracy. The similarity between the line of questioning and the substance of the speech of defense by Senator Lorimer in the United States senate was so striking that many of the courtroom listeners commented upon it.

Attorney Forrest tried unsuccessfully to make White admit that he and Browne discussed the entire Illinois political situation on a lake trip taken by the pair in August, 1909. White denied Browne ever had told him of any details of a political conspiracy which had for its object the retiring of Browne and Lorimer from politics. Mr. Wayman objected to the long series of questions concerning any lake trip conversations, but he was overruled by Judge McSurely.

Mr. Forrest asked the witness: "Did not Mr. Browne, the defendant, on that lake trip say to you in substance the following: That Patterson, the editor of THE TRIBUNE, was and has been for some years a candidate for United States senator from Illinois and had bought his residence in Washington looking toward that purpose?" A.—No, sir.

It Was Not Mentioned.

Q.—That he, Lee O'Neil Browne, had, single handed, defeated a libel bill in the Illinois legislature when it was on the verge of passing almost unanimously; that the bill in substance provided that if one paper obtained a judgment for libel all other papers were acquitted of the charge, so that a small paper could be sued and recovery be had, and then the big papers could pursue with entire recklessness any movement or object they chose to adopt; that Browne took the floor and when he had shown the serious objections to this bill, as what he said was the infamy of it, that it received but six votes? A.—That never came into our conversation.

Q.—And did not Mr. Browne also in that same conversation, on that same trip, say to you that he (Browne) was the particular champion of the house bill in the house legislature that prevented empowering the city council of Chicago to issue $16,000,000 of bonds, and that it was his contest that forced the referendum enactment which prevented the common council of the city of Chicago from issuing any bond until after the people had given them the right, and that this referendum had at least for the time being prevented that indebtedness? A.—We did not discuss that matter at all.

Another Political Question.

Q.—That he [Browne] opposed that bill in the Illinois legislature directing the issue—or opposed the bill directing the issue of $20,000,000 worth of bonds to be charged against the state on what was known as the deep waterway scheme until such time as the government should join the state in building the ship canal; that $20,000,000 would make but a short and shallow canal, unprofitable to commerce, and that it would be the seat of water power; that that power could be taken over by no person except a few men of immense wealth, because there would be no competition, the price they would pay would be small, and that the people would simply be taxing themselves $20,000,000 to furnish salable sites to rich interests at the lowest cost? And did Mr. Browne also tell you that his antagonism and his assistance in tying up the $20,000,000 indebtedness and expenditure had awakened resentment among Mr. Deneen and his political friends and others interested in that matter? A.—I don't remember that part of the conversation at all, sir.

Defense Brings In "The Tribune."

Q.—Didn't you say, "Well, what has THE TRIBUNE—why should THE TRIBUNE oppose you because of your putting the referendum on that $16,000,000 bill?" A.—No, sir; I didn't say that.

Q.—And didn't he say to you, "Why, if that referendum was not on there, the Busse administration could issue the $16,000,000 worth of bonds without a vote of the people, and that the purpose was to have the Busse administration issue those bonds and use the power acquired thereby to elect McCormick mayor of the city of Chicago."

Mr. Wayman—I object.

Mr. Forrest—McCormick connected with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE?

Mr. Wayman—I object.

The court—Oh, I will let him answer that.

Mr. Forrest—Did he say that? A.—Mr. Forrest, that question was not discussed. I voted for the $16,000,000 bond issue.

Mr. Forrest—Answer that question yes or no. Did Mr. Browne say that? A.—No, sir.

White Denies It All.

Q.—Now, then, Mr. Browne did not have any conversation with you at all on that subject? And did not tell you that these were reasons that he thought would induce THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to destroy him if it could? A.—No, sir.

Q.—I understand you to testify on cross examination that the reason why you voted for Senator Lorimer for senator on May 26, 1909, was because of the promise of a $1,000 bribe that you say Mr. Browne had promised to give you?

Mr. Wayman—I object to that, if the court please.

Mr. Forrest—What did you say on that subject? A.—It was because of an understanding I had with Representative Browne on the afternoon of May 25.

Reference to Jackpot Goes.

Q.—And that understanding was what? A.—It was that I was to receive $1,000 for voting for Mr. Lorimer and about as much more from the "jack pot."

Mr. Forrest—"I move to strike out, if the court please, the last part of the answer."

Mr. Wayman—"I insist that it stand."

Mr. Forrest—"With reference to the 'jackpot.'"

The court—"No. Let the last part go out."

During the morning Attorney Forrest introduced a copy of the News-Democrat of Belleville, Ill., which quoted a letter signed by White in which the action of the Democrats in voting for Lorimer was defended. White admitted he had signed such a letter and sent it to the editor of the country newspaper. Mr. Forrest read the letter into the court record. It described the deadlock at the capital over the senatorial fight and the writer declared that the Democrats who supported Lorimer had performed an act of charity in the interest of the taxpayers and the whole people of the state of Illinois.

Carried Over Whole Story.

Then the attorney for Browne carried the witness again over his whole story of the bribery deal in which he declared he had been approached by Browne to vote for Lorimer, had been promised $1,000 for his ballot, and had been paid the money, the last installment being the $850 Browne paid him in the Briggs house.

In spite of dozens of intricate questions White stuck to every point of his story as related on direct examination and recalled the details of conversations with the same precision that characterized his first recital.

Attorney Forrest tried to make White say he had promised Senator Lorimer several days before the election that he would vote for him. The questions follow:

Q.—Didn't you meet Senator Lorimer on the floor of the house, along about Wednesday, May 19—at the house of representatives, I mean in Springfield? A.—I don't remember meeting Senator Lorimer there.

Q.—Did you on the floor of the house, about May 19, have a conversation with him? A.—No, sir.

Q.—And didn't you say to him, "Senator, there is considerable talk about your being a United States senator"? A.—No, sir.

Q.—And didn't the senator say, "Yes, I know there is among some of my friends"? A.—No such conversation took place.

Asks for Briggs House Register.

There was a clash between the attorneys just before the noon adjournment when Attorney Forrest asked the state's attorney for the register of the Briggs house. Mr. Wayman said he not only did not have the book, but that he had issued subpœnas for it without getting it. Mr. Forrest then demanded that the transfer book to which all names of guests on the regular register were transferred be produced by the state's attorney. Mr. Wayman said he had a book of some such description, but would not produce it.

"I am still after the register," he said.

Judge McSurely ruled that Mr. Wayman be given time to try to get the original hotel register through subpœna and said White could be recalled for further cross examination on anything in connection with the register.

PARADES JACKPOT IN BAR ELECTION

H. T. Gilbert Attacks F. H. Scott and E. A. Bancroft as Associations' Leaders.

RAPS ASSEMBLY WORK.

Cites Passage of Bill Vetoed by Deneen as Instance of Lawyers' Activity.

The "jackpot of 1909" is paraded in a circular letter just sent by Hiram T. Gilbert to members of the Chicago and state bar associations in an effort to defeat Frank H. Scott, candidate for the presidency of the former, and of preventing the reflection of Edgar A. Bancroft, president of the latter.

Mr. Gilbert's arguments for keeping these two men from positions of power in the two big lawyers' organizations of the state is built around the passage by the general assembly of the "incorporation bill" and the defeat by the general assembly of his own "court reform" bill.

The "incorporation bill" was framed by a committee of the State Bar association by Mr. Bancroft. It was vetoed by Gov. Deneen. It has been mentioned as the bill referred to by Lee O'Neil Browne when he told White the governor had vetoed one bill which would have brought $35,000 into the jackpot had it been passed.

Reform Bill Dies Early.

Mr. Gilbert's own court reform bill, on the other hand, never advanced far enough to be subject to the governor's veto, but was smothered in subcommittee by the subcommittee chairman, Representative H. J. C. Beckemeyer.

From the above incidents and from the further fact that Messrs. Bancroft and Scott are law partners and as such represent the International Harvester company, Mr. Gilbert draws the conclusion that they are overwhelmed by corporation influences and are not fit persons to stand as the chosen representatives of the lawyers of the state.

He repeats the jackpot rumors, though stating that he is certain Mr. Bancroft was entirely unwitting of any such possibility.

Gilbert Asks Questions.

Mr. Gilbert then asks the following questions:

"Is it not, then, advisable that, before the members of the Chicago Bar association elect Mr. Scott as its president, they carefully consider whether it is well that the control not only of the State Bar association but also of the Chicago Bar association should be placed practically in the hands of one firm of lawyers whose affiliations are largely with corporations of great financial as well as political power, and who, because of such affiliations, are subjected to the temptation of being controlled in their acts as officers of the association by a consideration of the interests of their clients rather than the interests of the members of the profession and the public generally?

"Is it advisable that the office of president of the Chicago Bar association should be used to advance the personal interests of its incumbent to the detriment of his fellow members?"

HUNT GIVEN TIP, RAIDS GAMBLERS

Shown Halsted Street Saloon Where Bets Are Made, He Orders Sleuths to Act.

SHOTS FIRED IN CAPTURE

Steward Still Silent on What Will Be Done in the Case of Capt. Kane.

Police Inspector Nicholas Hunt yesterday raided a gambling house in his district after it had been pointed out to him by a reporter. Seventeen arrests were made by the inspector's men at the saloon of Richard R. Lancaster, 11 South Halsted street.

Lancaster was taken into custody, but was released without being booked. Inspector Hunt said that he would file charges against him with Chief Steward and recommend that his license be revoked if handbook men continue to make the saloon headquarters. Charles Humphrey was accused of being the proprietor.

When reporters visited Lancaster's saloon at noon it was found to be filled with men carrying racing sheets and studying the card racing forms on the cigar counter.

Bets were placed on "Pretonius for place" in the third race at Gravesend and "Babbler to win" in the fourth race at Gravesend. One dollar was placed on Petronius and $1 on Babbler. Pretonius won his race, but as there was only one other horse in the race there was no price set on "a place," and the reporter received back the money he had bet on the horse, winning nothing. Babbler lost his race.

Hunt Told, Orders Raid.

Returning to the saloon at 3 o'clock, the dollar was paid back to the reporter. At the time there were about thirty men in the place.

Inspector Hunt was visited in his office at the Desplaines street station and apprised of what had taken place. He called three detectives into his office and sent them back to the saloon under the guidance of the reporters. On the way two other men were picked up to aid in the raid.

The saloon has two side entrances opening into an alley, besides the regular front entrance. One policeman and a reporter went to the side door, while the other reporter and the detectives went into the front entrance. The "lookout" saw the detectives approaching and made a sign. Instantly there was a wild rush for both of the rear doors.

Nine men ran out into the alley, but Patrolman Jerry Nelligan was there and, after firing a revolver shot in the air, succeeded in driving them back with the exception of four men who escaped.

In the excitement the gamblers attempted to destroy racing sheets and other evidences of gambling by tearing them up and throwing them into a closet. Most of this stuff was found, however, and will be used in the hearing this morning.

Phone Not Listed in Book.

The rear of the saloon was fitted up with poker tables. A telephone in one of the rear rooms is used exclusively for the receiving of racing information from a west side clearing house. This telephone number "Monroe 3853" is not listed in the telephone company's book of subscribers.

The men arrested gave their names as follows:

John Barton,	James Humphrey,
Frank Bryson,	George King,
Charles Burton,	Joseph Lazarus,
J. M. Clark,	D. O'Connor,
D. J. Donnelly,	S. C. Rice,
Charles Fisher,	W. C. Johnson,
Thomas Foley,	Joe Ryan,
W. Foster,	James Stevens.
Sam Frank,

All of the men were released later on bonds. Chief Steward in the afternoon said that he had nothing to say about charges being filed against Capt. Kane of the Sheffield avenue police district, who was held accountable for the partial failure of the raid of Monday night in his district.

Chief Issues Gambling Order.

The chief published the following order in the police bulletin, as forecasted a day earlier:

"To All Members of the Department: In order that there may be no misunderstanding commanding officers and all members of the department are instructed to rigidly suppress gambling.

"Persistent rumors are from time to time started—no doubt by those most vitally interested—to the effect that there is a change in the policy in regard to gambling.

"There is no change of policy, and there is going to be no change of policy, and all members of the department may expect to be held to a rigid accountability for the presence of gambling of which they should have knowledge."

CASE IS SO OLD NOT KNOWN WHETHER DEFENDANT LIVES.

Judge Landis, in "Cleaning Up" Docket, Asks for Legal Proof of Death in Proceedings Against Woman.

Judge K. M. Landis yesterday continued one case in the United States District court in order that the district attorney's office may find out "officially" whether the defendant is dead. The judge was "cleaning up" the district court by setting for trial a number of old cases, some of them on the court dockets without trial since 1903.

The first of these cases called was that of Hattie Howard, indicted in March, 1903, on a charge of operating a matrimonial agency by fraudulent use of the United States mails.

Assistant District Attorney Childs stated he had been informed the defendant had died, but the court insisted on proof.

Sixty-eight pending criminal cases were called. Forty of them were set for trial in October. The remainder were either dismissed for various reasons or were continued for further information concerning their status. Twenty-eight of the cases were against oleomargarine "moonshiners," and all were set for trial next fall.

MERCHANTS FIGHT CAR LINE.

Action on Stony Island Extension Deferred by Committee After Hearing Opposition.

Opposition to the extension of the street car line on Stony Island avenue from Sixty-third street to Fifty-fifth street was made before the local transportation committee yesterday by the Woodlawn Business Men's club through its president, Morton MacCormac. The depreciation of property and the impaired safety of persons entering and leaving Jackson park were points made by President MacCormac.

Persons from Hyde Park, Parkside, and South Chicago urged the extension.

Action on this as well as on the extension of the Metropolitan Elevated road south on Ashland avenue to Sixty-third street, where it is proposed to join with the South Side Elevated road, was deferred.

RESCUES GIRL FROM ATTACK.

Frank Porter Routs Youths Who Attempt to Drag Captive to Prairie.

Frank Porter, 3651 North Irving avenue, rescued a young girl last night from a crowd of young men who endeavored to drag her to a prairie at North Irving and Patterson avenues. Porter was in his residence when he heard the girl's cries and hurried to the scene. The youths saw him approaching and released the girl and fled. Porter called the police, who took the girl to her residence without ascertaining her identity.

Auto Driven by Son of V. Van Bever Injures Man and Woman.

MAN HURT IN FRONT OF I. A. C

R. C. Johnson Victim of Alleged Speeder; Policeman Struck.

Two persons were injured, one probably fatally, by being struck by an automobile at State street and Jackson boulevard last evening a few minutes after the four crossing policemen had been relieved of duty.

Later in the evening a man was struck and injured by an automobile in front of the Illinois Athletic club and a policeman was the victim of an accident at Clark street and Jackson boulevard.

The Injured.

CASSIAN, EDWARD, 30 years old, East Thirty-ninth street and Cottage Grove avenue; right leg and ankle fractured, contusion of the back and shoulders, and probable internal injuries; condition serious; taken to St. Luke's hospital.

FOLEY, MRS. LILLIAN, 29 years old, 4110 South State street; sustained a fracture of the right leg and bruises about the body; taken to St. Luke's hospital.

GEARY, MICHAEL, policeman, 3544 Wilton avenue, on duty at Clark street and Jackson boulevard, was knocked down by an automobile in charge of James L. Hardy, 2121 West Jackson boulevard. He suffered a fracture of the right knee and bruises of the face and body. He was taken to his home after treatment at the Emergency hospital.

JOHNSON, ROBERT C., 30 years old, 846 Lakeside place, member of the real estate firm of Young & Johnson, struck by automobile when in front of the I. A. C.; taken to his residence; suffered fracture of knee cap and severe bruises.

Auto Owned by Publisher.

The automobile that caused the accident at Jackson boulevard and State street is owned by Victor Van Bever, manager of the Catholic Press company, 543 Wabash avenue, by which the New World is published. His son Emile V. Van Bever, an attorney, was operating the car. He was arrested on a charge of assault and later released on bail.

Besides Van Bever the car contained the following persons: Robert Weist, 4701 Grand boulevard; Miss Gabriel Van Bever, daughter of Victor Van Bever, 2536 North Kimball avenue; Mrs. Nellie O'Brien, 327 South Francisco avenue, and John Van Bergen, the chauffeur.

The automobile was west bound in Jackson boulevard and had come to a stop at the east crossing. After the passage of several street cars and other vehicles, Van Bever started to cross State street.

Cassian and Mrs. Foley were together, and in dodging a taxicab from the west they became confused and stepped in front of the Van Bever machine.

Fender Saves Woman.

Cassian was thrown to the pavement and the front wheels passed over him. Mrs. Foley was struck by the fender of the auto and tossed toward the curb.

The machine was running slowly and Van Bever stopped the car when it struck the pedestrians. He jumped from the car and pulled Cassian from under it. The other occupant assisted Van Bever in placing the injured persons in the automobile and Van Bever then drove to St. Luke's hospital.

After giving orders for the care of the injured persons Van Bever drove to the central station and surrendered himself. His story of the accident was substantiated by several witnesses, who said he was in no way to blame.

Van Berger, the chauffeur, insisted on being placed in a cell with Van Bever while bail was being arranged for him.

Machine Passes Over Body.

The machine that hit Johnson in front of the I. A. C. is owned by the Herne Motor company, 1426 Michigan avenue, and was operated by Leon D. Randale. It passed over Johnson, who was carried into the club and attended by Dr. John Steele Sweeney of the Palmer house. Later he was taken to his residence.

Randale was not arrested.

The accident broke up a dinner party at the club. Johnson and his wife were entertaining A. E. Jessurun, 42 River street, and other friends. They had driven about the boulevards and parks in Johnson's car and were to dine at the club. After Jessurun, Mrs. Johnson, and their guests had left his machine Johnson drove it to the east side of Michigan avenue and left it at the curbing. While he was hurrying to join his wife and friends, who were waiting for him in the club, he was struck by the machine driven by Randale.

Fined for Speeding.

Chauncey J. Blair, vice president of the Corn Exchange National bank, and George H. Young of the real estate firm of W. K. Young & Bro., and E. S. Thompson, 4324 North Paulina street, were each fined $10 for speeding by Municipal Judge Newcomer in the Englewood court.

Members of a boys' football team, "The Garfields," took the stand in Judge Abbott's court yesterday to tell of the death of Simon J. Armstrong Jr., who was killed by an automobile while playing with them. Merrick F. Wilson, who was in charge of the car, was the defendant to the suit, which is being brought by the victim's father for $10,000 damages.

Falls Off Top of Hospital.

John Olson, a stone worker, fell from the top of the Norwegian Lutheran Deaconess hospital at 1108 North Leavitt street, a distance of five stories, yesterday when a chain attached to a derrick that was hoisting a section of coping broke. One leg and two arms were broken. Olson lives at 3416 Union avenue.

PLAN ORDER IN STREET WORK

Commissioner Mullaney and Public Service Concerns Agree.

PREVENTS DELAY AND CHAOS

Necessary Repairs All to Be Effected at the Same Time.

The city, through Commissioner of Public Works Mullaney, and the public service corporations, have reached an agreement whereby there will be system and order in tearing up the streets of Chicago for underground work.

In the future paving will be opened and traffic halted only by a harmonious working arrangement, which will attempt to have all pipe and conduit laying and sewer construction in a prescribed district performed at the same time, putting a stop to repeated tearing up of paving in the same block for each job of work.

Many Complaints on Loop Work.

The crisis was reached through the repeated complaints which have come from persons inconvenienced by the reconstruction work on the loop district streets and also by the desire of the commissioner of public works to get the block paving down in the streets surrounding the new city hall and court house.

A committee representing the public utility corporations submitted a joint plan of action to Commissioner Mullaney yesterday. It was formulated in the office of John Williamson of the People's Gas Light and Coke company and agreed to by representatives of all the public utility and public service corporations.

Participants in Harmony Plan.

The committee which will work together in the new harmony program consists of W. F. Barrett of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, R. S. Pierce of the Chicago Telephone company, D. W. Roper of the Commonwealth-Edison company, C. A. Caul of the Chicago railways company, and H. L. Lucas, superintendent of the bureau of water pipe extension.

The committee is to make a mutual agreement as to when and how work shall proceed in any section with a view to rapid results which will be put up to Commissioner Mullaney for his approval or disapproval.

WRIT FOR JUDGE CHETLAIN.

Jurist Will Be Asked to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Fined for Contempt.

A writ of attachment demanding that he show cause why he should not be fined for contempt of court was issued against Judge Arthur H. Chetlain of the Superior court by Municipal Judge Scovel yesterday.

The proceedings grew out of a suit filed against Judge Chetlain more than a year ago by Charles E. Bartley, Unity building, for the amount of two notes given him by Judge Chetlain in 1906. Judgment to the amount of $1,360 was entered by Judge Hume in favor of Bartley, and Judge Chetlain was cited to appear at a subsequent date to be examined for his assets. He did not appear and the question of contempt arose.

Difficulties lie in the way of serving the order. It is said that Judge Chetlain cannot be served with it while he is sitting on the bench, while he is going to the bench, or while he is leaving the bench.

CENTRAL CHURCH SOON CLOSES

Dr. Gunsaulus, Who Announces Final Service Sunday, Will Sail for Europe June 29.

Central church will hold its last service this season in the Auditorium next Sunday morning. After that day the Auditorium will be closed for changes and redecoration. The Central church will resume services early in the fall, returning to the Auditorium theater after the first performance of the opera in November.

Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus, the pastor, announces that on Sunday, June 26, he and the chorus of Central church will present the study of Elijah at the opening of the summer term of the University of Chicago in Mandel hall.

Dr. Gunsaulus will sail for Europe on June 29, taking a rest in Norway and Sweden and beginning his work in City Temple, London, for August and early September, preaching every Sunday.

FLOATS READY FOR PAGEANT

Seven Designs Completed for "Sane Fourth" Celebration.

FIRST OF ARMY ARRIVES.

Wagons and Troopers from Fort Sheridan Here for Tournament.

Seven of the floats to be used in the historical pageant to be held in the morning of Chicago's sane celebration of the Fourth of July practically have been completed by Director General Henry Kabierske and his assistants, who are designing the building them in the old carbarns at Thirty-ninth street and Wabash avenue.

The floats completed, with the exception of finishing details, represent:

Peace.
Mining in the United States.
The Genius of America.
The Fort Dearborn Massacre.
The Declaration of Independence.
The Inauguration of President Washington.
The Landing of Pastorius.

"By the end of this week," said Mr. Kabierske yesterday, "we will have fifteen or sixteen of the floats completed. The work is progressing with rapidity and smoothness.

"With the big decorated and scenic wagons bearing the costumed men, women, and children who will be the actors in the pictorial dramas on wheels, a gorgeous sight will be presented to spectators along the line of the pageant's procession. We shall have some dress rehearsals before the pageant is held, so that the actors will be at ease during the parade."

Floats Are Being Built.

Mr. Kabierske's workshop presented a busy sight during the day while the forty or more workmen were engaged in the constructive work. One of his most valuable assistants is his 12 year old daughter, Gertrude, who is a special adviser in draping and decorating. Other of the director general's artistic aids are Miss Anna Etten, Miss Elsa Merbitz, and Miss Norma Merbitz. These young women act as models for the designers as well as making suggestions for decorations.

The floats are being built on huge trucks. That representing "Peace" is sixty feet long. The most of them will be from forty to sixty feet in length. A cast of thirty will take part in the representation of "Peace." The float is of white material and the actors will all be clothed in white. One depicting the mining industry mountain crags are shown and on it will be shown men in miners' dress working with a mine car on a track running into a mountain tunnel. This float is forty feet long. Each one will be drawn by six horses. They are being built with special care for safety.

Advance Guard of Army Here.

Four army wagons from Fort Sheridan arrived during the day at Grant park as the first of the advance guard which will get Camp J. M. Dickinson in readiness for the troops that will take part in the army tournament which begins on the "sane Fourth." Fifty troopers were with the wagons. They made arrangements for the arrival of the three companies under Lieut. Miller, quartermaster of the tournament.

The quartermaster's brigade will arrive this morning from Fort Sheridan over the Chicago and Northwestern railroad to lay out the camp and get it in complete readiness for the 5,000 troops who will go into camp next week for the tournament.

People Tell Each Other About Good Things.

Sixteen years ago few people in the world knew of such a preparation as a Powder for the Feet. Today after the genuine merit of Allen's Foot-Ease has been told year after year by one gratified person to another, there are millions who would as soon go without a dentifrice as without Allen's Foot-Ease. It is a cleanly, wholesome, healing, antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, which has given rest and comfort to tired and aching feet in all parts of the world. It cures while you walk. Over 30,000 testimonials of cures of smarting, swollen, perspiring feet. It prevents friction and wear of the stockings and will save in your stocking bill ten times its cost each year. WIFE NAMES WOMAN BROKER

Agnes L. Skelly Accused in Divorce Suit of Mrs. Froelich.

HUSBAND BREAKS HIS VOW.

Deserts Spouse and Child After Pledge to Shun "Financier."

Promotion of stock deals calling for flotations well up in the millions did not occupy all of the time of Miss Agnes L. Skelly, according to the specifications in a petition for divorce filed in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Henry J. Froelich, whose husband formerly was a prominent real estate dealer.

Mrs. Froelich alleges that, in spite of a written promise to forget the women promoter, he violated his pledge and now has deserted home, wife, and baby. Since the Froelichs separated last March and gave up their house in Englewood Mrs. Froelich has been supporting herself and child by giving lessons in music. Her husband's address she does not know, but he is said to have an income of $4,000 a year. Neither is Miss Skelly's whereabouts known to Mrs. Froelich, although she recently filed a suit for $10,000 against the latter because of alleged statements.

Heads $10,000,000 Company.

Miss Skelly became prominent in local finances when she headed the $10,000,000 American Steel Car company, with the title of treasurer-secretary. One of her associates was John M. Armstrong, who secured a $5,000 loan from Charles H. Joy, president of the Holcomb Automatic Engine company, by representing that Miss Skelly was the active figure in the corporation and was engaged in floating a $3,000,000 bond issue. Failing to collect, Mr. Joy brought suit.

It was shown in court that the $5,000 loan had been secured by $1,000,000 of the company's stock; that a $15,000 stock bonus had been given for the loan, in addition to a commission of $15,000, also in stock. Blue prints and prospectuses were disclosed as the principal assets of the corporation.

Stays Mostly in the East.

Miss Skelly, who is about 40 years of age, is said to have made her own living nearly all of her life. Much of each year she is in the east, but when in Chicago lives with her brother-in-law, Dr. George J. Marie.

Ten absences of several days each in the seven months since their marriage were too many for Mrs. Lawrence M. Cross, who asks separate maintenance.

BY WIRELESS.

S. S. Kaiserin Augusta Victoria (via Cape Race), June 15.—Theodore Roosevelt has been receiving numerous invitations to speak on board ship, but has declared it is impossible to accept any of them. He said today he expects Collector Loeb will search him thoroughly when he reaches port and says it would be hopeless to try to declare all the numerous gifts he has received from monarchs. Mr. Roosevelt has announced he will give no interviews and intimated he would refuse to discuss politics for two months after landing.

The steamer has entered the American zone of wireless telegraphy. At noon the vessel was 1,165 miles east of Sandy Hook. She should be off the hook about 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and ordinarily would dock about 11 o'clock.

Mr. Roosevelt would be saved from his friends. He appeals to the public to refrain from sending him any but important messages. The three wireless operators on board are engaged constantly handling Roosevelt messages.

The replies to these messages cost Mr Roosevelt heavily and he is compelled to leave many unanswered. The former president has received several invitations to participate in Fourth of July celebrations, but has declined all of them.

Expect 100,000 Spectators.

New York, June 15.—Capt. Arthur F. Cosby, secretary of the Roosevelt reception committee, has announced the lineup of the procession which will march up Broadway and Fifth avenue, after Col. Roosevelt has been received at the reviewing stand.

Space has been reserved for 3,500 invited guests, of whom 600 will have seats in the stand. The police are preparing to handle a crowd of 100,000 spectators.

The lineup of the parade remains as forecasted. Following the police and the Rough Riders, commanded by Alexander O. Brodie of St. Paul, will ride in the first carriage with Col. Roosevelt, Mayor Gaynor, and Cornelius Vanderbilt. In the second carriage will be William Loeb Jr., James Wilson, and Capt. Archibald Butt.

Plan to Leave Capital.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—There will be a veritable pilgrimage by congress to New York and Oyster Bay within the next ten days to participate in the welcome to Mr. Roosevelt. Some have written to the former president announcing their desire to see him and have received replies stating he will talk with them. Others are relying upon Mr. Roosevelt's old time friendship to insure their prompt reception.

In the list of men who will go there are regulars and insurgents. The representatives of each faction will be prepared to make statements designed to induce the colonel to adopt their respective views. The regulars will have the first hearing, since Senator Lodge has been invited by Mr. Roosevelt to stay with him at Oyster Bay from Saturday until Monday.

The insurgents are banking upon Congressman Longworth, who also will be a visitor at the Long Island home.

ATTACKS GUILDHALL SPEECH.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, June 15.—In the house of commons today Sir Henry Dalziel, Liberal member for Kirkcaldy Burghs, abused Mr. Roosevelt for his Guildhall speech. He also denounced Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, for approving what Mr. Roosevelt then said. Sir Edward again affirmed his approval.

Greeting Given by President Taft to Roosevelt, Returning to America.

New York, June 15.—Here is the greeting of welcome which President Taft has written to Theodore Roosevelt and which will be published June 18 in the Outlook, of which the ex-president is associate editor:

"The return of Mr. Roosevelt from Africa and Europe ought to arouse and will arouse as great a demonstration of welcome from his countrymen as an American ever received. After the heavy cares of the presidential office for nearly eight strenuous years he sought rest by contrast in the depths of the African forest and in great physical exertion in the hunting of large game and the procuring of valuable specimens of the fauna of the dark continent.

"No one who knows Mr. Roosevelt, and no one who understands the character of the African climate and the kind of hunting in which he was engaged, can minimize the dangers from disease and actual combat with wild beasts to which he was exposed. It goes without saying that wherever there was danger he welcomed its excitement and delighted to observe and record its effect upon his own emotions. His trip to Africa was planned with the thoroughness of a military campaign, and his plans were executed with the vim and energy that might be expected.

"In view of what happened when he reached civilization, however, those of us who had the privilege of talking with him before he went can afford to have some fun at his expense on his frequently avowed determination to avoid all public functions and entertainments. He expected to call on the persons in authority in such countries as he visited, to have half an hour's conversation with the ruler if he would receive him, and then to go on his way like a private citizen, seeing the things of interest and hurrying home.

"Instead of that, his path, from the time he landed in Europe until he sailed, has been a royal progress, and the courtesy and attention and profound respect shown him, not only by kings and the leading men of every country, but also by the people, have not been equaled since Grant made his tour about the world. This is the more remarkable because Grant had the deserved reputation of being a great military leader who had commanded a million men and won a war of gigantic extent, while Roosevelt's achievements which have given him the standing before the world have been almost wholly in peaceful times, and in a war against civil wrong and corruption, which ordinarily is not spectacular and does not command world wide attention.

"The remarkable character of the reception that he has had in Europe shows the deep impress that his personality, his character, his aims, and his methods as a civil and social reformer have made upon the world at large. He was always, of course, a man of great breadth of vision and catholicity of view; but he comes back to us now with his experience enriched by observation of each country of Europe from a point somewhat behind the scenes.

"With his notable power of quick acquisition of the circumstances of a situation, his close and more or less intimate association with the rulers of the leading countries of Europe and with their prominent statesmen has given him an insight into world politics that will make him still more valuable to his country as a statesman.

"The people of this country will give him a welcome from their hearts, first, because of their affection for him and the fact that he has returned to them safe and sound from a perilous expedition; second, because since he left them they have seen the people and the great men and the monarchs of other countries tender their profound respect to the same qualities in the man that his own people had previously noted and loved; and, third, because by his personal touch and the sincerity and strength of his deliverance he has increased the prestige of Americans throughout the world."

HAMILTON CLUB OFF TODAY.

"A-li a-boa—rd."

They're off today to greet T. R. Who are off? Why the members of the Hamilton club, of course, at 5 o'clock this afternoon, 100 strong, on a special train, with a whoop and a yell for the "Man of the Hour," Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

Will "Teddy" know they're there? He certainly will. They've got a boat, the Commodore, and they are going right down the bay to meet him, with flags flying, bands playing, whistles tooting, and a trained yell corps that would easily walk off with the honors at a football game.

There's no chance of his missing the Hamilton club, because, look where they're going to be—right in front of the naval parade, at the left of the column, with the New York Republican club on the right and the "Roosevelt Neighbors" of Nassau county trailing along behind.

If he doesn't see that thirty foot banner bearing the name "Hamilton club" flying from the masthead, he's bound to hear the "yell corps" anyhow, and to know that his friends from Chicago are there.

Some Story of the Trip.

"It will be a great occasion," said President John H. Batten yesterday. "We're going down there to let the colonel know that Chicago and the state of Illinois are strong for him, and you bet he'll learn all about it.

"Are we going to get a chance to shake hands with him? Well, now you know that depends—but—well, I'm not saying for sure—but we've got friends on the reception committee."

The chairman of the booster's committe has compiled a circular. This is what he says about the trip:

"Don't think this is going to be an undertaker's convention. It is a real live undertaking. Fun? We're going out for four days' worth of the finest fun that can be framed up by nimble wits."

"Entries" Close at Noon Today.

About eighty resident members of the club have signified their intention of going on the trip. The entries will close at noon today.

The train will leave the Lake Shore station at 5 o'clock, half an hour ahead of the "limited," and will stop at Elkhart and Cleveland. Breakfast will be served at the Cliff house at Niagara Falls, and the party will be in New York at 6:45 Friday night.

The headquarters of the club will be at the Waldorf-Astoria, where they have engaged the large parlor at the corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street. "Open house" is to be the order of the day, and at noon a buffet luncheon will be served, at which the New York Republican club will be guests.

MANY DEMOCRATS OUT FOR OFFICE

Candidates Are Produced in Bunches at Various Ward Meetings Over City.

PALMER TO MAKE REPLY.

Response to Tender of Congressional Nomination in Ninth Is Announced Today.

Democratic candidates for office were produced in bunches last night. In nearly every ward of the city the regular ward organizations met in response to the call of the county executive committee and each prepared a "favorite son" list of willing ones which will be offered to the executive committee at its first slatemaking session Saturday afternoon.

During the day Richard J. Finnigan of the Twenty-fifth ward announced his candidacy for congress in the Tenth district, aspiring to the Democratic nomination. It is reported among the politicians that Mr. Finnigan is likely to have the solid support of the Democratic organization in the district and expects to make a hard campaign against Congressman George Edmund Foss, who appears likely to have no opponent in the Republican primaries.

Palmer to Make Final Reply.

Final reply will be received from Honoré Palmer this afternoon by the Ninth district Democratic organization props. Mr. Palmer is now on route to Europe, and his response to the tender of the Democratic nomination in the Boutell district is said to be in the hands of Judge Lockwood Honoré.

John J. O'Connor, an attorney in the Title and Trust building, is to be the choice of the Democratic organization in the Twenty-ninth senatorial district for state senator. It is expected he will have no opponent. Senator Harry G. Hall, the present senator from the district, is to be an unopposed candidate for renomination in the Republican primaries.

For the house in the same district there are three announced Democratic candidates. Capt. James H. Farrell, who was one of the party nominees in 1908, and Francis Corby, both from the Twenty-first ward, and James Sampson from the Twenty-second. P. J. Sullivan of the Twenty-second ward, the retiring representative from the district, is likely to be a candidate for renomination. Two Democratic candidates will be named, according to reports.

Carpenter Seeks a Judgeship.

Lee W. Carpenter of the Eight ward was announced during the day as a candidate for one of the Democratic Municipal court judgeships. He is credited with the support of Ald. Derpa and Emerson. Hiram W. Hawley of the Thirty-fifth ward is in the Democratic running for judge of the Superior court.

The Republican leaders are delaying any moves looking toward organization action.

BOY KIDNAPED BY BALLOON

Crowd Helpless as 10 Year Old Is Carried Half Mile High.

LANDS FIVE MILES AWAY.

Youth Leaps When Lack of Gas Sends Craft Near Ground.

Chillicothe, O., June 15.—A dirigible balloon belonging to Cromwell Dixon of Columbus, O., broke from its moorings and soared half a mile above this city today, carrying with it Freddy Meyers, 10 years old, while thousands of horrified spectators looked on helpless to aid him.

The balloon drifted five miles to the westward, when the hydrogen gas became exhausted and it came slowly toward the earth. The boy had crawled out to the extreme end of the framework opposite to that on which the engine is situated and when within ten feet of the ground dropped safely.

Capt. Baldwin Has a Fall.

New York, June 15.—Capt. Baldwin fell with his aeroplane seventy-five feet while he was practicing today at Mineola, L. I., but though his machine was smashed, he was not injured.

MOVEMENTS OF SKY VESSELS.

TOPEKA, Kas.—J. C. Mars, who attempted a flight to Kansas in his Curtiss biplane, has given up the effort after reaching Bismarck, near North Lawrence.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Against choppy winds and between showers of rain operators of aeroplanes, under the direction of Wilbur and Orville Wright, made exhibition flights before a large crowd at the Indianapolis speedway.

Jewelry for Summer Wear

With the donning of summer frocks the immediate need arises for simple ornaments—articles that are intrinsically valuable, yet still simple enough to harmonize with linen and lawn.

Gold jewelry, wrought into graceful designs, with or without semi-precious stones, is extremely popular for summer wear. Dainty pins for belt and collar, brooches, bracelets, as well as belt buckles of both silver and gold, may be had in an almost endless variety of styles. The following list gives some idea of these attractive trinkets and their reasonable prices. We suggest something from this line as an appropriate graduation gift.

CHARLTON ALIVE, POLICE BELIEVE

Italian Authorities Search All Over Europe for Missing American.

DIVERS WILL HUNT BODY.

U. S. Ambassador Will Make Every Effort to Aid in Solving Murder Mystery.

COMO, Italy, June 15.—The police are convinced that Porter Charlton is alive. They claim to have indisputable evidence that he was seen on the evening of the day the body of his bride, Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton was found in Lake Como. That would eliminate the theory of a double murder, and the police do not believe that Charlton committed suicide. They are searching all Europe for him.

The American ambassador, Mr. Leishman, however, is determined that no measures shall be neglected which would give the missing man the benefit of the doubt, and he has arranged with the Italian authorities to have the bottom of the lake thoroughly explored.

Divers Coming from Genoa.

This will be done with grappling irons, and divers will be sent down at various points near the spot where the fishermen found the trunk containing the woman's body. The divers will reach here from Genoa tomorrow.

Count Guiglia, the crown prosecutor, has taken upon himself the whole investigation of the case, which is now before an examining magistrate, Judge Fracassi. The examination is being held in strict secrecy, the judge and prosecutor themselves writing the interrogations and answers, so that the minutes of the proceedings need not be made public.

Constantine Spolatoff, the Russian suspect, now under arrest, has borne himself with considerable bravado in the face of a severe examination, and his answers to the various interrogations have either been in the form of denials or evasive explanations.

Charltons Drank Heavily.

The police are following up testimony regarding the Charltons' debauchery. They have ascertained they consumed during the last week they were at their villa twenty half bottles of sweet wine, twelve quarts of Rhine wine, ten quarts of white wine, four quarts of rum, and seven quarts of brandy. Moreover, when they lunched or dined out they drank freely many cocktails with meals. The police have catalogued everything found in the villa. They found no money or jewelry.

Seek Missing Brass Knuckles.

One of the lines of inquiry today led to the question of the disappearance of some brass knuckles which were known to be the property of Spolatoff. The Russian could not account for the disappearance of the weapon, but it was developed that Mrs. Charlton had once asked him for the knuckles, which he refused to give her. The police are of the opinion that this weapon played a part in the murder.

Nor has Spolatoff been able satisfactorily to explain how or where he spent June 4, 5, and 6. His examination is not yet complete, as the authorities are certain that he has not yet told all he knows about the domestic life of the Charltons and the murder.

PREPARE FOR BRITISH REGENT.

Premier Asquith Introduces Bill in Commons Appointing Queen if George Dies Soon.

LONDON, June 15.—Premier Asquith introduced in the house of commons today a bill appointing Queen Mary regent in the event of the death of King George during the minority of the duke of Cornwall.

OBITUARY.

MISS GRACE A. RAITHEL, 29 years old, daughter of one of Chicago's pioneer packers, George Raithel, who died last Monday in Los Cerrilos, N. M., will be buried tomorrow from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Henry A. Chatroop, 457 Melrose street. Miss Raithel had been ill for two years, when she left two weeks ago for the southwest in the care of her sister, Miss Alma Raithel, and her brother, Dr. J. A. Raithel. She died soon after arriving. She leaves, besides the two sisters and brother mentioned, four brothers, L. D., Theodore, A. B., and George W. Raithel, all of Chicago.

MICHAEL MOXLEY, 1023 North Winchester avenue, a brother of Congressman William J. Moxley, died yesterday at his residence. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at Hursen's funeral chapel, 2346 West Madison street. The burial will be private at Mount Carmel cemetery. Mr. Moxley was engaged in the teaming business. He is survived by his widow and seven children, Lillian, Mabel, William, Michael, May, Frank, and George Moxley.

FRANK P. SAUERWEN, friend and painter of Indians, is dead at Stamford, Conn. Sauerwen lived much of his life among the Indians and painted them in greater numbers than any other American artist. His ashes will be taken to the Arizona desert for burial, in accordance with his wishes.

ALBERT VORSE, a writer, who was one of the passengers on an expedition for Commander Robert E. Peary's relief in 1892, is dead in New York. Mr. Vorse was 54 years old. His widow, Mary Heaton Vorse, is a writer of short stories.

CAPT. P. F. BORGQUIST, a veteran of both the Mexican and civil wars, is dead at Orange, N. J. He was 83 years old. Two medals had been conferred on him by congress for acts of special heroism.

Chinese Gets License to Wed.

Frank Chin, a Chinaman, and Mary Sanger, who, it is believed, were the two who were refused a marriage license in Michigan City, Ind., on Tuesday, went to the county building yesterday afternoon and after satisfying the officials that they were eligible to wed, were given a license.

Bride Who Gets Unique City Gift.

Miss Alice Christopher, whose wedding to Gerry E. Browne of Rhinelander, Wis., was celebrated last night at 8 o'clock in St. Luke's chapel, Evanston, was the recipient of an unusual bridal gift—the city of Chicago bestowed her family name upon a municipal playground. The bride is the daughter of the late Dr. Walter S. Christopher, a one time member of the school board. Because of the services to the city's children as educator and physician, it was determined shortly after Dr. Christopher's death in 1905 to name the twenty-second playground Christopher playground in his honor. But official action had not been taken and when it was learned yesterday that Dr. Christopher's only daughter was to wed it was decided to christen the small park on the day of the wedding. Mrs. Christopher died two years ago and only the bride of last night and her brother, Frederick, remain to represent the family.

ISSUES A GOSPEL WARNING

Committee Tells Meeting Now Is Time for Churches to Act.

SHOWS THE WORK DONE.

China Declared Best Field in Which to Advance Religion.

EDINBURGH, June 15.—The delegates to the world missionary conference, which organized yesterday, got down to the real work of the international meeting today. Representatives of missionary work among non-Christian peoples everywhere were present.

A feature of the day was the presentation by John R. Mott of New York, the chairman, of the report of the commission "on carrying the gospel to all the nonchristian world," in which he issued a warning to the Christian churches of the world that a decisive hour for missions had come. The commission says that opportunities which have been neglected in the past are the reproach of the church. The church in Christian lands, says the report, needs energizing that it may carry on the work. The commission urged that an international committee be formed and that a great movement to carry Christianity into every region with increased force be undertaken.

China as Best Field.

Turning its attention to fields on which the church should concentrate attention and effort, the commission reports that in China there is a unique opportunity fraught with far reaching issues for the future of China and of Christendom. The advance of Islam in equatorial Africa presents the question, the report says, whether the dark continent shall become Mohammedan or Christian. India and the Mohammedan world as a whole, particularly Turkey and Persia, are pointed out as other large fields for effort.

Figures Show Mission Work.

In addition to the formal report of the commission a statistical atlas of missions, embodying the researches of the commission and its subcommittees for the last two years, was presented. The figures pertain only to labors among nonchristians, and summaries are presented of the work in every part of the world in which it is carried on. The figures for the most part are for the year 1907, the latest year for which the commission was able to tabulate them.

MRS. YERKES' DOWER $163,362

Final Decree Handed Down by Judge Ward at New York.

SEQUEL TO A LONG FIGHT.

Residue of Estate to Be Turned Over to Receiver Owsley.

New York, June 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. Yerkes-Mizner, widow of Charles T. Yerkes of Chicago traction fame, and divorced wife of Wilson Mizner, will get $163,362 out of the proceeds of the estate of her first husband in New York as administered by the receivership of the United States Circuit court.

A final decree was handed down today by Judge Ward, in which that sum was set over for the widow's dower, the accounts of the receivers were approved, and the receivers themselves discharged.

The decree of Judge Ward declares that after paying the costs of the receivership and the dower to Mrs. Yerkes, the residue of the estate in this jurisdiction shall be turned over to Mr. Owsley as the receiver in Cook county.

JEWS GET RESPITE FROM EXPULSION

Central Government Orders Kiev Authorities to Grant Longer Time.

BARS RESORT TO 'ETAPPE'

Russian Senate Suspends Ruling Separating Children from Their Parents.

KIEFF, June 15.—The Kieff authorities have been ordered by the Central government to proceed slowly in the matter of the expulsion of Jews. They are instructed to grant those amenable to the decree of expulsion a longer or shorter delay for the settlement of their affairs, as may be needed in each particular case, and to make no attempt to clear the city within any fixed date.

The instructions of the Russian government mean that the Kieff authorities shall not resort to the dreaded deportation by "etappe," and it is now expected that the remainder of the year will be consumed before the last of the 1,002 families leave. The "etappe" system consists in conducting groups of the expelled from one station to another by relays of armed guards, until the pale is reached.

One hundred and five individuals were expelled today. Fifty-one of them had been given time to prepare for their departure without restriction, the other fifty-four receiving passports to a specified destination. Ninety-six were expelled on Sunday and Monday. Of these thirty-seven came under the ruling which had allowed them a short time to prepare for their departure, while fifty-nine had received passports. There were nineteen expulsions yesterday. Of this number eight came under the first, and the others under the second class.

The widow of Refugee Gerstein, who fled from Odessa to Kieff during the pogrom in 1905, and who died here last January, has had a pitiable experience with the new law. She was expelled by "etappe" after her husband's death.

She returned a few days ago to claim her children—a 3 year old girl and a 5 year old boy. She traced them to a foundling asylum, where they had been baptized in the orthodox faith. The mother has appealed to Gov. Trepoff to restore her children to her and annual the the baptismal rite.

The month's delay granted to those subject to expulsion for a settlement of their affairs expired yesterday.

Stops Expulsion of Children.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 15.—The senate, the highest court of appeal in Russia, today ordered that the expulsions of Jewish children at Moscow be suspended until a decision has been handed down interpreting the law with reference to children.

An official statement by Premier Stolypin yesterday made special reference to the expulsion of school children from Moscow, explaining that professional women enjoying a right of residence outside the pale may not confer the same privilege upon their children. As a consequence of this feature of the law many children have been separated from their parents.

GIRL KIDNAPED IN TAXICAB; FATHER WOUNDED IN DEFENSE.

Detroit Police Search for Victim of Armed Band of Italians—Adduction Result of a Vendetta.

Detroit, Mich., June 15.—The Detroit police and deputy sheriffs are searching down river points for Josephine Vomiera, 15 year old daughter of Samuel Vomiera of Ford City, a suburb. The girl was kidnaped tonight by a party of armed Italians in a taxicab. The father, while attempting to defend her, was shot at and received a knife wound in the hand. He says the kidnaping is the result of a vendetta.

DEATHS.

[For other death notices see page 17.]

STARR—Frank Atwood Starr, beloved husband of Mary, father of Mrs. Ethel Brouillet and Mellody Starr. June 15, 1910. Funeral Sunday, June 19, at 10:30 a. m., from late residence, 3823 S. California av., to McKinley Park M. E. church, by carriages to Oakridge cemetery. Member of Brighton Park Lodge No. 854, A. F. & A. M., Apollo Tent, K. O. T. M., John Player Lodge, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

FLOODS GENERAL IN EUROPE

Many Sections Report Great Losses by Rising of Rivers.

SWISS LIFE LOSS LARGE.

Oberammergau Still Cut Off, but All Visitors Are Safe.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, June 15.—Dispatches from all parts of Europe indicate that the floods in Germany are only a small part of the general uprising of rivers which are inundating large sections of the continent. Switzerland, Servia, and Turkish Armenia also have been heavy sufferers within the last few days.

One report says that fully one hundred persons have been drowned in the Swiss floods. Several railways have been compelled to stop running. Vast areas have been deluged, the houses in many places have been flooded as high as the second story. Agricultural loss is immense. A landslide at Altorf buried a factory building, killing a woman and ten children employés.

Oberammergau Is Water Bound.

Oberammergau, the scene of the Passion Play, is today cut off from railway communication with the outside points by the flood that has invaded the district. Of the 600 strangers in the place to attend the sacred performance 300 are Americans. It believed, however, that these are in no danger, as the hotels are on high ground. The lower streets are filled with water.

High water is reported in the streams throughout upper Bavaria.

The meteorologics lobservations in the higher Alps announce that the snow is melting rapidly and that greater floods are expected.

Servians Killed by Floods.

BELGRADE, Servia, June 15.—Floods following torrential rains have caused havoc in the valley of the Morava river.

Thirty-five lives have been lost. The towns of Chuprija, Jagodina, and Svilainats have been inundated. Water to a depth of from seven to ten feet has filled the streets. Many houses, undermined, have collapsed.

Heavy Losses in Armenia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 15.—Dispatches received here say that terrible floods have swept over the province of Erzerum, Turkish Armenia. Half the town of Hassankaleh has been wrecked by the torrents, hundreds of persons being drowned. The rise of the waters resulted from heavy rains.

RUSSIA NOW HAS 160,095,200.

Population Increases 26.9 Per Cent Since 1897, 86.5 of Number Living on Farms.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 15.—The population of the Russian empire, including Finland, according to government figures for 1909, has reached 160,095,200, an increase of 33,199,000, or 26.2 per cent, since the last general census in 1897.

Of the population 86.5 per cent is engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Figures on the proportion of the sexes show an excess of females in European Russia and Finland, males predominating in Poland, the Caucasus, and Siberia.

SUMMER LIGHTNING.

If the Hon. Henry Sherman Boutell should present his lavendered and laundered person reproachfully before Mr. Taft and inquire in the accents of injured friendship why the president in an unprophetic instant of joviality had been so heedless as to greet him as "Boanerges" who would there be to say that the Son of Thunder was not rightfully interrogative? What had Mr. Boutell done that Mr. Taft should decorate him with this name and send him back to the Ninth district adorned as Boanerges?

With justice Mr. Boutell can protest that he is not a Son of Thunder. He is scarcely a brutum fulmen. He is hardly more than a harmless bit of summer lightning flickering in the heat of a summer night and indicating that Joseph Gurney Cannon is still keeping the place hot.

WASTE OF MORAL ENERGY.

An amiable Chicago afternoon paper is shivering in an emotion which has troubled undreamed of depths in its placid existence. It follows the story which Charles A. White is telling on the witness stand, but hides its face to shut out of sight the depravity of character revealed by the witness. This will be regarded by most people as a great waste of moral energy.

It would hardly be unfair to the tremulous observer of Mr. White's turpitude to say that it seemed more disturbed by the offense of telling than by the offense of doing. This is a nice, comfortable, almost cozy, point of view. Unfortunately it is also childish. There is only one question of any importance which refers to Mr. White at the present, and that is whether he is telling the truth.

The tremulous observer is in the position of being horror stricken at the leak and not at what comes out of it.

FORGETFUL STATESMEN.

Has the Hon. William W. Watson, representative from the Third Illinois congressional district, forgotten that March 3, 1909, was spent by the esteemed United States senate in debating the question: "Resolved, that Theodore Roosevelt is the most impossible person who ever was president of the United States"? And that the decision was for the affirmative? Evidently he and that other impulsive child of nature, the Hon. James Schoolcraft Sherman, have forgotten or they would not have startled Messrs. Aldrich, Gallinger, Frye, Elkins, etc., by submitting to them that confiding proposal for a congressional delegation to welcome him who is coming back.

TOO MANY MIDDLEMEN.

Those city people who chafe under the increased cost of living may find something instructive in a statement of W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central road. He said that on the four sides of one New York City block he counted sixteen stores where meat, vegetables, fruit, and groceries were sold. Each store had in addition to the proprietor at least one clerk, a delivery wagon and driver. All the business done by the sixteen stores could be handled satisfactorily by four, said Mr. Brown. Therefore, according to him, twelve of the proprietors should take their clerks, drivers, and horses, go out in the country, and become producers.

The consuming community would be a double gainer by the exodus. The supply of foodstuffs would be increased, which would tend to lower their price. The consumers would not have to support twelve economically superfluous middlemen with their employés. In order that sixteen stores may live where four would suffice the proprietors have to charge higher prices than they would otherwise. More reasonable prices would bankrupt most of them.

It may be difficult to find a Chicago block as well supplied with groceries and meat markets as the one mentioned by Mr. Brown. Yet everybody who is familiar with the Chicago residence districts knows that there are many more of those stores than the traffic calls for. Their multiplicity may occasionally be a convenience for the consumer, but whether he knows it or not, it is a convenience he pays for when he buys meat or groceries.

The excess of middlemen contributes materially to the cost of living. But Mr. Brown knows that every one of his sixteen storekeepers would deride the suggestion that he should give up a business he understood and take up that of farming, which he did not know. Perhaps it would be hard to find a Chicago meat market man who would give up selling meat to go to raising cattle. So the sad conclusion must be that the oversupply of stores for the sale of foodstuffs is an economic evil for which there is no remedy. There cannot be a law to regulate the number of such stores.

POSTPONING A PLATFORM PLEDGE.

The Republican party said at Chicago two years ago, "We favor such national legislation and supervision as will prevent the future overissue of stocks and bonds by interstate carriers." The Democratic party said at Denver that it favored legislation "preventing the overissue of stocks and bonds by interstate railroads." Each party admitted the truth of the charge that watered stock has a direct influence on freight rates—the roads charging higher rates so that it may be possible to pay dividends on that stock.

When two opposing parties are of one mind as to a particular matter and unite in promising the same remedial legislation, one might be confident that that legislation would be enacted, whichever party won. It has not worked out that way, however, about the overissue of stocks and bonds.

The attorney general in drafting the administration railroad bill was justified in inserting a provision authorizing the interstate commerce commission to supervise the issue of stocks and bonds. He was obeying the party platform. So was the house when it accepted the provision. In the senate it was different. Only nineteen senators voted for its retention. Senator Rayner argued that the supervision of stock and bond issues did not constitute a regulation of commerce, and hence congress had no power to act. If it was a regulation of commerce it practically deprived every railroad of its charter granted by the state, and therefore took away property without due process of law in violation of the fifth amendment. Most of the Democratic senators agreed with him.

The senate was quite prepared to flout a party and a popular mandate. Either senators believed that the popular impression that overcapitalization is one of the great causes of high freight rates had faded out, or decided that they were wiser than the party conventions and the voters. The conflicting views of senate and house on this question of loyalty to party pledges were reconciled through the president's strenuous efforts. He is to appoint a commission to investigate questions pertaining to the issuance of railroad securities.

The fulfillment of a specific pledge of both parties has been postponed. The postponement should be brief. The commission should report at the next session. Unless it can submit arguments powerful enough to convince intelligent men that the pledge should not be kept, the legislation denied at this session should be enacted next winter.

THERE ALWAYS IS.

Mr. Tex Rickard now joins the great host of philosophers singing:

"Il y a tous les jours quelque dam chose."

Just as he separates Mr. Jack Johnson from his automobile and earns the privilege of going to sleep fairly confident that all of Mr. Johnson will be present and together at the big fight, comes the tidings that Gov. Gillett has ordered the attorney general to prevent the battle in California. If this news stands up it will be easily explainable by the sophisticated. Somebody's work must have become too "coarse." It did not seem possible for the syndicate to step on a bad spot in San Francisco, but some one may have told the governor to report in Johnson's corner as a bottle holder, and of course there are limits in any commonwealth.

There is a consolation, however, for the gentlemen who are walking to the fight. If the battle goes to Nevada they save mileage.

THE MONTGOMERY WARD ORDINANCES.

Relying upon a report, which upon investigation by THE TRIBUNE has proved inaccurate, THE TRIBUNE criticised the action of Montgomery Ward & Co. in applying for a switch track ordinance and a vacation of North Branch street. The facts as ascertained seem to be that the valuation of the land vacated having been fixed at $40,000, the Montgomery Ward company fell back upon the alternative of a switch track privilege. The ordinance, therefore, is, of course, subject to the council's policy of requiring compensation in such cases, and the city's interest will undoubtedly be taken care of in committee.

The inferences drawn in THE TRIBUNE's editorial comment were, therefore, erroneous and unjust.

LICENSES SHOULD BE REVOCABLE.

A chauffeur, aged 28, and, therefore, presumably of adult responsibility, was found guilty of racing at thirty-one miles an hour in the city. He was fined $15 and costs, and especially reprimanded by one of the Municipal judges because it was shown that he had recently run over a dog, and a year ago had run down and killed a child.

The imposition of a small fine on such an offender is, of course, a farce. No such man should be allowed to run a motor or any other vehicle. If he is not insane, he is morally so obtuse as to be a public danger and should not be intrusted with dangerous machinery. Both the statute and the city ordinance should vest in the courts or in responsible officials the right to revoke licenses held by habitual offenders.

ONLY $100.

A man appeared in a Chicago court this week to answer the charge of beating his 3 year old daughter. He had broken one of her arms and dislocated the shoulder. The indignant judge deplored his inability to impose a severer sentence on this brute than a fine of $100, which is the equivalent of a long bridewell term. The child will have an opportunity to recover from the injuries inflicted by its "natural protector" before he is turned loose.

The judge told the truth when he said he went to the limit. It was the wicked leniency of the law which kept him from dealing out adequate justice. If the father was arraigned under the city ordinance punishing cruelty to children the highest fine that could be imposed was $100. We read in "Locksley Hall" of the man who would hold his wife "something better than his dog, a little dearer than his horse." He stands on a higher plane than the Chicago lawmakers, who put dogs, horses, and children in the same category. It costs as much to torture animals as it does babies.

If the Chicago father had been prosecuted for assault and battery under the state law he could not have been fined more than $100. That seems a reasonable sum to the lawmakers of today, even when a helpless child is the victim, because it seemed reasonable to their fathers. It was a heavy penalty sixty years ago, when butter was 10 cents a pound and ham 7 cents. The cost of nearly everything has gone up, but that of assault and battery is unchanged.

The severity of lawmakers is confined to those who lay their hands on sacred property. If a man had to choose between being deftly robbed of $20 and being knocked down by a drunken hoodlum and an arm or rib broken, he would always choose the former. But the law in the plenitude of its stupidity would give the pickpocket ten years and the ruffian a hundred dollar fine. Personal property is regarded as more deserving of respect and protection than the owners.

We want our lawmakers to treat assault and battery more seriously, especially where children, whose weakness should be their protection, are the victims. The man who will beat a 3 year old child has a more malignant and depraved heart than the sneak thief, and deserves sharper punishment.

LORD MAIDSTONE'S FLUKE.

Sad news of a misfortune to the British peerage comes in the announcement that Lord Maidstone, who married Anthony Drexel's daughter, was double crossed in the marriage settlement by the astute Philadelphia millionaire, and instead of getting an amount sufficient to pay off his debts and set him up as "a first class earl who keeps his carriage," his wife will receive less than $5,000 a year. The same penurious settlement is said to have been made upon Anthony Jr., who married Miss Gould, but as he has gone to teaching aviation, his case is not of so much importance. Lady Winchilsea, the mother-in-law of Lady Maidstone, is reported to be deeply chagrined at the financial outcome of the match. As financiers the English dowagers of today are not in the same class with those of the past.

INVITATION of the aviator: "Come on up; the air's fine!"

YES, THE TRIBUNE is in the habit of paying well for exclusive stories. That is why it gets so many of them.

THERE are plenty of persons who can afford to travel to San Francisco, but the number of persons who can afford to pay to see the prize fight from a point of view close to the ring side is comparatively limited.

REFERRING again to Aviator Hamilton's conspicuous ears, if he can wiggle them they may help him out of a serious scrape some day when his propeller blades break.

"WE repeat, who will stop them Cubs?" anxiously inquires the New York Mail. Not them there Gi'nts, anyways.

COMETH Robert W. Chambers, with another continued story. Ye that have emotions to be harrowed up, prepare to agonize.

UNCLE SAM'S greatest battleship, the South Carolina, will go out to meet the colonel as he approaches New York harbor. If it can't withstand the impact there is no ship afloat that can.

FOR some reason doubtless satisfactory to himself, but not convincing to the community at large, Building Commissioner Campbell still delays handing in that resignation.

JUPITER and fair Luna have been flirting in a way that is almost scandalous.

ROSE-E-VELT.—New York Evening Sun. Not quite—Rose-e-v'lt.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Wasted Energy.

Brodweigh—"What are you doing nowadays, old chap?"

Bleekerstreet—"I am doing the hardest work of my life and getting the least results. I'm rooting for the Giants."

Recognising the Inevitable.

Pyrrhus had just won his costly victory over the Romans.

"Well," he ejaculated, "I suppose I've got to say it; posterity will expect it of me. But it's such a moldy old chestnut! Here goes: Another such victory and——"

But we shall be more considerate than Pyrrhus was—we shall stop the quotation right there.

Took an Unfair Advantage.

Mrs. Dorkins—"Yesterday I called Mrs. Grundage's attention to the fact that she had left the gate between our back yards open and that her chickens had come through and scratched up our flower beds, and she looked as if she would have liked to bite my head off. How foolish it is for people to get angry when you remind them that they have been careless about something that they had no business to overlook!"

Mr. Dorkins—"I am glad to hear you say that, Maria. You won't mind if I mention that when I came home last night I found that you'd left both the back doors unlocked."

Mrs. Dorkins—"Yes; you're always watching to see if you can't catch me in some little fault and it makes you perfectly happy when you do!"

Indorses the Idea.

"Yes," said Mrs. Lapsling, "I believe in life insurance. I'm trying to get my husband to take out a policy in the Providential company." C. W. T.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1910: By the Brentwood Company.]

MEMORIES of an old time romance which a little more than sixty years ago set all European royalty by the ears are recalled by the sudden death at Paris of the old Infanta Josephine of Spain at the age of 88 years. She was the granddaughter of King Charles IV. of Spain, a niece therefore of the original Don Carlos, and a sister of that Don Francis d'Assisis who married Isabella II. and thus became king consort of Spain.

The Infanta Josephine was 21 years of age when she became infatuated, at Madrid, with a young journalist of Cuban birth bearing the name of José Guell y Rente. He had been a reporter on one of the leading papers of Havana when he fell in love with a young girl belonging to one of the principal families of the Antilles. His affection was returned. But his inamorata's father refused to encourage the suit and showed him the door, contemptuously informing him that he was of far too lowly origin ever to dream of marrying his daughter.

Enraged, the young newspaper man exclaimed, passionately, that he would show the people who he was by marrying a princess. Crossing the ocean, he arrived at Madrid, joined one of the newspapers, and soon made a name for himself there as a writer and as a poet. Several poems which he dedicated to the Infanta Josefa sufficed to turn her head completely. She lost her heart to her Cuban admirer, and eventually fled with him to Valladolid, where they were married.

The royal family was thunderstruck, regarding the scandal as doubly great by the fact that Guell y Rente was a pronounced Radical. The government tried unsuccessfully to get the union invalidated by the pope. But the people were delighted with it. Sentences of exile were pronounced against the couple, but after a while the good nature for which Queen Isabella was so celebrated prevailed and the infanta and her husband were permitted to return to Spain, where they were received with honor and affection by the queen.

Don José, who was a most charming man and a distinguished author, accepted a seat in the senate, but declined any title, and died, universally mourned, at Madrid in 1884, deeply regretted by the entire royal family of Spain and favorably remembered in the United States as having been the principal partisan at Madrid in favor of the abolition of all duties on American corn.

It is to be regretted that the sons born of this singularly happy union did not follow in their father's footsteps. The eldest of them, Raymundo Guell y Bourbon, who had received a commission in the army, obtained for himself after his father's death the title of Marquis de Valcarlos and subsequently obtained appointment to the Spanish embassy at Paris as military attaché, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. There he contracted a marriage with the daughter and heiress of old Alberti, partner of the well known banker Oppenheim, Queen Isabella being present at her nephew's wedding.

Valcarlos was terribly extravagant, ended by exhausting the patience and the generosity of his wife, of his father-in-law, of Queen Isabella, and of the remainder of the Spanish royal family, and was driven ultimately by financial straits to add to his functions as military attaché of the Spanish embassy those of a secret agent of the French war department.

It was in this way that the marquis became implicated in an extremely unsavory manner with the Dreyfus scandal. It was publicly demonstrated in that connection that for several years, notably from 1893 to 1895, he had been receiving a regular monthly allowance from the secret service fund of the French war department, besides many additional sums for special services, and while he persistently denied these charges he admitted over his signature that he had received a number of payments from the secret service fund of the French war department, but for the use of a third person, whose name he declined to give.

Under the circumstances the Spanish government had no alternative left but to dismiss him at once from the post of military attaché and from the army and to insist that he should remain abroad. Naturally his royal relatives and former friends declined to have anything further to do with him. Publicly disgraced and completely ostracised, he died a few years ago, in the utmost obscurity and in straitened circumstances, at Melun.

King George's pronounced interest in the colonial dependencies of his empire and his determination to make the development of their prosperity and the strengthening of their bonds with the mother country the keynote of the policy of his reign, has received a further manifestation by the fact that the first peerage which he has created since his accession last month has been bestowed upon a colonial, an Africander—Sir John Henry de Villiers.

Sir Henry, who has received this honor on the occasion of the birth of the union of South Africa, which he has done so much to foster, is the son of Dutch parents. He was born at Wynberg, in Cape Colony, and studied first divinity, with a view to the pastorate, and then medicine, at the Universities of Utrecht, in Holland, and of Berlin before turning his attention to law and receiving his call to the bar, at the Inner Temple in London in 1865.

He was the first of the Africanders—that is to say, the English subjects of Dutch parentage in South Africa—to become an English barrister, and it was owing to this that he was appointed attorney general of the Cape of Good Hope at the early age of 30 and chief justice of the colony exactly two years later. He still retains that office, and also is president of the legislative council at the cape and a member of the judicial committee of the privy council in England, the supreme tribunal of the empire. Throughout his career he has sought always to exercise a moderating influence upon South African affairs. During the period which preceded the Boer war "the most eminent of living Africanders," as the London Times called him, did his best to cause councils of peace to prevail on both sides, and on several occasions went to Pretoria in the endeavor to adjust the differences between President Kruger and the British authorities.

Sir Henry is a learned and amiable man, universally popular and respected throughout the length and breadth of South Africa and almost equally well known in government circles in London. He is devoted to botany and to bees, and owns estates embracing 40,000 acres of land in some of the finest fruit growing districts of Cape Colony. His elevation to the peerage is a most politic move on the part of King George which cannot fail to give general satisfaction in South Africa.

It will be welcomed by the English element and still more so by the Africanders, and coincides, curiously enough, with the transfer by Gen. Botha of his household to Groote Schnurr. It may be recalled that when Cecil Rhodes died he provided by his will that Groote Schnurr, his beautiful and picturesque home outside Cape Town, to which he was so devoted and where he was happier than anywhere else, should become the property of the colony for use as the official residence of the prime minister.

Hitherto it has been occupied by his intimate friend and follower, Dr. Jameson, who was prime minister of Cape Colony and who has now vacated it to Gen. Louis Botha, the former bitter and sworn enemy of Cecil Rhodes, but who now has become the first premier of the union of South Africa.

Not until the death of the Duchess of Fife will King George be free to bestow the title and rank of princess royal upon his only daughter. It is a dignity conferred by royal warrant, and during the reign of Queen Victoria was held by her eldest daughter, the Empress Frederick of Germany. She retained it, after becoming empress, as long as she lived, and it was not until her death, some time after the accession of her brother, King Edward, that the latter issued the warrant creating his eldest daughter, the Duchess of Fife, princess royal.

WHAT SINGAPORE WANTS.

The hope of Singapore is for a great trunk line railway running from this southern point of the Malay peninsula northward through Siam to Burma and on to India, and a branch line through Cambodia into China. Some day that hope will be realized. Within a radius of 2,000 miles of the little island on which Singapore is built there is a population of 800,000,000.—U. S. Consular Reports.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

ONE of the paradoxes of human nature is that a man who has intelligence enough to drive an aeroplane from New York to Philadelphia should be such a dampfool as to smoke cigarets and to think that they "steady the nerves."

AND so the pride of the white race and the hope of the sons of Ham will have to take their knitting into some other state. Sad? Nothing short of it, believe muh.

WE hope some one will be thoughtful enough to flag Mr. Sambo Remo Rastus Brown, who is still plugging along toward Frisco.

DO IT NOW, THEN AND THERE!

[From the Isle of Pines Appeal.]

Keep your layers at work all the time. Do not allow a hen to become broody and remain so for a week or two before your attention is directed to break her of the notion, but when you first notice any particular one going broody separate her then and there from her present condition and surroundings, which in most cases is enough to change her mind then and there, and she will be laying again in two or three days or a week at most.

OLD ED HOWE must be losing his mind. Only a little while ago he confessed that he couldn't understand Darwin, and now he throws up his hands over the following perfectly simple definition of pragmatism: "Epistemologically pragmatism is nominalism; psychologically, voluntarism; metaphysically, agnosticism; ethically, meliorism on the basis of Bentham-Mill utilitarianism."

Life's Little Economies.

Batter Up: "Save the scraps the dogs used to get and have a nice meat pie."

[Why not cook the dog?]

Mme. X.: "I find that by saving all burned match ends and carefully keeping them in the grate in the living room during the summer I can have a lovely wood fire for at least three minutes on the first cool night in fall."

Sub: "Referring to the pathetic case of Mike and the i. c. o. l., let me suggest that his wife trim her last year's hat with discards from a chenille portiere. Striking effects can be obtained by the use of a little ingenuity. Then, too, there is prospect of Mrs. Mike being a heroine by being on the ground to rescue a drowning man by uncoiling the chenille and using it as a rope. The Carnegie hero commission would award the family of the rescuer a $1.50 alarm clock, making it possible for Mike to put the $3.58 ormolu clock in hock. I am unmarried, but this prospect makes me think of the double hitch."

READING between the lines of Mr. Corbett's dispatches from Rowardennan, we form the shrewd conclusion that Mr. Jeffries has a good deal of strength and endurance.

WHAT YOU DO.

Sir—Motoring on a remote country road has this advantage: when a breakdown occurs—puncture, busted differential, corked carburetor, dead battery—there are no sidewalk jeerers, no officious coppers, no menacing traffic. You tinker around contentedly to the accompaniment of twittering hedgerow chorus, blue sky above (its normal position), genial sunshine. Finally abandoning the junk, you walk back seventeen miles to the village garage, your heart full of the joy of life (License No. 43 A.). R. O. R.

NEWS OF THE COLLEGES.

University of Illinois.

Champaign, Ill., June 15.—[Special.]—President Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois, looking over the 578 students on whom degrees were conferred today, the largest class in the annals of the state school, satirically hoped that Richard T. Crane, millionaire manufacturer of Chicago, would keep up his attacks on higher education in general and the University of Illinois in particular.

"More power to his pen," exclaimed Dr. James, delivering the commencement address. "I certainly hope he will keep up the good work. That great friend and adviser suggested that it would be far better for the state of Illinois to burn down every building on the university campus and plow the land into furrows rather than grant the institution additional appropriations. The state university has received greater appropriations than ever, more students in each department were enrolled this year than ever before, and there is an increased demand by the business and professional world for our graduates. We thank you, Mr. Crane."

Incidentally Dr. James, in tracing the development of Illinois, "roasted" residents of this state who send their children to more historic privately endowed institutions, "that they may associate with a more privileged class."

One of the interesting features of the commencement, the thirty-ninth for Illinois, was the conferring of three honorary degrees, the recipients being Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of Chicago's schools; Prof. L. P. Breckenridge of Sheffield School of Science at Yale; and Isham Randolph of Chicago, the engineer.

The greatest reception was tendered Mrs. Young, the demonstration being led by a party of 150 Chicagoans, most of them attached to the school system, who came by special train today to see one of the foremost woman educators of the land receive the degree of doctor of laws.

Mrs. Young was presented by Dr. W. C. Bagley, head of University School of Education, who recounted her achievements, leading to her selection as superintendent. Dr. James, in vesting her with the hood of the degree, styled Mrs. Young "A beloved citizen of this state."

Mrs. Young bowed her thanks, and was presented with a bouquet of American beauty roses, a token from a delegation of Chicago principals.

With the boom to make her president of the National Educational association given an impetus by Chicago principals and others interested, who came by special train, this was a big day for Mrs. Young. The special train arrived at 9:30 o'clock this morning, carrying more than 100 Chicagoans, including Alexander Blackwood, vice president of the board of education; L. E. Larson, secretary; and Ida Mighelle, president of the Ella Flagg Young club. Much interest was worked up on the train for the Chicago teachers' special train to Boston for the educational convention.

Pointing out his achievements as a member of two Panama canal commissions and chairman of the internal waterway committee, Dean Goss of the College of Engineering introduced Isham Randolph, who was given the degree of doctor of engineering.

Prof. Breckenridge, long an idol of Illinois, was styled "A man to be loved, a friend to be prized," by Dr. James. The Yale professor was given a similar degree. The enthusiasm of the students knew no bounds, and a liberal round of "rahs" was given for "Breck," formality being disregarded.

Other degrees were conferred as follows: Engineering, 187; literature and arts, 138; science, 58; agriculture, 50; library school, 8; music, 4; law, 37, a total of 482 bachelor awards, while 96 advanced degrees were conferred by the graduate school.

University of Iowa.

Iowa City, Ia., June 15.—[Special.]—Dr. Cyrus Northrop, president of the University of Minnesota, delivered the fiftieth annual commencement address of the University of Iowa today, taking the place of James S. Sherman, vice president of the United States, whose wife is ill.

President Northrop's theme was "Dissemination of Educated Man."

"Important modern necessity is utilizing men trained in colleges in a wide variety of employment in order to remove the congestion which now prevails certain professions," said President Northrop. "Law, medicine, and theology are overcrowded. Doctors increase faster than disease. There are more clergymen than churches. It is difficult to enter the trades because the unions guard against an influx into their ranks. The farmers are the only class who welcome newcomers."

The university this afternoon conferred the degree of doctor of laws upon Prof. John N. Nollen of Lake Forest college, Illinois.

University of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 15.—Secretary of State Philander C. Knox was the orator at the 154th commencement of the University of Pennsylvania held today in the Academy of Music. Half an hour before the beginning of the exercises the graduating class numbering 763, the faculty, and the alumni, assembled in the hall near the Academy of Music, garbed in the conventional cap and gown, and marched to the Academy.

Dr. Ethelbert Dudley Warfield, president of Lafayette college, was the recipient of the only honorary degree conferred by the university this year. He was given the degree of doctor of laws.

Secretary Knox was introduced to the students and the guests of the university who crowded the Academy to its capacity, by Provost C. C. Harrison. He took for his topic "The Spirit and Purpose of American Diplomacy."

West Point.

West Point, N. Y., June 15.—Bright skies favored commencement day at the United States Military academy today. The exercises were held under a canopy stretched in front of Battle monument at historic Trophy Point, overlooking the Hudson river.

Occupying the speaker's stand were: the secretary of war, Brig. Gen. Walter Howe, commanding the department of the east, a score of general officers of the United States army and the academy board, Col. Hugh L. Scott, superintendent of the academy, presided.

Gen. Howe first addressed the cadets. He was followed by Secretary of War Dickinson. The exercises concluded with the presentation by Secretary Dickinson of second lieutenants' commissions to the eighty-two graduates.

"Our past wars were crudely waged compared with what war would be now," said Secretary of War Dickinson in his address. "Specialization and technique," the secretary declared, "are demanded in military affairs as inexorably as in art, manufacture, commerce, transportation, education, medicine, law, and indeed in every department of human activity.

"We have come into the international limelight and have assumed the responsibilities of a first class power. If we should engage in hostilities with any nation of respectable strength the clash would be quick and stupendous. Our commanders, unless the war shall endure long enough to forge out of crude metal thunderbolts of war, must already have been trained in a way that surpasses all conceptions of military education entertained a quarter of a century back."

Marietta College.

Marietta, O., June 15.—President Taft, speaking at the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Marietta college here today, took for the theme of his address the "History of the Northwest Territory," and referred to the ordinance of 1787, for the government of the territory, as the greatest instrument of fundamental law except the constitution of the United States which has ever been enunciated by men.

The study of the ordinance brought the president to a general discussion of the liberties of the American government. He declared that the provision in the Northwest ordinance, which later appeared in the constitution, forbidding the impairing of an obligation or a contract by law, has been of far reaching importance, and has tended to make this country, with its democratic government by the people and for the people, perhaps as conservative a community in respect of the rights of property as there is in the world.

Mr. Taft and his party were taken to the home of W. W. Mills, escorted by three companies of the Seventh regiment, Ohio National guard. For the entire distance the president drove through lines of school children, who showered him with blossoms.

After luncheon at the Mills home the president was taken to the college library, where he saw the original deed which gave the land in the Northwest Territory to the Ohio Company of Associates, just after the revolutionary war. At 2 o'clock he delivered an address in Muskingum park. Afterwards he spoke at the college exercises in the famous old "Two Horned church," the First Congregational. The degree of doctor of civil law was conferred on the president.

Then the president was taken to American Union lodge No. 1, one of the oldest Masonic organizations in the country, to speak a few words, and see an apron which once belonged to George Washington, a sword presented to the lodge by Lafayette, and other curios.

Rush Medical College.

Eighty-six Rush Medical college students were awarded degrees of M. D. yesterday at convocation exercises held in Mandel hall, University of Chicago. Two, Julia Crotty and Martha A. Welpton, were women. Eleven honor awards were made and seventeen students entered the college from lower institutions with fellowships. Dr. William J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., delivered the doctorate address on "The Necessity of Co-operation in the Practice of Medicine."

Following were the awards of diplomas:

De Paul University.

The scholarship examinations, open to all eighth grade graduates of the parochial schools of Chicago, will take place at 9 a. m. on Saturday, June 18. Ten free academic scholarships will be given to the ten boys who stand highest in this examination. Over two hundred are expected to enter the contest.

On Saturday, June 25, at 9 o'clock, the contest for the university scholarships will take place. This contest is open to all high school graduates of the city.

The annual play entitled, "The Honor of the Varsity," will be presented under the direction of T. Edward McGillan, by the students of the university at the College theater on Monday at 8:15 p. m.

The commencement exercises will be held on Tuesday, June 21, in the College theater. Dr. Purcell, president of the Cathedral college, will address the graduates. The class of 1910 numbers thirty-six.

The Engineering Bulletin, recently issued, contains a description of some radical changes which will tend to the betterment of the engineering department. Prof. Arden C. Johnson, B. S. Engineer, M. S., has been engaged as director of the engineering courses.

Wheaton College.

An old fashioned picnic dinner on the campus was the feature of the closing day of the golden jubilee celebration of Wheaton college yesterday.

Two thousand members of the alumni association and friends of the college had come from far and near to participate in the exercises and representatives of many of the leading schools and colleges of this and neighboring states were in attendance to extend congratulations.

The graduation of the senior class of this year took place in the college chapel in the forenoon and at the noon hour a basket dinner was served under the age worn trees on the campus. The afternoon was devoted to addresses of greeting from sister institutions of learning, made by the presidents of these schools or their representatives.

President Charles A. Blanchard presided at the commencement exercises and delivered the graduation address.

Todd Seminary.

The Todd seminary for Boys at Woodstock, Ill., held its closing exercises yesterday afternoon on the school grounds, and at the conclusion of the day's program Mrs. Fidelia Hamilton of Salt Lake City, Utah, a member of the first graduating class of the school in 1862, when it was a co-educational institution, laid the cornerstone of the new study hall.

The afternoon was given over to various athletic contests and a ball game between the All-Todds and the Alumni association teams resulted in a victory for the All-Todds by a score of 10 to 5.

Royal Henry Bosshard was awarded the medal for highest honor. Robert S. Nelson the medal for loyalty, and Herbert E. Harbsock the medal for United States history.

AT OTHER SCHOOLS.

PITTSBURG, PA.—With the dedication of the school of engineering building on Schenley Farms campus, commencement day opened yesterday morning at the University of Pittsburg. At 2:30 o'clock the formal commencement day exercises were held in Carnegie Music hall. At both morning and afternoon proceedings the graduates of the university, numbering 169, were addressed by Gov. Edwin S. Stuart, who was honored with the degree of doctor of laws.

ROCK ISLAND, ILL.—Augustana synod and college has closed the ten days' fiftieth jubilee celebration, the latter half of which has been given over mainly to business of the synod. A resolution was adopted protesting against dancing, particularly in public schools, "believing it to be wrong in principle to use public money for such purposes and for paid servants of the public in their official capacity to act as instructors in dancing."

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Among the seven honorary degrees conferred at the one hundred and forty-second commencement of Brown university was that of doctor of laws bestowed upon Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador. The degree of doctor of laws also was conferred upon the Rev. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, president of the University of South Carolina, and Chief Justice Edward C. Du Bois of the Rhode Island Supreme court. The Rev. William Coleman Bitting, pastor of the Second Baptist church, St. Louis, received the degree of doctor of divinity. Including 30 young women, 146 students were graduated.

LEXINGTON, VA.—President Denny of Washington and Lee university has announced the following honorary degrees conferred by the board of trustees: Doctor of laws—United States Senator George E. Chamberlain, Portland, Ore.; W. U. Hensel, Lancaster, Pa. Doctor of divinity—The Rev. William Meade Clark, Richmond, Va.; the Rev. E. R. Leyburn, Durham, N. C.; the Rev. H. T. Graham, Hampden Sidney, Va., and the Rev. Harry B. Lewis, Lancaster, O.

SOUTH HADLEY, MASS.—At the Mount Holyoke college commencement the honorary degree of master of arts was conferred upon Miss Sarah White Davis of Lapeer, Mich.

NAZARETH, MICH.—The following Chicago girls won gold medals at the Nazareth academy: Onnie Evans, Bertha Evans, Gertrude O'Brien, Allan Morgan.

ROCKFORD, Ill.—Commencement exercises of Rockford college were held yesterday. The address of the day was given by the Rev. Theodore G. Soares of the University of Chicago on "A Working Philosophy of Life." He said ex-President Roosevelt and Gov. Hughes had brought about an era of frank truth telling. The college trustees announce a decision to build a dormitory to cost $80,000. Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes of Rockford have given $3,000 to the endowment fund. Among the graduates were Wilhelmina B. Barfield, Hinsdale; Alice C. Reese, Chicago; Marguerite Tucker, Oak Park.

KNOXVILLE, Ill.—Lee Otto Diederichs and [illegible] Otto Diederichs of Chicago were among [illegible] graduated from St. Albans college here.

REVIVE SOCIETY TO FIGHT PHTHISIS

Statewide Campaign Outlined by Association to Prevent Tuberculosis.

EVANS MADE PRESIDENT.

Organization Holds First Meeting Since 1906; Seek Way to Spend Fund.

Reorganization of the Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was accomplished yesterday afternoon at a meeting for purposes of reorganization held in the assembly hall of the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy, 35 Dearborn street. Health Commissioner W. A. Evans was elected president, and a statewide campaign was outlined. The meeting was the first held since 1906. It was admitted that the campaign has been desultory in Illinois compared with some other states and that educational work should be taken up in every county of the state and by means of exhibits at county fairs by leaders possessed of enthusiasm and vigor. Dr. Henry B. Favill presided at the opening of the meeting.

Committee Makes Its Report.

In the report of the committee on reorganization presented by Secretary Frank E. Wing, the situation was presented as follows:

"During the last two or three years there has been growing in the minds of physicians and laymen a feeling that the state of Illinois is not keeping abreast of the times in its educational machinery for fighting the spread of tuberculosis.

"With state, county, and local societies springing into existence all over the country with the result that there are today nearly 600 such organization in the United States, Illinois has seen the organization of only two new societies during the last three years.

"Today the state has less than half a dozen such societies and not all of them active. During the last two winters the sale of the Red Cross Christmas stamps has proved a great educational feature and has given a wonderful impetus in arousing interest—notably last winter, when over 125 Illinois cities and villages took some part in the sale, with the result that over $12,000 was realized.

"There now stands in the treasury of the Chicago Tuberculosis institute a sum of money realized from the sale of stamps in cities and villages not having local societies, which, according to the terms of the sale, must be used for some form of state work. It was for the purpose of suggesting some method by which this fund could best be administered that this joint committee was appointed."

New Officers Are Elected.

Following the report the following officers were elected with Dr. Evans:

First vice president—Dr. T. O. Hardesty, Jacksonville.

Second vice president—Dr. George T. Palmer, Springfield.

Secretary—Frank E. Wing, Chicago.

Treasurer—David R. Forgan, Chicago.

Central council—Dr. J. W. Pettit, Ottawa; Dr. Theodore O. Sachs, Chicago; Dr. Ethan A. Gray, Chicago; Dr. S. C. Gilliden, Danville; Dr. E. M. Sala, Rock Island; J. W. Barwell, Waukegan; George W. Perkins, Chicago; Mrs. Boland, Pontiac; Prof. William E. Watt, Chicago; W. M. Blair, Chicago.

Executive committee—Evans, Sachs, Sala, Gray, Wing, and Farwell.

Publication of literature in various languages, advertising, and lectures were included by speakers in suggestions as to means most efficacious in fighting the plague in Illinois.

MARIE CHAPEL WINS POINT IN TRINITY CHURCH WAR.

Allowed to Use Auditorium for Worship by Injunction Order Issued by Judge Windes.

A new development yesterday in the litigation between the Trinity and Marie Methodist churches concerning the title to the Marie property, which both churches claim, was the issuance of a temporary injunction by Judge Windes granting to the Marie congregation the right to use the auditorium in the building for the purpose of public worship.

It also granted to the pastor of Marie church, the Rev. James M. Wheaton, the right to use the pastor's study. The Marie church, formerly known as Marie chapel, is located at Wentworth avenue and Twenty-third place and is valued at $40,000.

The Marie congregation has up to the present time been confined to the use of a smaller room in the rear of the building, the auditorium being used by the Immanuel Baptist church for its Sunday school. The Rev. Johnston Myers, the pastor of Immanuel church, leased the auditorium from the Trinity trustees in October, 1909, for three years with the privilege of extending the period two years longer.

There remains more than a year before the lease expires, but the decision of Judge Windes will act as a stoppage until the litigation concerning the question of the disputed title is settled.

Judge Windes said that he had been guided by a recent decision of the Supreme court that in cases where a denomination had ecclesiastical jurisdiction over individual churches, the civil courts were bound to sustain the action of the ecclesiastical body.

NEW CHARGES IN INSURANCE CASE

Witness Says $60,000 Claims Were Paid Twice and $250,000 More Wasted.

PAID $77,000 TO QUIT?

Potter Makes a Report Defending His Course in Regard to Scandal.

Rock Island, Ill., June 15.—[Special.]—That $60,000 was paid in death claims that already had been settled and that $250,000 collected in dues and assessments was squandered during the few months in which the affairs of the Fraternal Tribunes and the American Home Circle were conduced as one society was asserted today by Lucius Pfouts of Springfield, a state insurance examiner.

Mr. Pfouts was a witness before the grand jury which is investigating the fraternal insurance scandals and his testimony was presented in the form of a report of examinations he made of the two societies before, during, and after the merger. This report includes some of the most important features that State's Attorney L. M. Magill has been able to get from any one witness.

According to Pfouts, the head officers of the Fraternal Tribunes were paid, not $25,000 as claimed, to resign and permit the Home Circle officers to assume control, but $77,000. Pfouts asserted that Robert Rezdale of Rock Island, secretary, and H. A. Weld, Rock Island, attorney, knew nothing of the extra amount, but that K. M. Whitham of Aledo, the supreme tribune, and A. L. Craig of Chicago, the head physician, divided it. Whitham, he charges, succeeded in getting $27,000 that Craig knew nothing about.

Accuses a Chicago Man.

Pfouts asserted that C. F. Hatfield of Chicago, who is said to have gone to Europa, was paid a commission for smoothing the way for the merger and that James R. B. Van Cleave, former state superintendent of insurance, received 2 per cent commission for transferring the $77,000 reserve fund of the Tribunes from the Chicago Title and Trust company, Chicago, to the Lincoln National at Peoria, from which it was checked out, much going to pay the death claims of the Home Circle which were due prior to the time of the merger.

Pfouts' testimony conflicted in several particulars with that of M. J. Frankel of Chicago and Miss Margaret McElvain of Auburn, both holders of notes paid by the Home Circle after the merger.

J. C. Smith and Charles E. Woodward, assistants to Attorney General Stead at Springfield, were before the grand jury today. Their testimony tended to corroborate Stead's claim that he never had official notification of the alleged crooked work in the case under scrutiny. Smith said he was present, representing the attorney general, at the conference held after the separation in which the officers of the two societies and representatives of the state insurance department participated and at which it was decided to bring no action against the officers of the Tribunes because they had refunded all the money wrongfully accepted.

Potter Defends His Course.

Springfield, Ill., June 15.—[Special.]—A report from State Insurance Superintendent Potter, bearing on the disclosures made in the grand jury investigation at Rock Island, was made public here today. Mr. Potter says he was not informed of the merger of the Fraternal Tribunes and the American Home Circle until long after the merger was brought about. It came to his notice, he says, through the fact that the Home Circle report upon the year's business was not filed. Inquiry showed that it had been reinsured by the Tribunes.

Mr. Potter says that the law requires the insurance commissioner to report any violation of the insurance laws to the attorney general within sixty days, but that this was impossible because he knew nothing of the merger until nearly four months after it was made.

About July 1, 1909, Mr. Potter says, he heard that an emergency fund of $5,000 belonging to the Tribunes had disappeared. He sent examiners to Rock Island; found the shortage existed, and demanded an explanation from the officials of the society. They promised that the money would be refunded. Mr. Potter says he informed the attorney general's department of the matter and advised against prosecution, saying that the recovery of the money would be made easier by delay. The money was refunded, he says, and, as the societies already had separated, he saw no need for prosecuting the leaders, to the peril of those who had money invested.

LILLY. The original, of course, but swamped by a multitude of substitutes. Ask for Lilly's.

TOILET PREPARATIONS.
The well-known makes are probably the most substituted of anything in a drug store. Ask for what you want by NAME "and don't you forget it!"

FACIAL CREAMS
range in price from 10 cents to $2.00! And some women use the 10 cent kind! About 50 cents will buy a good cream made by a reputable manufacturer.

SEA SALT
that never was nearer the "briny" than the "Unsalted Inland Sea" of Lake Michigan—reinforced by coarse rock salt!

CONSUMPTION CURES.
But then it matters not if these are substituted! There are NO consumption "cures." All are worse than worthless.

ASTHMA CURES
Same remarks as for consumption. If taken in time a doctor can cure you by prescribing pure air, outdoor life, exercise, dieting, etc.

EPILEPSY—BRIGHT'S DISEASE—DIABETES—LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA
There are alleged "cures" for these diseases by the hundreds, but no CURE. The U. S. Pure Drug Bureau denounces all such "cures" as frauds!

PEROXIDE OF HYDROGEN.
The State of Connecticut has a Pure Food Law that is enforced. A published report on frauds, of 280 pages, tells of tests of 15 samples of Peroxide, only one of which came up to the standard—Dioxogen. One of the worst was "A. D. S." Peroxide of Hydrogen!

SOMETHING ABOUT LYING ADS.

A Centrally located drug store advertises in street cars: "Last year we carefully filled 181,276 physicians' prescriptions" at "prices 30% to 40% lower."
Their prescription dated June 15, 1909, is No. 565,089
Their prescription dated June 14, 1910, is No. 642,077
Total for the year (no affidavit furnished!), 76,988
Is this merely a little eccentricity of exaggeration, or should it be characterized by "the shorter and uglier word"? It would seem to be an appropriate place for the application of the Latin proverb, "Falsus in uno, falsus in omnibus."

THE ECONOMICAL compounds more physicians' prescriptions than any other drug store ON EARTH, excepting Ferrein's Pharmacy, Moscow, Russia.

IT WOULD REQUIRE A PAMPHLET

of several hundred pages to tell of the fraudulent drugs and medicines exposed in the official reports of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Pure Drugs—most of them used by druggist substituters! Besides, the subject is too technical for the lay reader. The only safe rule for him is the demand voiced by the robust barytone in Fritzi Scheff's opera of "Mlle. Modiste"—

"I WANT WHAT I WANT WHEN I WANT IT"—BANG!

The "Bang" being on the nose of the rascally clerk who says you don't!"

Another effective, if slightly impolite, reply is that adopted by this maiden:

"Go to Father," she said, when I asked her to wed,
She knew that I knew that her father was dead,
And she knew that I knew what a life he had led,
And she knew that I knew what she meant when she said:
"Go to Father!"

THE music room in Ardmehne, the Hinsdale residence of Mrs. Gabriel Keene Wright, last night was the scene of its third wedding of interest within recent years at the marriage of Miss Maude Wright and Houston Isbel Hiatt. The other brides for whom the room has wedding memories are the present Mrs. Donald John Hutton of Mexico City, Mexico, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Glenn Williams of Adrian, Mich., her cousin, who served as matrons of honor and only attendants of the bride last night. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Horace Owen of New York, and the room was decorated for the occasion in white roses, iris, and gardenias.

Judson Hiatt served his brother as best man, the ushers being John Nash, Ben Green, W. J. Beattys, and the bride's brother, George Wright. Another brother, Gordon Wright, gave the bride in marriage.

The bride and groom will be at home the first and third Thursdays in September in Hinsdale.

The second wedding connecting the Dixon-Fisher families took place last night in the marriage of Miss Ethel Field Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius G. Fisher, 40 East Erie street, to William Warren Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dixon, 3131 Michigan avenue, which was celebrated at the family residence at 8:30 o'clock last night. The Rev. E. W. Oneal officiated. The previous wedding between the families was that of Miss Katherine Fisher to Homer Dixon a few years ago.

Only the immediate families were guests last night and the wedding party was small—Mrs. A. C. Foster of Denver and Alan C. Dixon being the only attendants. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs Dixon will be at home at the Chicago Beach hotel

A second north side wedding was that of Miss Mary Quan Copelin, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Thomas Edward Copelin, 607 Rush street, to John E. Youngberg, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents at 6:30 o'clock. The service, which was attended only by the families, was celebrated quietly owing to the illness of the bride's grandmother. After a short wedding trip to the east Mr. and Mrs. Youngberg will return to Chicago to reside.

The marriage of Miss Marion L. Stearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stearns, and Merton E. Grush of Boston took place last night at 8 o'clock at the family residence, 4316 Hazel avenue, the Rev. L. W. Brigham performing the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Henry Hepburn. Mr. and Mrs. Grush will be at home in Boston after Sept. 1.

The marriage of Miss Alice Adelaide Bentley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Bentley of Oak Park, to Elwood Seward Richardson of New York City took place at 8 o'clock last night at the family residence, the Rev. Albert R. Parker of Duluth officiating. The bride and groom will travel through Canada and will be at home in New York City after July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gilbert, 5121 Washington avenue, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Rowena Gilbert, to Truman Henry Miner, at a tea given yesterday by Miss Gilbert for Miss Harriet Condee, a bride of Saturday next.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan Fountenelle Moore, 5309 Kimbark avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Carleton Bonnell Perry, son of Mrs. Catherine B. Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Beale and Miss Helen Hayes are among the Chicagoans who will sail for France today.

Albert Averell English, son of Mrs. Gustavus F. English, is at the Henrotin Memorial hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis which took place a week ago. Mr. English returned from South Dakota in order that the family physician might perform the operation. Mrs. English, who has resided in Detroit since the death of her husband two years ago, came back to Chicago to be with her son during his illness.

The last meeting to be held by the Chicago Artists' society this year took the form of a farewell reception to John N. Vanderpoel last night at the Art institute. Mr. Vanderpoel, who has so long been identified with art schools and art interests, is to go to St. Louis, where he has accepted a position as instructor in the university at University City.

Mrs. Elber Black and daughter arrived at the Blackstone hotel yesterday afternoon from New York and Europe and will spend several days with friends here. While in England Mrs. Black was presented at court.

Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip and children of New York and Mrs. Waldo P. Adams of Scarborough-on-the-Hudson are also at the Blackstone.

The choir of the Church of Our Savior gave a musical comedy, "The Elopers," Tuesday evening. The proceeds will be used to give the choir an outing of two weeks at Pine Lake, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Jones and son, Arthur R. II., and Mrs. Jones' sister, Miss Forrester, leave Sunday for New York to sail for a three months' trip through Europe.

MRS. RALPH CLAYTON KENT

The wedding of Miss Alice Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Rensselaer Livingston, to Ralph Clayton Kent took place at 5 o'clock last night at the residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Kent, 1368 East Fifty-second street, the Rev. James Frothingham performing the ceremony. Miss Gertrude Livingston was the maid of honor and Miss Lillian Kent the bridesmaid. Lester Kent was the best man and Roy N. Lesch the groomsman. Mrs. Wilbur Starr played the wedding march. The bride is an accomplished violinist. Mr. Kent is assistant cashier of the Kenwood Trust and Savings bank. The future residence will be at 1368 East Forty-sixth street.

"The Cause of Diseases and Their Eradication by Sane Diet." The meeting will be open to the public.

The pupils of the Edna M. Reiner Dramatic school will give a recital at the Auditorium Recital hall this afternoon. The pupils will be assisted by Edith Adelaide Kien, pianist, and Joseph A. Marshall, vocalist. Miss Reiner lives at 2151 Sunnyside avenue.

The Cheltenham Improvement association will meet to discuss local improvements, in their rooms, 291 Seventy-ninth street, this evening.

John T. McCutcheon, cartoonist for THE TRIBUNE, will lecture on "Hunting in Africa" Monday evening, June 27, in the First Congregational church of Maywood. In a previous notice the meeting place had been given as the First Congregational church, Chicago.

Shipping Clerks' council will hold a meeting in Washington hall, 70 Adams street, tomorrow evening. Judge Kickham Scanlan will preside and the following will speak: J. F. Morton, Robert Kirkland, J. M. Blanchard, A. G. Jones, Lincoln Richards, and Joseph X. Calvin.

Pupils of the Ogden school will give an entertainment for the benefit of the school tomorrow evening and Saturday afternoon and evening. An operetta, "The Merry Company," will be presented, and folk songs by the older pupils and nature songs in costume by the younger students will complete the program.

The annual meeting of the Chicago Winfield Tuberculosis sanatorium will be held at the Stratford hotel on Tuesday, June 21. Election of directors will be held.

Frances Juvenile home, 3929 Indiana avenue, will hold an informal reception this afternoon and evening.

Former Senator William E. Mason will speak before the brotherhood of the Central Park Presbyterian church on "The Election of Senators by Direct Vote" tomorrow evening.

Deborah and Deborah juniors will hold their annual outing at Sans Souci park today.

A roll call of churches will take place at a meeting of the Laymen's Missionary movement at Association hall this evening.

Austin High School alumni reception will be held tomorrow evening in the high school building in charge of Walter H. Jacobs, '99.

Engaged, but Elope Anyway.

Dr. Munson L. Ward, 7008 North Clark street, and Miss Ethel E. Durbrow couldn't wait two weeks for the announced date of their wedding and yesterday eloped to Kenosha, where they were married by Judge Slosson in the County court. They returned to Chicago in the evening and the bride, who is a daughter of Preston Durbrow, went to the residence of her parents, 268 North Forty-fourth avenue.

The young woman and her mother later were found sitting on the porch.

"Is Mrs. Munsoner—rather, Mrs. Durbrow here?" was asked.

The mother looked at the young woman, who said in confusion: "I haven't told yet, but, you, see, there was not any objection to our marriage, but we didn't want to have all the fuss of a formal wedding and I always thought it would be fine to elope. The fact that the doctor was divorced seven years ago had nothing to do with the way we were married. We had decided that he should continue to call here as usual for the next two weeks and then we would tell that we were married."

Society at the Nation's Capital.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—[Special.]—Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Beekman Winthrop entertained at a dinner in honor of Miss Helen Taft and Robert Taft. Their other guests were Lieut. and Mrs. U. S. Grant III., Miss Marion Oliver, Miss Mary Southerland, Mr. Loman, and Lieut. Commander Leigh Palmer.

The marriage of Miss Adna Allens MacMurray, daughter of Mrs. MacMurray and the late Maj. Junius W. MacMurray, U. S. A., and Capt. James Parsons Robinson, coast artillery corps, took place this afternoon at St. Thomas' church, the Rev. R. F. Brooks of St. Paul's church, Albany, N. Y., officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John Van Antwerp MacMurray, second secretary of the American embassy at St. Petersburg.

Meetings and Entertainments.

What to eat and what not to eat to preserve perfect health will be discussed at a meeting of the Chicago Vegetarian society in the society room of the John Crerar library Saturday evening. J. Howard Moore will talk on "The Origin and Nature of Human Nature" and Dr. George J. Drews will continue his talks on

Opera for Chicago

THERE will be ten consecutive weeks of grand opera in Chicago, beginning Nov. 3 and ending Jan. 11. During this period a series of fifty subscription performances will be given on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings and Saturday matinée.

This was decided upon yesterday at a conference between Andreas Dippel, general manager of the Chicago Grand Opera company, and officials of the new organization. Those present in addition to Mr. Dippel were Charles G. Dawes, vice president of the company; John C. Shaffer, chairman of the Chicago executive board; and Charles L. Hutchinson, treasurer.

Mr. Dippel made a report to the Chicago officials of the results of his work in behalf of the company during his absence in the east and in Europe. More than forty singers have been secured and working agreements have been made with the Metropolitan and the Boston Opera companies whereby an interchange of artists, scenery, and costumes will be made when desirable.

The retirement of Oscar Hammerstein from the operatic field, Mr. Dippel said, made it possible not only to engage a number of the impresario's most prominent artists but to obtain the producing rights of the foremost novelties, especially of the French school, which hitherto were owned exclusively by him.

Under the agreement concluded with Mr. Hammerstein the Chicago Grand Opera company purchased the rights, scenery, and costumes of the Manhattan and Philadelphia opera houses for a répertoire of about forty operas. By adding the scenery and costumes of the Auditorium, Mr. Dippel said, it will be possible to offer in Chicago from the start scenically well balanced productions of the entire répertoire.

Chicago patrons of grand opera, he added, are assured of hearing the world's greatest artists. The general musical director of the company will be Cleofonte Campanini, at present director at Covent Garden, London, with whom negotiations are completed. As stage director Mr. Dippel obtained the services of Fernand Almans, formerly regisseur general of the royal opera, Covent Garden, and a member of the staff of Maurice Grau, New York.

Following are the artists engaged for the opening season:

Sopranos—Nellie Melba, Johanna Gadski, Emma Kousnietzoff, Frances Alda, Jane Osborn-Hannah, Marguerita Sylva, Lillian Grenville, Carolina White, Alice Zeppilli, Maria Roberto, Mabel Riegelmann, Mme. Scarfoli, and Mme. Severini.

Mezzo sopranos—Eleanore de Cisneros, Tina di Angelo, and Mme. Giaconia.

Tenors—Charles Dalmores, Amadeo Bassi, Nicola Zerola, John McCormack, Paul Warnery, Francesco Daddi, Dante Zucchi, and Sig. Venturini.

Baritones—Maurice Renaud, Mario Sammarco, Hector Dufranne, and Nicolo Fossetta.

Bassos—Nazareno de Angelis, Berardo Berardi, Vittorio Arimondi, F. Gianoli-Galletti, Pompilio Malatesta, and Michele Sampieri.

It is expected that arrangements will be made with the Metropolitan Opera company for the appearances of Geraldine Farrar, Enrico Caruso, Leo Slezak, Herman Jadlcwker, Antonio Scotti, and other artists.

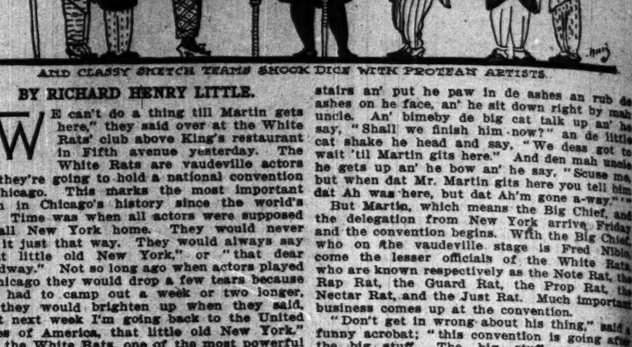
From the Boston Opera company the following artists will appear: Lydia Lipkowska, Carmen Melis, Florencio Constantino, and George Baklanoff.

A number of novelties are planned. Following the New York première on Dec. 6 Chicago patrons will hear Puccini's latest work, "The Girl from the Golden West," Richard Strauss' "Salome," Massenet's "Thais," "The Juggler of Notre Dame," Debussy's "Pelleas and Melisande," Charpentier's "Louise," and Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman."

It was decided to give no performances on Friday and Saturday evenings in order not to come into competition with the Theodore Thomas orchestra. A meeting of the executive board of the company will be held tomorrow to make further arrangements. Alterations of the Auditorium will be started soon.

At the conclusion of the local season the Chicago opera company will be transferred to Philadelphia, where it will present a season of like duration. During the Philadelphia season the Chicago company will present weekly performances of French opera at the Metropolitan Opera house in New York.

Round about Chicago.



AND CLASSY SKETCH TEAMS SHOOK DICE WITH PROTEAN ARTISTS.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

"WE can't do a thing till Martin gets here," they said over at the White Rats' club above King's restaurant in Fifth avenue yesterday. The White Rats are vaudeville actors and they're going to hold a national convention in Chicago. This marks the most important epoch in Chicago's history since the world's fair. Time was when all actors were supposed to call New York home. They would never said it just that way. They would always say "that little old New York," or "that dear Broadway." Not so long ago when actors played in Chicago they would drop a few tears because they had to camp out a week or two longer, but they would brighten up when they said, "But next week I'm going back to the United States of America, that little old New York." Now the White Rats, one of the most powerful organizations of stage people in the world, selects Chicago, 800 miles from Broadway, as the place to hold its convention. Thus westward the course of civilization takes its way.

It had been announced that the convention would begin today, and yesterday afternoon the club rooms in Fifth avenue were crowded with musical acts, rube specialties, trick bicycle numbers, and tramp jugglers. Refined song and dance acts played pool with comedy acrobats, and classy sketch teams shook dice for the cigars with celebrated protean artists. But the man in charge of the White Rats' headquarters told everybody yesterday that the convention would not open until Friday.

"We can't do a thing till Martin gets here."

All the White Rats understood this, and seemed willing to wait for Mr. Martin. It was surmised that this Martin person was a man of great distinction in the White Rats, probably the "Most High and Greatly Exalted Rat-Rat," or whatever the principal official of the organization is called. Inquiry was made of an eccentric singing comedian who was exchanging hard luck stories with a humorous harmonist.

"Aw, he's kiddin'," said the eccentric singing comedian. "Well, not exactly kiddin', either. He means that the Big Chief won't get here until Friday. He's coming with the delegation from little old New York. For we can't do a thing till Martin gets here. Say, honest, hain't you wise to that? Listen. That's a story that Bert Williams has been telling in vaudeville. He says, 'Mah uncle was a cirkit ridah down in Tennessee. Used to ride all ovah the cirkit dess a-preachin'. An' one night when it was a-rainin' and a-snowin' and a-blowin' mah uncle he dun stop at a house and wanted to go in an' git dry and git sumthin' to eat, and the man what come to the doah, he say dere's dess about fifteen people in his fambly an' he kain't take mah uncle in. But de man say, "I own dat little house down in de valley. It's a better house dan dis one and dar's a big fiahplace dar, an' wood foh a fiah, an' things to eat. Ah'd live dar myself, but Ah'm snooperanishes, foh dat place am hanted.'

"'An' mah uncle he say he hain't afeared o' spooks 'cause he's got de gospels wid 'im. So he go to de house an' he make a big fiah an' he sit down in front of de fiah an' read outten de gospels, an' bimeby a little teeny cat come walkin' down de stairs an' walk right down to de fiah an' put he lill paw in de ashes an' rub all ovah he face and den he sit down right by mah uncle. An' den annudder cat ocme awalkin' down de stairs an' put he paw in de ashes an' rub de ashes on he face. An' den de second cat, all a-suddenlike, speak right up and say, "Shall we finish him now?" An' de little cat he talk right out an' say, "No, I guess we'd bettah wait till Martin gits here." Mah uncle he scared stiff, but he stay right dar, an' den annudder cat, a great big cat, walk down de stairs an' put he paw in de ashes an rub de ashes on he face, an' he sit down right by mah uncle. An' bimeby de big cat talk up an' he say, "Shall we finish him now?" an de little cat shake he head and say, "We deas got to wait 'til Martin gits here." And den mah uncle he gets up an' he bow an' he say, "Scuse me, but when dat Mr. Martin gits here you tell him dat Ah was here, but dat Ah'm gone a-way.'"

But Martin, which means the Big Chief, and who on the vaudeville stage is Fred Niblo, and the convention begins. With the Big Chief come the lesser officials of the White Rats, who are known respectively as the Note Rat, the Rap Rat, the Guard Rat, the Prop Rat, the Nectar Rat, and the Just Rat. Much important business comes up at the convention.

"Don't get in wrong about his thing," said a funny acrobat; "this convention is going after the big stuff. The big stuff, see—serious, y'understand. All the joke business for the stage, but up here in the convention, nix on the comedy lines. People on the outside think a convention of vaudeville actors is a big scream from start to finish. Wait till Martin gets here. Then from the time the curtain goes up to the minute it comes down everybody turning back somersaults in the air, a-working right over the net.

"People who sit out in front think it's the big laugh with us all the time. They think that all we'll do at this convention thing will be to pass a law that every vaudeville actor comes on the stage at half past 3 o'clock and that all salaries shall be two hundred a week and over. Any manager that pays less to be hung in front of his own opera house. Nothing like that. We've got to decide if we're going to have White Ratesses—the vaudeville woman want to join.

"Then we're going to take up booking agents. The actor gets the worst end of it now. He gets the double cross and puts up a good fat slice of his salary to the agents. We've got to make recommendations about dressing rooms and hotels and a lot of things. No, we ain't going to pass any laws asking state legislatures to make it ten years in the penitentiary for stealing jokes or swiping somebody else's act. Who told you that? He was stalling you. This thing is serious. You wait till Martin gets here. You see."

"NO," SAID THE LITTLE CAT, "WE DESS GOT TO WAIT TILL MARTIN GITS HIT

The Wide, Wide World.

Tour of Calabrian Towns in Postal Automobile.

BY GEORGE A. DORSEY, PH. D., LL. D.

[Copyright: 1910: By The Tribune Company.]

COSENZA, Calabria, Italy, April 19.—This is the tale of an automobile ride—sixty miles through the homes of emigrants. It has been a memorable ride, a veritable cinematograph panorama, with picturesque hills and quaint towns; in every one of them I have found men who speak English and who know Ellis island.

The railroad in South Italy is a great convenience. But for the most part, it is worse than useless in bringing you to the doorstep of towns. The best the railway does, as a rule, is to deposit you at the foot of a hill; the town is miles up or miles off. But the old stage road takes us straight through towns. The automobile, part of the overland mail service, makes the trip once a day each way between Catanzaro and Cosenza. It is a big, powerful machine with comfortable accommodation for twelve passengers.

We are started out in Catanzaro by a crowd of idlers, including the usual beggars and boys on the lookout for cigarets. In a businesslike fashion, we hustle right into the country, winding, twisting and turning, cork-screwing and zigzagging around steep hills, across deep valleys, high up over crests, over fine stone-arched bridges. Often the road is hewn from solid rock; in other places, it is supported by lofty retaining walls of substantial masonry. The inner side of the road for miles is protected by walls of stone and troughs which carry off the water and prevent erosion. Nearly all of the time we are at a considerable elevation, once in a snowstorm, nearly always in sight of snow-capped peaks.

On the Snow Capped Peaks.

On the crests wonderful panoramas are unfolded, covering miles of rolling country nearly all under cultivation and often including a view of both seas. Once we get a sight of Mount Botte Donato, its top a solid snow field, for it is 6,300 feet high and the loftiest peak in the Sila mountains, once famous for brigands. We even pass the last stand of the brigands. I had planned to go across these mountains to San Giovanni, famous for its situation and the number of its emigrants. But there are six feet of snow on the pass which will not disappear for another month.

Just out of Catanzaro we wind along a steep hill covered with cactus, now white with drying clothes of the town's wash. We pass carts drawn by fine silver gray oxen and heavier carts drawn by three horses; pack mules with curious pack saddles, laden with stone; burros with little bundles of firewood, in charge of women; little wheat fields, with wheat a foot high, and bean fields in blossom. The meadows are covered with flowers, dandelions and marguerites. There are patches of blackberry bushes along the roadway.

American Citizen in Tiriolo.

From afar a gray rock looms up, high above the surrounding country, its summit crowned with the ruins of a castle and a tower. On the slope of its base is Tiriolo. While the mail bags are being changed I have seven minutes' fun. As soon as I am recognized men gather around me. Within three minutes, seventeen of them. All have been in America. They represent Boston, New York, Brooklyn, Scranton, Carbondale, and Des Moines. One was a bricklayer, another a mason, another a miner, and one was a fireman on the railroad. He showed me his union ticket and a tiny silver monkey wrench on his watch chain. The New Yorker lived on Grand street, but he tells me that the favorite streets for Tiriolo are Mulberry and Hester. Two thousand of this town know the United States. Four hundred are in New York. Many families have settled in Pennsylvania. There are now in Tiriolo between five and six hundred who have been there.

"Any from this town citizens of the United States?" "I am one," exclaimed a good looking man. His home is Archibald, Pa., where he has lived nine years. He has been here six months on a visit. He returns next week. A young man with a white collar and good clothes tells me that he has taken out his "first papers." He came home the other day for a two months' visit.

It would have taken hours in Sicily to get this information. They have accepted me without a moment's suspicion and have been eager to talk.

Then we come to Soveria Mannelli. Thirty minutes for dinner. The street is muddy and lined with houses, decaying except where American dollars have patched them up. A column to Garibaldi commemorates his famous march through Calabria. The so-called restaurant is inconceivably picturesque—and equally primitive. The front room is a bottled-goods shop. Behind is the so-called dining room, one end opening upon a carriage shed. Here is a poor pine board table and rough benches. Behind is the kitchen, with an open hearth fireplace and a groove in the wall instead of a chimney. In the rear of the kitchen is an enormous bread oven, twelve by fifteen feet. Behind the oven is the stable. As we shiver around the fire, the old woman boils eggs and prepares our meal of home-made sausage, dried olives, and delicious dried figs with nuts.

My chief interest was in a tall, sallow young man, with curly, bushy, black hair—a sure sign of negro blood—who spent three months in Boston and fifteen months in Toronto. He is a carpenter by trade. He is suspicious and refuses to talk. He says he returned because he was afraid of his cousin who always robbed him of his wages. From another man, who lived two (and a half months in Chicago and three years in New York, I learned that one-third of the people of Cosenza are now in the United States. Even the driver of the stage between here and Nicosia, a tall, fine looking young fellow, goes to New York next month. The proprietor of the inn spent a month in New York, while en route to Pittsburg with his daughter, who went to join her brother. He still wears earrings. He says that in a certain section of Mulberry street he felt quite at home.

While we were munching our dried olives and sausage, one of the four passengers displayed his gun, whereupon it appeared that all of the through passengers carried guns. My guide and I were the only unarmed men of the party. Just before leaving I met a wrinkled old man who looked as if he had never even dreamed of America. More in fun, I asked him in English how he liked New York. He said he preferred Pittsburg, where he went in '84.

Thirty minutes was not enough to dig deeply into the town, but enough to show that the side streets are characteristically narrow and malodorously foul. The chauffeur blows his weird quadruple horn and on we go. More towns, with but a minute's pause—and still others back on the hills.

Next two minutes at Corace, with a talk with a blue-eyed husky man, slouch hat, and store clothes. He worked in a Pennsylvania coal mine, and with his savings bought a house and a tiny field. Four men have come up, three of them with American experience, one just home from New York, the fourth about to leave.

More towns, and then we descend into the Maleto valley, with fine olive groves and splendid chestnut forests on the hills. At the foot of Carpansano we pause a minute to throw off the mail. There are seven men in sight. Five have been in the United States. They tell me five hundred from this town are in New York. A few are in Chicago. "Why?" "No good here."

On again through apple orchards in blossom. Towns and cultivation everywhere. If Oregon were cultivated like this and as densely populated, it would support twenty million. Girls and goats by the roadside. We come to Marzi, with new two-story houses, built with American money and fifteen men leaving this month—and more to follow. Next is Rogliano, with lots of new houses, because a thousand from this town have emigrated. Many have come back. There is just time to exchange greetings with a barber, who worked three and a half years on Twenty-second street, New York. The main street is fairly paved with cobbles, but from it lead dark, dirty, foul lanes and covered passageways. Boys throw stones at the automobile.

On again, past women working in the bean fields and others carrying faggots on their heads. Birch trees and olive groves. We climb higher. I can count eighteen towns from one stop. Twisting, turning and winding, we descend to a river valley and are in the ancient city of Cosenza.

As Ed. Howe Sees Life.

[From the Atchison Globe.]

There is this to be said to the credit of prize-fighters: They don't try to break into the chautauquas.

It is proposed to quit calling fools by that harsh sounding name, and refer to them as "Democrats." Democrats always do the wrong thing at the right time; so do fools.

An Atchison man was sick, and for the seventeenth time, just as he was falling off to sleep, his wife jerked his pillow from under his head and shook it, and put it back. "The neighbors," she explained, "are going to have a hard time beating my record; I have shaken your pillow just 314 times since yesterday morning, and intend before the week is out to wear it out. No woman in this neighborhood ever wore out a pillow shaking it when her husband lay sick."

What has become of that old fashioned sentiment which resulted in leaving the possessions of the dead just as the dead left them? "This was father's room," a woman would say in those days, showing a guest a room that looked dirty and neglected. "Everything is just as he left it thirty years ago. Dear father! The poor man was only 80 when he died, and I like to keep everything just as he left it last."

In this fat country everyone should earn a little surplus. What do you do with your surplus? Do you invest it in a home, or do you invest it in beer? This is a free country, and the man who invests his surplus earnings in beer is within his rights, but we sincerely wish something could be done to prevent his getting so much misplaced sympathy. The man who saves his surplus earnings and invests them in a home or in a place in which to do business gives employment to others and assists in making the country prosperous, but he is abused as though he were a suspicious character.

In passing out the bouquets there should be large and handsome ones, with ribbon sash attached, for the modern stepmother. Some years ago there was a theory that stepmothers made their charges sleep all night in a dark cellar, fed them on bread and water, and beat them, and in some cases where the imaginations of the neighbors recognized no speed limit it was said the little ones wore ball and chains. None of that talk these days. The modern stepmother is as kind as a mother and often so much wiser, not being blinded by too much maternal love, and therefore lacking judgment that cases are told where children fare as well with father's second wife as with his first.

MR. SHOWEMHOW HANGS A PICTURE.

Woman and Her Interests.

Just Between Us Girls.

BY SISTER MARY.

IT is not what others say about a woman that creates gossip, but what she tattles about herself.

The woman who can keep silent concerning her own affairs possesses gold, genuine eighteen carats strong.

But usually for the ordinary woman to endeavor to keep from telling her business is to invite an early death. By the time that she gets so that she can keep still she is ready to take her flight to the realms of the angels.

And yet if women would realise it there are moments when the most impressive kind of talk is silence—emphatically times for brilliant flashes of silence.

There are different kinds of talkers, but even the best, bores one to the verge of suicide at times.

To begin with, there is the drawly lady. You know her, don't you?

She is the one that takes hours and hours to put a story on its way—and there is the drawly man who is equally as bad, or even worse.

Then comes the giggly girl, who punctuates her conversational essays with snickers and titters.

But by far the worst is the middle aged dame who giggles and makes a monkey of herself generally.

She firmly believes that she is a kittenish little thing yet, and poor, dear, afflicted creature, she has the notion that chatter is wit—and talk means evidence of brains.

Heaven forbid that such fate should one day be yours or mine.

There is no telling what cruel gifts old age may bring, wrinkles, bitterness, and snowy tops, but lets all of us get down on our knees every night and pray with all our might that we may escape the babbling habit.

Usually the talky lady goes under full head of steam. Some one in some sad moment has told her that she is vivacious and that her conversation is a joy to her friends (there are men, too, just as bad as she is). From that time henceforth and forever she has but one ambition and that is to talk.

O, my! O, my!

Frequently the woman is downright rude. You or I or anybody else cannot meekly express the opinion that the weather is no better than it should be before having our words choked to death before they are uttered.

After hours of this sort of thing you feel yourself boiling, your fists insist on getting up close and tight together with your thumb carefully covered with all your fingers, and you have a mad, inhuman impulse stirring somewhere in your shirtwaist and you want to say Woman! Woman! in a tragic tone as if you were appealing to the authorities for aid and just damages.

It has always been my opinion that when women become separated from the talk habit and the vanity bug they will far surpass men. That is not saying that there are not plenty of men afflicted with the same faults—mental and verbal ones combined, and usually selfishness added to them.

Sometimes it seems to me that each one of us should stop right still, draw a big, deep, healthy breath, and take a little bit of relaxation. In the rush away life of today even the children talk excitedly of this engagement and that and plan their days for weeks ahead.

What all of us need is more quiet moments, more books. Few of us have half enough time to read. All of us need an hour or so to think carefully over our affairs. Life is a good deal like a battlefield and the general who wins is the one who lays out his plans beforehand.

Our enemies are the worries and trials of everyday life, and they down us or we down them according to the mental attitude which directs our affairs.

Then take the mad rush after money and social position and the various other ambitions that are more or less useless. After all the only ambition that is worth while is the ambition to love and serve those who are dear to us and to mark the milestones of our life with mental progress.

Mock Turtle Soup.
Calf's Head au Gratin, Brain Sauce.
Savory Rice.
Apple Snow. Bread and Butter.
Drip coffee.

MOCK TURTLE SOUP.—One large calf's head. Have the butcher crack the head in half lengthwise, remove the eyes and front portion of jaw and teeth. Remove and reserve the brains. Wash the head thoroughly in cold water. Pour boiling water through the nose and throat passages until perfectly clean. Wash and scrape out the ears carefully. Then rinse again in cold water. The head must be perfectly sweet and clean before putting to cook. Put in a soup kettle with three quarts of cold water over a moderate fire. When it comes to a good boil skim, then keep at a simmering point the remainder of the time. In fifteen minutes move skim again. Add one bay leaf, one small onion, one-third cupful of diced carrot, six allspice berries, two sprigs of thyme, and a teaspoonful of celery salt. Let simmer one and one-half hours. Add one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt and six peppercorns. Let simmer one hour more, or until the meat becomes tender. Remove the head, take the meat from the bones, skin the tongue and set aside. Return the bones to the liquid and simmer until the liquid is reduced to three pints, then strain and cool—may be left over night if more convenient. Remove fat, then heat the soup. Melt one tablespoonful of butter, add one tablespoonful of flour and stir until nicely browned, not burned. By degrees add one quart of the boiling hot soup, stirring constantly. Add one-half cupful of meat cut in small cubes—the cheek will be best for this—one even teaspoonful of tomato catsup or Worcestershire sauce, one hard boiled egg chopped, one-half lemon sliced thin, and one sprig of parsley chopped fine. Serve at once.

Calf's Head au Gratin.—Cut the meat taken from the calf's head in small blocks as nearly of a size as possible. Sprinkle lightly with one-third teaspoonful of salt and white pepper. Heat the pint of soup stock left, adding one tablespoonful of mushroom catsup, one heaping tablespoonful of lightly browned flour blended with a little cold stock reserved for the purpose, and a teaspoonful of onion grated. Butter a baking dish, place a layer of the calf's head in the bottom, sprinkle with a pinch of finely minced parsley and a few dots of butter, pour on one-half cupful of the stock, lay in the remaining calf's head, another pinch of parsley, then cover with two tablespoonfuls of grated bread and cracker crumbs mixed. Add another half cupful of stock, dot with butter, sprinkle with one tablespoonful of grated cheese mixed with a saltspoonful of dry mustard. Bake one to fifteen minutes in a brisk oven. It should be a clear, crisp brown on the surface. Serve with a sauce made of the remaining cupful of the stock and the brains.

Brain Sauce.—Prepare the brains taken from the calf's head by first washing in cold water. Then soak in cold water to cover with a tablespoonful of vinegar and a teaspoonful of salt for twenty minutes. Drain, tie in a bit of cheesecloth and put in the soup after the meat has been removed. Simmer from fifteen to twenty minutes; remove as soon as firm. Drain into cold water to whiten them. Drain. When cold draw off the fibers that can be easily removed. Cut in small cubes. Heat in the cupful of sauce left from the gratin dish, add a dash of salt and pepper and the juice of half a sour orange or a lemon and a pinch of minced parsley. Serve hot in a fancy bowl.

If preferred, the calf's head may be added to heated sauce and served as a salmi in a border of rice. In this case the brains also may be reserved to serve with tomato sauce. Cut in slices, flour, and fry both brains and tongue and surround with stewed kidney beans, accompanied by the tomato sauce, in a pretty bowl.

(The other recipes, and the page which tells exactly how to serve this dinner down to the minutest detail, laying the cloth, placing the silver, etc., are omitted because of lack of space. For the recipe for Savory Rice, see article on that cosmopolitan cereal.)

TWO WILL RETIRE FROM HIGH COURT

Supreme Justices Moody and Harlan Soon to Make Request for Relief.

GREAT TASKS NOW FACED.

Standard Oil and Tobacco Trust Cases Must Be Decided in the Near Future.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—[Special.]—There probably will be two retirements of associate justices of the United States Supreme court within a few months.

In compliance with the request of William Henry Moody of Massachusetts, a bill was introduced in the two houses of congress today granting him the salary of his office provided he shall resign within six months.

Judge J. S. Harlan of Chicago, member of the interstate commerce commission, probably will be appointed a circuit judge upon the commerce court which will be created by the pending railroad legislation. If his appointment be made, Mr. Harlan's father, John Marshall Harlan, will retire as associate justice of the Supreme court.

To one of these vacancies, probably that which the resignation of Associate Justice Moody will cause, it is expected that President Taft will carry out his cherished purpose to appoint Lloyd W. Bowers of Chicago, now solicitor general of the United States. Attorney General George W. Wickersham and Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson are considered for the other vacancy.

Court Really Makes Law.

The introduction of new material into the Supreme bench is of the highest importance to the country. The men who go on that august tribunal shape the destiny of the country to as great an extent as any other officials of the government, not excluding the president. It has been truly said that the Supreme court makes the laws, for it is the interpretation of the statutes passed by congress which determines their efficiency or inefficiency.

The resignation of Associate Justice Moody is not unexpected. He has been suffering from a serious attack of rheumatism for more than a year, and at one time his life was despaired of. His absence from Washington has worried him greatly because there were numerous important cases upon which, it is believed, he had the deciding vote. It will be recalled that the Supreme court ordered a rehearing in the corporation tax case, indicating that the eight members sitting were evenly divided.

The friends of Mr. Moody have concluded that if he should resign he would rapidly recover. The associate justice therefore wrote to Senator Lodge and Representative Gillett, urging them to pass a law pensioning him at his present salary on condition that he resign. The two introduced today an appropriation bill to this effect in the senate and house.

Follows Hunt Case Precedent.

A precedent exists for the action by congress in the case of Mr. Moody. In 1881 Associate Justice Ward Hunt became so seriously ill that he could not attend to his duties. He had not reached the retiring age, nor had he served the requisite ten years, but congress passed a bill permitting him to resign within thirty days and providing that he enjoy the pension for the rest of his life.

Mr. Moody, under the bill introduced today, will continue to receive the salary he now is paid, $12,500 a year. If congress should fail to act in accordance with his wish, he would continue as an active member of the bench, and, of course, would receive his pay exactly as any other justice of the court.

It is of the highest importance that the Supreme bench shall have a full membership, particularly at this time when so many important cases are pending. The court has ordered a reargument of the Standard Oil and tobacco trust cases and has fixed the date in November next. The court also has ordered a reargument of the corporation tax case. The president realizes the need of a full bench to pass upon the vital questions which have been raised. It may be expected, therefore, that he will lose no time in filling the vacancies as they occur.

For some time the president has had in mind the appointment of Mr. Bowers to the Supreme bench. He carefully considered the advisability of such action when Associate Justice Peckham died last October. He decided finally, however, in favor of Horace H. Lurton of Tennessee.

Many Changes Are Expected.

Before Mr. Taft entered the White House it was generally understood that during his administration a radical reorganization of the personnel of the Supreme court would occur during his administration. Chief Justice Fuller will be 78 years of age next February. He has filled the office since 1888. Rumors have been in circulation that he would retire, but these have been dispelled by the way in which he has faithfully discharged his important duties. From the present indications it looks as if within the next two years the Supreme court will be made up as follows:

Chief justice, Charles E. Hughes.
Associate justice, Edward D. White.
Associate justice, Joseph McKenna.
Associate justice, Oliver W. Holmes.
Associate justice, William R. Day.
Associate justice, Horace H. Lurton.
Associate justice, Lloyd W. Bowers.

This would leave two vacancies. If it is desired by Mr. Taft he could transfer both Mr. Wickersham and Mr. Dickinson to the Supreme bench. It has been generally believed in Washington that when Mr. Fuller goes off the bench Hughes will be promoted to the presiding judgeship.

SENATE PASSES LAND BILL

Sum of $30,000,000 Provided to Complete Irrigation Plan.

TWO BIG POINTS LOST.

Withdrawals of Alaska Coal and Friar Tracts Defeated.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—With $30,000,000 provided for the completion of irrigation projects and various other amendments, the house bill authorizing the withdrawal of public lands by the president passed the senate today. It is one of the measures advocated in President Taft's legislative program.

Among the more important amendments rejected was one by Senator Beveridge withdrawing from entry the coal lands of Alaska and another by Senator Gore bringing the friar lands of the Philippines within the operation of the general land laws of those islands.

As soon as the bill was taken up a vote was ordered on the Carter amendment authorizing the issuance of $30,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness for irrigation. The amendment was accepted, Senators Burton, Gallinger, and Kean casting the only negative votes out of a total of sixty.

Shot Given to Pinchot.

Mr. Dixon presented an amendment authorizing the appointment of a conservation commission of fifteen men. Heyburn sought to have the amendment changed to provide that all the members should be selected from west of the one hundredth meridian.

"In my prophetic mind I see Mr. Gifford Pinchot at the head of the commission," he said. "We want no such commission, no such masters."

Mr. Gallinger agreed with Mr. Heyburn that there should be no commission, and said that "if the misfortune overtakes us of having at the head of the commission the gentleman mentioned, I can see nothing but trouble ahead." The amendment was withdrawn.

The amendment extending the public land laws of the Philippines to the friar lands was voted down, 20 to 33. In a speech in support of his amendment Mr. Gore criticised a decision of the attorney general authorizing the acquisition of more of the Philippine lands than of other lands, saying that "no first class lawyer other than the attorney general would have rendered such a decision."

Fails to Restrict Miners.

Mr. Burton presented an amendment the effect of which would have been to restrict mining and prospecting rights on withdrawn lands, but it was defeated. Mr. Burton also was unsuccessful in an effort to strike out the word "temporary" as defining the proposed withdrawals.

Presenting an amendment authorizing the withdrawal of the coal lands in Alaska and providing for their lease, Senator Beveridge said that if the principle included in the amendment had been adopted in the United States fifty years ago sufficient returns would have been insured to pay off the national debt and pay most of the taxes of the people.

PLAN NEW BATTLE UPON 'UNCLE JOE'

Insurgents Will Try to Make a Further Cut in Power in This Session.

REGULARS RUN TO COVER.

Cannon Angry at Their Apparent Plans to Desert from His Support.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., June 15.—[Special.]—With the insurgent Republicans plotting to divest Speaker Cannon of more of his power, with the regulars seeking to avert the storm, and with the Democrats campaigning for the big share of the credit, it is evident that the session of congress will not end until a further radical revision of the rules is accomplished. The prospect is that Cannon will be deprived of his power to kill legislation in the committees.

The insurgents today worked on a rule giving the house the power to call back from any committee any bill on which the committee had failed to act and also to take up any bill reported by a committee but buried under pending legislation.

When the regulars heard that the insurgents had forty-seven members signed up to put through this slap at the speaker they hastened to plan means of averting another disaster such as they suffered when the revolutionists threw the speaker off the rules committee. As a result the rules committee will give a hearing tomorrow on a proposition of amending the rules along the lines suggested by the insurgents and Democrats.

Cannon Angry with Every One.

The only person not satisfied wih this prospect is Speaker Cannon. It made him angry to think that the insurgents had got together enough votes to humiliate him, but it made him more angry when he found that his henchmen were seeking to save themselves by throwing him overboard.

When the insurgents met it was disclosed that they had at least forty-seven and possibly fifty-five Republicans pledged to support the move for the new rule. The proposition of expelling Cannon from the speakership was discussed, but this appeared to be favored only by the extreme radicals.

The principal resolution debated was that introduced in the house today by Representative Madison, which provides that after a bill has been in committee forty days without action or has been reported by a committee for twenty-one days, twenty-five members may cause the bill to be placed on the calendar for consideration under a suspension of the rules. The insurgent caucus decided that a rule should be drafted with this resolution as a basis, but they have not decided when they will spring it on the house.

Regulars Plan to Dodge.

In the meantime the Democrats were busy with their plans for putting through a similar rule. Representative Sherley of Kentucky has pending a resolution providing that any member may petition for the discharge of the rules committee from consideration of any resolution upon which it has failed to act, and that the house shall vote on such petitions at stated times. At a conference of the Democratic leaders this resolution was broadened to provide for the discharge of any committee that had failed to act on a bill, and in this form it was introduced by Representative Champ Clark.

The regulars were cognizant of these maneuvers and late in the afternoon they announced that the rules committee would hold a hearing tomorrow on all of these propositions. It was intimated that the committee would frame a rule based on these resolutions and report it to the house as a regular Republican measure.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the members of the rules committee have seen a great white light. Dalzell, Smith of Iowa, and Henry Sherman Boutell of Chicago apparently are ready to desert Cannon to save themselves.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—The public land withdrawal bill was passed today by the senate after a debate upon that measure which covered the entire session. Just before adjournment the statehood bill was laid before the senate as the unfinished business, thus insuring its consideration and probably its passage during the present session.

The land bill was so amended as to provide for the issuance of $30,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness with which to complete irrigation projects already in course of construction.

HOUSE.

The bill providing for a new civil government for Porto Rico was passed by the house. This measure is planned to take the place of the Foraker act, under which the island is now governed. It provides for a more representative government than is administered under the present law.

New Treatment for the Hair

The air is full of floating dust, dirt and disease germs, which settle in the hair and scalp. The natural oil on your head holds the dust fast, and in a short time you have dandruff and scalp troubles. The pores in your scalp are stopped up, the hair roots get no nourishment, and then your hair begins to fall out. Cleanliness is the one and only thing needed. You don't need tonics, renewers, invigorators or hair growers. You need Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation. It is made of refined Soap, Cochin Cocoanut Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerin and Salicylic Acid. There are no better things than these known for cleansing the hair and scalp. Tubes, 25c; jars, 50c.

What! A Mission Range!

"Yes, isn't it a beauty? I bought it to harmonize with the rest of my furniture, you know.

"There isn't anything that fills my idea of beauty quite as well as mission design.

"You will notice, too, that this range is one of the popular 'Double Oven Cabinets.'

"The ovens are high enough to be reached without stooping. Both ovens are heated, too, with one and the same flame.

"This feature gives me an opportunity to try the scheme of cooking the vegetables in the upper oven with the same heat that cooks the meat in the lower oven.

"Good authorities say this plan saves all the flavor and sends the odor up the flue pipe.

"The five top burners include one giant burner, three medium burners and one simmering burner—I will use the latter one a lot—for the cheaper meats that require several hours' slow cooking to make them tender.

"In short, I think this new mission range is going to save me considerable time and money and make my kitchen hours far more agreeable."

The Mission stove can be examined at any of the Gas Company's stores. They are sold on monthly payments if you like—delivered and connected FREE.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

E. Meriden Walsh, eminent soloist, won the first game of the Athletics' series here yesterday, not only unaided, but in the face of some of the worst support ever handed out to a pitcher in any league, compelling him to work fourteen innings before his own clean smash, his second of the day, brought him a 4 to 3 victory.

Big Ed pitched a shutout battle and should have had the verdict 3 to 0 in nine rounds. The three runs which enabled the Mackmen to tie it up were handed them. Cap Zeider, who apparently was after a world's record for boots, gave the enemy two of their tallies and a passed ball was responsible for the other. But in spite of the tremendous handicap put upon him the big fellow never turned a hair, holding back the visitors for round after round of overtime until Dame Fortune gave him the chance to win his own battle in the last half of the fourteenth—which he certainly did.

Zeider's Playing a Feature.

Zeider's exhibition was one of the game's features. Rollie started missing them in the first inning, and from then on seemed able to get only the hard ones. He blew almost every easy chance that came his way, but nailed several tough ones, starting a double play once and killing off a safe hit later on when to have missed either probably would have finished the game in Philadelphia's favor. P. Dougherty caught the fever and misjudged a fly which nearly lost the game.

George Browne made his bow in a Sox uniform, although it was not his first appearance as a Chicagoan. It required a few innings for him to get used to new surroundings, but before the battle was over he had tried to lead a rally in the thirteenth with a safe hit and had blocked off a budding Athletic run by a double play in the fourteenth, resulting from his own running catch of a low line drive in the gloaming.

The victory was marred by a fuss in the final half, when Blackburne kicked himself out of the game over a decision by Umpire Dineen. The situation was getting desperate, and Lena apparently lost his head because of the overwork to which he has been subject of late.

Purtell Opens Final Round.

Purtell paved the road to victory in that session by working Morgan for a pass. Blackburne shoved a bunt toward third close to the foul line and Baker, tearing in, booted it. The ball struck fair just inside, but the arbitrator said it shot across the line just before Baker touched it and that made a foul of it. Blackburne, who had reached first, roared like a bear cat and was ordered out of the game. While Manager Duffy was making the necessary switch, some tin horn gamblers, who thought they might lose a two-bit bet, threw bottles at Dineen, two of them coming out of the grand stand, where the elite are supposed to swarm. Fortunately their arms were as weak as their heads.

Baker's feet were on fair ground all right when he reached the ball, but that had nothing to do with it, the ball being foul or fair according to where his hands were when he fumbled, and no one was in better position to see than W. Dineen. Blackburne couldn't tell unless he had eyes in the back of his head.

Charley Mullen was sent to bat in Blackburne's place and delivered a pretty bunt, which Morgan fumbled. That turned the tide. Payne came next with another nifty bunt. He was thrown out, but it advanced Purtell to third and Mullen to second. Walsh "seen his duty and he done it." Twice he whaled at and missed the ball, but nobody lost heart. Twice Morgan tried to scare Big Ed with fast ones close in, but he ducked them. The next was a good one and, meeting it squarely with an exquisite crash, Walsh burned a red hot hole in the air over Baker's head. That drive would have been good for two bases, but only a single was needed ot send Purtell home with the winning tally.

Mackmen Score in First.

The Mackmen got the jump in the first inning. Hartsel opened with a single, but was doubled up in lightning fashion by Gandil and Blackburne on Heitmuller's rap to Chic. Collins singled and stole. Baker bounded one sharply to Walsh, whose mitt deflected the ball enough to throw Zeider off his stride and the ball went through him, letting Collins score. Baker was caught napping off first.

Eddie Plank began on the slab, but after striking out French and seeing Browne thrown out on a bunt, the sou'paw suddenly faded from the map unaccountably. Morgan replaced him and passed Zeider, who made such a swell bluff of stealing on the first ball pitched that Lapp threw the ball into center field, whereupon Rollie trotted down to second, but Dougherty was victimized by Barry.

In the second the Sox forged ahead. Gandil was passed and sacrificed to second by Purtell. Blackburne scored him with a single to right. Payne followed with a screamer over Hartsel's head for two bases, giving Blackburne a ride all the way home. Walsh struck out and French grounded.

Big Edward was a leading factor in the third Sox tally. He walked with one out in the fifth and stole second. French scored him with a single to center, making second himself on the throw-in, but Browne and Zeider failed to bring him in.

Trouble began in the sixth when Zeider kicked in a run without any help. First he fumbled Hartsel's bounder, then threw it over Gandil's head, letting Topsy waddle to second. Heitmuller bounded another to Rollie, and that one filtered through him so cleanly that Topsy scored on it. Walsh himself retired the next two and French got the third victim. In the seventh Barry singled, went to second on a passed ball while Lapp was striking out, and scored on Morgan's surprise party, a clean single to right.

Looks Gloomy in Eighth.

When Zeider fumbled Collins' grounder to start the eighth it looked all over, for Eddie caught Payne napping and stole second unmolested. But Baker fanned. Purtell threw out Davis without letting Collins advance, then got Eddie on Murphy's grounder, although only a quick stab by Zeider prevented losing that play.

In the ninth, tenth, and eleventh it looked as if the Athletics were going to win, and they had a chance in the fourteenth, but Walsh refused to weaken and in the pinches his tottering support stiffened in time to prevent a run until Walsh could deliver in the fourteenth. Score:

RUBBING IT IN.

NOTES OF THE WHITE SOX.

Philadelphia again today, Saturday, and Sunday.

Murphy was caught off first by Walsh in the fifth inning, but gave the Sox a good chase and finally ducked back to first in safety.

That's the first time the Sox have beaten the Athletics this year, for they dropped four straight in Philadelphia last month.

Those bush league score board superintendents tried to give the bugs the wrong steer on the Cub game by posting the score bottom side up, but a hurried correction was sent out.

Zeider had thirteen chances. He got the thirteenth and seven others, missing five of the easier kind. That tops Zimmerman's 1910 record of four boots in one game.

The rooters gave Browne a hand when he first came to bat and George came awfully close to beating out a neat bunt which almost caught Baker off watch.

Zeider made his fifth fumble on Murphy's grounder with one out in the eleventh. Barry popped to French and Lapp smashed a hot one at Zeider, who came up with it on a nasty bound and tossed it to Blackburne, retiring the side.

Frank Smith, the crippled hurler, went to Alton yesterday to visit his brother. Smith will be one of the worst disappointed fans in the world when he reads about Gov. Gillett's action, for he felt sure his ankle would be well enough to let him go to that fight.

After Zeider had walked in the Sox first Lapp thought his bluff to steal was the real thing and whipped the ball blindly to second. The others saw Rollie stop, so nobody at all covered the bag, and while Heitmuller was recovering the faux pas Zeider made second easily.

Browne gave the Sox a chance to win in the thirteenth by bunting one safely past Morgan, the ball eluding Collins on a crooked hop as he raced in for it. Zeider struck out, but Dougherty's grounder advanced George to within scoring distance. Gandil struck out.

Hartsel opened the tenth with a tall fly which Dougherty misjudged. In trying to turn and run back Pat got his toes twisted in the moss and lost his balance and his cap. The blow went for two bases, but Topsy was trapped and run to death on Heitmuller's rap to Purtell, the batter reaching second. Oldring was put on to run for Heitmuller, who has a weak ankle, and finished the game in center.

Barry singled with one out in the visitor's fourteenth. He played hit and run with Lapp, who smashed the ball on a line toward right center. Browne dashed across and pinched it, Barry having passed second already. It was lucky Barry did not hurry back, for Gandil booted Browne's good throw to first, but Walsh hustled to the bag and Chic recovered the ball in time to double up the runaway.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 15.—Philadelphia and Cincinnati played sixteen innings to a tie at three runs each. Rowan of Cincinnati held the home team to five singles and gave only four bases on balls. Not a hit was made off him after the ninth inning.

Philadelphia's runs were due largely to timely hits and stolen bases. Moore and McQuillan each pitched eight innings. Knabe and Moran were sent to the clubhouse by Umpire Klem in the tenth for disputing a decision. Score:

BY R. W. LARDNER.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 15.—[Special.]—King Cole's long streak of wins was cut today or this evening when another upstart, Cy Barger, poled his fourth base hit in the fourteenth inning of the opening game between the Cubs and Dodgers and drove home Tex Irwin with the run that beat Chicago 3 to 2.

None can say that King was licked without a struggle. While he didn't pitch as tight a game as Barger, he pitched one that should have whipped Brooklyn and would if Chance's people could have hit Cy at all in the pinches. But Cy wasn't much better in said pinches than King, who didn't appear able to pitch at all unless there were eight or ten Dodgers waiting to score.

Jimmy Archer, who makes as many defensive mistakes as Jack Pfiester does hits, bunched two of them in this game and each one gave Brooklyn a tally. If Jimmy had played at his usual perfect clip Chicago would have won in nine rounds and nobody would have lost out on supper.

Archer's Muff Is Costly.

But Jimmy didn't. He dropped a foul ball from McElveen's bat in the fifth, and Mac took advantage of it by thumping out a single, and then traveled around to home plate again on another of Barger's cruel blows. In the fourteenth Jimmy made a sour throw to second base and gave Barger his last opportunity to break it up. That throw proved that even the most expert Archers can't always control their bows.

When that last hit of Barger's had fallen between Hofman and Schulte, and Erwin was seen dashing across the plate with the winning run, the large Brooklyn crowd swooped down on the field and bore Cy off on its shoulders to the clubhouse with more noise than the subway makes under the river. Brooklyn people must have thought that game gave them the pennant. They were a wild lot, and probably won't be as much excited again until the Dodgers, Cardinals, Doves, and Phillies are fighting for position in October.

Both Teams Lose Openings.

There were so many chances on both sides to settle the strife that it is impossible to talk about all of them. If Artie Hofman had been able to get his tremendous hits at times when they would have done some good or if Frank Schulte hadn't saved up all four of his strikeouts for one day, or if the Peerless Leader hadn't been one of the victims in a silly double play in the thirteenth, we would have had more cheerful tidings for you.

But, as Schulte says, why cry over burned soup? Every ball team wins once in a while, and Dodger victories are not as scarce as in late years.

With the tail end of Brooklyn's batting order up in the fourteenth, the consensus of opinion was that there would be another runless inning and that the game would be called a draw on account of darkness. One of King's numerous passes was handed out to McElveen, but that was not taken seriously, for King had been strong enough not to let his wildness work him harm.

Erwin, who had supplanted Bill Bergen in the tenth, was sent up to sacrifice and he tried to do it. His bunt dropped right in front of the plate and Archer made a hurried throw to force McElveen at second.

Archer's Heave Costs Game.

There was a good chance for a double play and that's what the Cubs wanted. But Jim's heave was low and it bounded past Tinker into center field. McElveen dashed madly for third base, but Hofman's good arm sent the ball there ahead of him and he was caught. During this proceeding Erwin raced to second.

There was one out and Barger was up with a nice record back of him. He didn't wait long, but shot the second ball Cole pitched on a line to right center. It was out of everybody's reach and Erwin didn't have to speed going home. Barger could have made two or three bases on that wallop, but of course that wasn't necessary and he was perfectly content with one.

The Cubs scored in the first inning and held their lead until the fourth. Evers walked and moved to second on Sheckard's out. Schulte gave the first of his four fanning exhibitions, but Chance drove a single to center and Johnny came marching home.

Wheat opened the Dodger fourth with a double to left and the next two were easy outs, but Bill Davidson singled into Schulte's ward and Wheat tied the score.

Archer's first error put the Dodgers in the lead in the fifth. He muffed an easy foul ball from McElveen's bat and then Mac singled over Tinker. Bergen was out on bunt strikes, but Barger cracked a two bagger to right center, counting Mac.

If Evers or Steinfeldt had been wide awake, this run wouldn't have been chalked up at that, for McElveen fell down on the third base line just as Schulte's relay reached Evers. A throw home would have caught Mac, but John threw to third, whither Barger was hurrying. Steiny thought McElveen had crossed the plate long ago, so he waited to tag out Barger when he still had a chance to peg to Archer and get the Brooklyn utility gent. However, if Archer hadn't dropped that foul, Evers and Steinfeldt wouldn't have had an opportunity of making these mistakes.

It was tied up once more in the Chicago sixth and remained a tie until the bitter end. Steinfeldt singled and went to second on a passed ball. Hofman flied to Wheat so far out that Harry had time to reach third. Tinker sent him home with a safe crack over second.

Only one Cub got past second base after that, but timely hitting would have scored two or three runs at different times. Hofman tripled with one down in the eighth, but Tinker fouled to Daubert and Archer fanned. Chance opened the tenth and thirteenth with singles, but was nailed in double plays with Hofman on both occasions.

The one in the thirteenth was entirely unnecessary. Steinfeldt failed to bunt his manager to second and died on a fly to Wheat. Hofman gave a hit and run sign and lifted an easy fly to Burch. Chance kept right on running and was so far off first when Al made the catch that Barney Oldfield couldn't have driven him back fast enough to save his life.

King Cole's Narrow Escape.

Cole's most thrilling escape came in the Brooklyn tenth. Erwin batted for Bergen and singled to center. The dangerous Barger bunted safely. Burch failed to sacrifice and sent a grounder toward left field. Tinker made a swell stop and pegged to second in time to force Barger. Daubert bounded a slow one to Cole and was out at first, Erwin being held on third. Chance ordered King to pass Wheat and he did so.

John Hummel, who is hitting way over the .300 mark, gave the ball a joy ride to the right field fence and some of the Brooklyn bugs arose from their seats and started for home, but Schulte backed up against the wall and pulled it in, the ball pinching his hand against the boards in the effort.

Schulte's catch wasn't the only great piece of fielding. Tinker performed prettily, Burch made a great one handed stab of a drive from Archer's bat, Steinfeldt pulled off a neat catch that saved Cole's life temporarily in the eleventh, and Wheat was all over his field. Score:

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 15.—[Special.]—Pfiester may try to get back at them tomorrow.

Johnny Kling tonight opened an exhibition pool match with Alfred C. De Oro at Doyle's rooms.

Tony Smith is out of the game with tonsilitis. He couldn't have been much more troublesome than was his understudy, McElveen.

Treasurer Williams was informed that the New York game postponed from last Saturday would be played as part of a double header Sept. 22.

Manager Chance expects to pay his long deferred call on President Lynch tomorrow morning. He has no idea what the executive wants him for.

Davie Davidson had a record to be proud of against the club that cast him loose. He was up six times, got a base on balls, a sacrifice hit, and three singles.

The defeat left the Cubs with a lead of only two games over the Giants, who were winning a game at the Polo grounds from the poor old World's champions.

McElveen afforded the crowd much amusement in the ninth. With Sheckard on first and two out, Schulte lifted a fly, which he caught. Evidently he thought the Dodgers were ahead, for he started for the clubhouse with the ball in his hands, but had to return and play five more innings.

Mr. Schulte was still well enough to pen the following:

The king is dead but not forgotten,
He did the bestest that he could;
He'll be alive next time you bet,
And give that bunch a beating yet,
As sure as I write pretty rhymes,
As sure as I struck out four times.

SEMI-PRO MAGNATE LEASES SOX PARK FOR NEXT SEASON.

Old Grounds, Secured by J. M. Schorling, Owner of Auburn Parks, Will Be Put in Shape for 1911.

Comiskey's old baseball park at Thirty-ninth street and Wentworth avenue, the home of the White Sox for the last ten years, is to become a way station on the semi-pro circuit next year, a lease for a term of years having been signed by John M. Schorling, owner of the Auburn Park franchise in the Chicago Baseball league. Schorling plans to open his new plant next spring, the present park remaining in the possession of the White Sox magnate until next November.

Final plans have not been fully matured for Schorling, who does not know whether the Chicago Giants will be installed as the home team or whether a white club will have the park under his lease. It is certain that the old stands will be removed and a new grandstand of smaller dimensions erected.

CUBANS POUND GIANTS' HURLER.

Islanders Take Third of Series from Quakers, 17 to 6, by Hammering Fisher to the Woods.

The Cuban Stars defeated the Philadelphia Giants in the third game of their series at Callahan's park yesterday, 17 to 6, making the series stand one game in their favor. The conflict yesterday was a merry one, in which a heap of unusual plays came up, including two sensational throws from right field to first on ordinary singles by Parpetti. Other features were James' steal of the home plate and a catch by W. Parks. The same clubs meet today. Score:

STRENUOUS DAY FOR GLIDDENITES

Trip from Louisville to Nashville Is Battle with Rocky and Rutted Pikes.

MANY INCUR PENALTIES.

Day's Run Is Voted Hardest in the History of the Reliability Classic.

Nashville, Tenn., June 15.—[Special.]—In all probability the second day's run of the Glidden tour from Louisville to this city has yielded more penalizations to contesting cars than any day since the reliability test was instituted. But the official list of the unfortunates will not be known until tomorrow. Starter Ferguson had not reported in at a late hour, and his national organization associates were unable to check off the day's sufferers.

Tomorrow's run—119.7 miles to Sheffield, Ala.—will not be quite as strenuous, the weary and sunburned tourists were informed at the Nashville Auto club's dinner tonight, but Pilot Dai Lewis is expecting additions to the list of penalties already picked up in Kentucky.

It was definitely known that the Chalmers cars driven by Gardham and Bolger retained their perfect scores after today's marvelous battle with rock and rutted pikes, that Driver Palmer's Chalmers, hit for two points yesterday, added no more to its list today, although it had one of the most sensational experiences of the contesting machines and that the two Premiers and three Molines went through without harming their perfect scores.

"Bump the Bumps" Plentiful.

"They laid the flagstones of the pikes from Bardstown to Bear Wallow and they planned more 'bump the bumps' clear to Bowling Green than Glencoe will have in a thousand years," said one tourist, "yet most of the cars, both competing and noncontesting, negotiated roads that a man who hated his automobile would not care to send the machine over. It was the hardest test of driving on any tour and a severe tryout for any car. How any machine escaped the trouble is beyond my knowledge. The cars that got through on the running schedule undoubtedly set a record from Louisville to Nashville, as no automobile until today has made the conquest of the flagstone pikes and hills in less than fifteen hours."

Matson drove his Chalmers car into a quicksand hole into the center of the road near Green river. In an instant it was buried until the running board could not be seen. The car might have remained there indefinitely, but for the pull given by the Cutting. Matson finished with no new penalties. All the other cars were piloted away from the treacherous quicksand.

Butler Transfers His Flag.

Chairman Butler had to transfer his flag to McNamara's Premier, the official Columbia pacemaker having met so much tire trouble it ran out of tubes. The Cadillac gun cars, carrying the Northwestern military cadets, had plenty of tire repair practical drills for the lads, while some cars had to make distress signals for fresh supplies of tubes. Charles Van Sicklen, the Chicagoan driving the Falcar, made a perfect score on the day and informed the officials that the run was the hardest on cars and tires that ever had been held.

Fast Auto Trip from Des Moines.

From Des Moines, Ia., to Chicago in 8 hours and 30 minutes was the record made in an automobile by Harold R. Wells, 22 years old, accompanied by his father, Roswell Wells, a merchant of the Iowa city, yesterday afternoon. The distance covered was about 380 miles.

Coach Delaney Will Take Five Men to Pittsburg to Take Part in Smoky City's Annual Event.

Martin Delaney, coach of the C. A. A. track team, yesterday announced that he would take five men to Pittsburg to compete in the track field meet Saturday, which is held annually under the auspices of a Pittsburg newspaper on Forbes field. E. C. Brown, president of the National A. A. U., will act as referee of the meet. The following athletes will comprise the team: Harry F. Porter, discus and high jump; Frank Irons, running broad jump; Eugene Schobinger, high hurdles and pole vault; Leslie Byrd, shotput and discus, and Giffin in the discus.

FIGHT CHECKED BY GOV. GILLETT

California Executive Orders Legal Aid to Prevent the Jeff-Johnson Mill.

FRISCO MAYOR DEFIANT.

McCarthy Says Contest Will Be Held "Exactly as Has Been Advertised."

...chucking of the monkey wrench into the machinery.

Only business reasons have any standing in the controversy that has been precipitated. The moral reason would have no weight. It is not thought possible that the clerical protests and prayers, of which he spoke so lightly a week ago, at last reached him and that he was moved to stop the proceedings by coming to appreciate the sinfulness of it all. He left nobody to understand that he took any other but a complacent view of the impending fight, and he had reason to know that his utterances, scattered throughout the world, were not calculated to carry any assurance to the reform element that he eventually would interfere.

Washington Gave the Word?

The city and state protests had dwindled to a mere whisper. The ministers apparently had given up the fight in despair, satisfied that they had at least done their duty, and the situation seemed to be such that the governor could allow his San Francisco constituents to go along with the show upon which they had set their hearts without imperiling his political prospects.

That was the way it stood when the new light dawned on the governor. His recent visit to Washington and the east was to advance San Francisco's claims to the Panama exposition in 1915. That is something by which the city and state are setting great store.

It was pointed out in THE TRIBUNE about the time the governor was pleading San Francisco's cause that the international reform bureau was making the most of the situation by bringing pressure to bear on congressmen to make the California delegation discountenance this prize fight or give up hope of holding the Panama exposition.

Chooses Panama Exposition.

Since his return home it is known that it has been intimated to Gov. Gillett that San Francisco's chances of obtaining federal sanction for the exposition would be enhanced greatly if it would clean up its unenviable reputation as a sanctuary for prizefighters and promoters of prizefights. If the question was put up to the governor in that way the answer could be none other than the one he has given.

Such of the business men out this way who are not playing every day for the last would rather contemplate the opportunity to entertain an exposition crowd for six months four years from now than that of entertaining a prizefight crowd for a few days now. They would like to have both shows, of course, but with them it is a case of weighing the advantages of the two enterprises and then choosing the one that promises more.

Reform Element Wins Out.

Reform moves by aeroplane and subway its ends to get across. All of this could have been figured out weeks ago, and it was, in a half serious way, but to have brought it up two days ago, in the face of the agreements for the people who "own" this town and run it according to their own ideals, whatever you may call them, would have been a confession of fanaticism or foolishness.

There isn't a face on Market street tonight that isn't long enough to eat out of a churn, and the orchestras in the cafés chantant, such of them as haven't been paid off or discharged on account of the falling market, are playing funeral marches.

The fight between Langford and Kaufman was to have taken place in Louis Blot's arena, which is just finished at great expense. Now that this is off, too, the game is conceded to be croaked utterly.

Fickert Hopeful; Rickard Blue.

District Attorney Fickert, mention of whom was made by the governor, displayed some bitterness when asked for a statement.

He said the state executive had "heeded the clamor of the mob," and made satirical reference to "political capital."

"However," he concluded, "I still believe the fight will be held here, as the courts are more powerful than the governor."

After attending a conference late today with Attorney General Webb, Rickard said that no action for the removal of the fight would be taken until Webb had handed down a decision as to the legality of holding the match here.

Webb, Rickard said, promised an opinion in two days. It will give Webb's belief as to the practicability of opposing the fight under the statutes quoted by the governor in his letter of instruction.

Rickard was plainly nettled at the unexpected turn of events and the "eleventh hour" pronouncement of the governor, as he termed it, was a most unpalatable morsel.

Rickard Expects Heavy Loss.

"I am sick and tired of all of this fooling," he added, "and I am willing to throw up the sponge so far as bringing off the match in the state of California is concerned. I have expended already $25,000, all of which will be dead loss.

"Why Gov. Gillett should wait until this late day to declare he would stop the fight, particularly in view of his accredited statements in the past that under no circumstances would he interfere, is inconceivable. Already excursion parties have left different parts of the world and are en route hither. It was only yesterday that I received an order from Canada requesting that 1,000 seats be reserved.

"I do not know what caused the governor's sudden change of mind, but I presume the pressure brought upon him by the many church federations has had its effect."

"I don't care where the fight takes place," declared Jack Johnson tonight. "Of course, I would rather have it come off in San Francisco, as I am training here, but if we cannot fight here, I am willing to go any place Rickard and Gleason agree upon."

Like Jeffries, Johnson said he could not understand why Gov. Gillett had decided to step in and prevent the fight at this late date.

Jeffries Will Not Believe It.

Ben Lomond, Cal., June 15.—The Jeffries camp at Rowardennan was in an uproar this afternoon as a result of Gov. Gillett's order to stop the big fight. When Jeffries was first informed that the governor had instructed the attorney general to prevent the fight he threw up and refused to discuss the matter, but later he made the following statement:

"I positively refuse to believe the story. I do not care what is said or who talked to the governor over the telephone. I simply will not believe that it is true. I do not know much about law, but my understanding is that we are within the law and protected by it. All the articles of agreement signed by Johnson and myself were the same as those signed for every fight fought in California.

"Gillett once said he could not stop the fight, so how is he going to do it? I will continue with my training until I am informed by the promoters that the affair cannot come off."

Jim Corbett was thunderstruck, but when he heard that the governor had personally vouched for the story over the long distance telephone, he said:

"I guess it is true, all right, but it is mighty hard to believe. You must admit that Gillett does not seem to be the sort of man who would let the promoters go to all the expense they have and then throw them down. Look at us fellows, who have traveled all the way across the continent, spending our time and money. It seems more like cruelty to me than justice."

GOV. GILLETT'S ORDER TO STOP BIG FIGHT.

Gov. Gillett's letter to Attorney General Webb is in full as follows:

"STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE OFFICE, SACRAMENTO. June 14, 1910.

"Hon. U. S. Webb, Attorney General, San Francisco—Dear Sir:

"I desire to call your attention to a so-called prizefight to take place on the Fourth of July next in the city of San Francisco between Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson.

"Many complaints are made at this office by prominent citizens of this city protesting against this so-called fight and requesting that some action be taken by the proper authorities to stop the same.

"The district attorney of San Francisco has informed me that he does not purpose to interfere in the matter.

"The first session of the legislature held in this state in the year 1850 enacted a law making it a felony for two persons to fight each other upon a previous agreement upon a wager for money or any other reward. This law has been amended from time to time, but never so as to make prizefighting lawful.

"In 1903 the legislature again amended the law relating to prizefighting. While the law, as amended, permitted 'sparring exhibitions' for a limited number of rounds with gloves, to be held by a domestic incorporated club, it did not remove the ban which the laws of this state always have placed upon prizefights, and while a 'sparring exhibition' under certain conditions and restrictions is permissible under this act, a prizefight still remains a felony.

"Therefore, the question arises, what is a prizefight and what is a 'sparring exhibition'?

"The former is a crime, the latter is lawful. It is claimed by many that the contest soon to take place between Jeffries and Johnson is to be a prizefight, as that term is understood in the law, and therefore a crime under our statutes.

"If this is true, it should be prevented; but if carried out, the interested parties should be punished as provided by law.

"I believe that you should investigate the matter and take such legal steps as may be proper in your judgment, if warranted by the facts, in presenting the case to the court for its decision, and should ask to have all interested parties enjoined pending the hearing.

"Our Supreme court never has defined a prizefight and I believe an opportunity should be given it so to do. Since the amendment of the law permitting 'sparring exhibitions,' prizefighting under the guise of sparring has greatly increased and has been tolerated in California, until today our state is a mecca for prizefighters, much to our discredit.

"Our people have the right to demand that prizefighting shall cease in this state, and it will if our present laws are enforced, especially if our courts follow the decisions of the Supreme courts of our sister states in defining a prizefight.

"In Michigan a prizefight exists when there is 'an expectation of reward to be gained by the contest or competition, either to be won from the contestant or to be otherwise rewarded, coupled with an intent to inflict upon such contestant some degree of bodily harm.'

"In Kansas the Supreme court has held that 'the contest must be a fight and that there must be an intent on the part of the contestants to do violence to and inflict some degree of bodily harm on each other,' and the fight must be for some prize or reward. Other states have made similar rulings.

"To show that the so-called 'sparring exhibitions' held in this state under the auspices of incorporated athletic clubs have not been 'sparring exhibitions,' but prizefights, I need only refer you to the files of our daily papers. I will call your attention to two or three of the recent ones. First, the Moran-McCarthy fight.

"The Oakland Tribune in its issue of April 30, in reporting it, uses this language:

"'After the sixteenth round had gone some fifty seconds, Moran landed a blow on McCarthy's jaw. It did not look to be a heavy punch, but the young fighter went over backwards, his head seemingly dropping below, as if his neck had been injured, and as he struck the floor the sound of the impact could be heard throughout the pavilion.'

"McCarthy died."

"Next the Wolgast-Nelson fight took place on Washington's birthday (it seems that prize fighters always want to fight on Washington's birthday, Decoration day, and Independence day), and was reported in all the daily papers of the state by rounds. I quote from the San Francisco Chronicle of Feb. 23:

"'Round 13—Nelson's lips were puffed and his eyes and cheeks were swollen. They mixed it like tigers, Wolgast having all the better of it, landing repeatedly on the body and jaw, with Nelson fighting wildly and spitting blood. Wolgast literally cut the Battler's face to ribbons, but still the Dane came in for more.

"'Round 39—Wolgast appeared loath to put in the finishing punch. He jabbed incessantly at the Battler's anatomy and again the blood flowed in a stream. Wolgast almost sent Nelson to the floor, landing blow after blow on the defenseless champion's face.'

"In the same issue of the Chronicle is a report of the fight between Conley and Attel, which took place near Los Angeles on Feb. 22. I quote from it:

"'After wearing his opponent down until he practically had no strength left with which to make adequate defense, much less to put up an offensive style of battle, Frankie Conley rushed in and gave Monte Attell such a terrific drubbing in the forthy-second round of their scheduled forty-five round fight at Vernon this afternoon that the San Francisco boy was unable to arise when knocked to the floor with a full right swing that caught him on the back of his head. Attell was lying unconscious upon his back, sprawled at full length, and did not move when his seconds lifted him into their arms and carried him to his corner.'

"If these contests were not prize fights, then the historic battle between Heenan and Sayers was not one. I have no doubt that the coming contest between Jeffries and Johnson will be a repetition of the brutality mentioned in the foregoing fights, only on a larger scale.

"If 'sparring exhibitions,' as permitted by our laws, make fights where men are killed, beaten into insensibility, and their faces 'cut into ribbons' lawful acts, then it is time that the legislature should interfere and make such exhibitions a felony. Such contests are prize fights, not permitted by the law, and should be punished as such. Those who engage in them are prize fighters and make their living by fighting each other for prizes or rewards.

"The whole business is demoralizing to the youth of our state; corrupts public morals; is offensive to the senses of a great majority of our citizens, and should be abated, as a public nuisance, and the offenders punished.

"If the court, upon your petition, refuses to grant the relief prayed for therein and permits the parties interested to proceed as advertised by them, then I desire you, on behalf of the people of the state, to gather all evidence possible, and if the contest is carried out as advertised and the parties fight for a purse or for a reward and inflict upon each other bodily injury, then you are to cause the arrest of the principals and those interested with them in promoting the fight and try them on a felony charge for violating section 412 of the penal code. Yours truly,

"J. N. GILLETT."

Gillett Has No More to Say.

Sacramento, Cal., June 15.—"I have no statement or explanation to make other than that contained in my letter to the attorney general," said Gov. Gillett this evening. "I am simply doing my duty as I see it. I only acted after the district attorney of San Francisco reported to me he would not try to prevent what I deem to be a crime against the state of California and the laws I am sworn to protect from violation. I have been deliberating on this matter for ten days and have gone over the whole thing carefully.

"I have received hundreds of letters, but these have had no bearing on my action.

"I propose to do my duty as I see it, no matter what people may say or do and no matter whom it hurts. That is all there is to it."

Reno Bids for Fight.

Reno, Nev., June 15.—Reno bid for the Jeffries-Johnson fight this afternoon, when A. J. Ailsworthy, a theatrical manager and representing local business men, telegraphed to Tex Rickard that this city would erect a suitable arena for the fight and pay the license fee.

The Nevada law is plain and precise in that it permits finish fights when a license fee of $1,000 is paid by the promoters, and it is not probable that any adverse action will be taken in case it is decided to bring the Jeffries-Johnson fight here.

Gov. Dickerson at present is out of the state.

Supreme Court O. K.'s It.

Carson City, Nev., June 15.—That the law of Nevada will permit the Jeffries-Johnson fight in this state was the statement made today by Justice Sweeney of the Supreme court when the question was put to him in the absence of Gov. Dickerson.

With only the formality of obtaining a license, for which $1,000 must be deposited, he said, the fight could be held in any county in the state without fear of interference.

The law permitting contests of unlimited rounds in Nevada was passed expressly for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight.

Utah Will Not Stand Fight.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 15.—A considerable element of the population would welcome the Jeffries-Johnson fight to this city, but the obstacles are believed to be insuperable.

Gov. Spry declared repeatedly, when Promoter Rickard was seeking to stage the contest in Utah, that the laws of the state distinctly prohibited such a battle and that he would use his authority to enforce the laws.

County Attorney Lyon of Salt Lake county made the statement that the statute was unequivocal and that his office would take whatever legal steps were necessary to stop the fight here.

Rickard finally was convinced that negotiations were useless and explained that the transfer to San Francisco was made because no guarantee could be obtained against legal interference in Utah.

Mexico May Get Fight.

El Paso, Tex., June 15.—A telegram was sent tonight to Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason by a number of business men here proposing that the big fight be held in the bull ring at Juarez, which will seat 30,000 persons.

It is believed in this city and Chihuahua that President Diaz would not oppose the contest, and since Gov. Creel of Chihuahua is fond of sports it is believed his influence would be in favor of the arrangement.

Broadway Sports Complacent.

New York, June 15.—Broadway was startled by the news from San Francisco, but the assumption that the fight probably will be held elsewhere if the California ban is not raised has eased the first fears of the sporting element. So far as can be learned none of the special trains from New York to San Francisco has been canceled and the assumption is that the routes merely will be transferred from California to Nevada or Utah.

Tom Sharkey, who had arranged to conduct an expedition to California, voiced the general view of the fight followers here. "Gov. Gillett's action will not prevent the fight being held," said Sharkey. "If the men can't meet there, the fight will be shifted to Carson City or some other point.

"Wherever the battle takes place I will run a special train to the scene. If necessary we will go to the north pole."

Arthur J. Sheldon, who makes a business of running special trains to big sporting events and had arranged for what was known as the "Wall street special" to the fight, said that ever since Gov. Gillett was reported several weeks ago to have said that the fight was a "frameup," he had received cancellations of reservations every day, and that the same thing had happened to all other managers of special train parties.

"It had resolved itself into a big money-making affair and true sport had been lost sight of in the shuffle," he said. "Therefore, when the 'fake flag' was raised, a good many who had intended to go dropped out.

"The promoters made a serious, if not fatal blunder, in announcing the go as a 'prize fight.' In all the literature I sent out, I called it the heavyweight championship contest."

Robert Murphy, owner of the Hotel Albany, which is Jeffries' stopping place whenever he comes to this city, who is one of the former champion's intimates, said:

"I don't know anything about the matter, except what I read in the papers. But, I can say with absolute confidence that the 'Bob' Murphy special will leave this city as per schedule on June 28 and will arrive in Frisco on July 3."

Blame Bennet for New Order.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—[Special.]—When the California delegation in congress received telegrams today quoting Gov. Gillett as declaring that the big Jeffries-Johnson fight for the heavyweight championship of the world never would take place on California soil, members of the house opposed to prizefighting congratulated Representative William S. Bennet of New York. All the rest—and they seemed to be in a big majority—scowled at him from all over the chamber.

The story of Gov. Gillett's attitude is all mixed up with efforts of San Francisco to secure governmental sanction for the proposed Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915, and the fact that Mr. Bennet is an influential member of the foreign affairs committee, which tomorrow will decide between San Francisco and New Orleans as the site for the exposition.

Mr. Bennet was a delegate to the Presbyterian general assembly at Atlantic City. While there the church interests appealed to him to use his influence against the fight. He thought things over and then telegraphed to William R. Wheeler, president of the San Francisco board of trade, that the moral sentiment of the house was decidedly against giving the great exposition to a city that proposed to countenance what promised to be the most brutal prizefight ever held.

Wheeler Repudiates Fight.

"Please urge on your committee," Mr. Wheeler telegraphed back in reply, "that the public spirited citizens promoting the San Francisco exposition and the people generally interested therein are not favorable to the Jeffries-Johnson fight. Undoubtedly the preponderating majority of our people is opposed to the fight. It would be decidedly unjust to consider the latter proposition in connection with the former. I thank you for your interest and solicit your influence in behalf of our city."

Mr. Bennet's first telegram to Mr. Wheeler was on May 28. Since that time he has had a great deal of correspondence with Mr. Wheeler and other leading citizens of San Francisco on the subject of the prizefight and the detrimental effect it would have on San Francisco's chance of obtaining governmental sanction for the Panama-Pacific exposition, in which the city is so greatly interested.

Just the other day he forwarded to Representative Hayes of California, who has been most active in urging the claims of San Francisco to favorable notice in connection with the exposition, a letter from a citizen of San Francisco denouncing the proposed fight. In an indorsement on the letter Mr. Bennet suggested that it gave excellent reasons why San Francisco should not be favored.

It is the belief of members of the California delegation and of the house generally that Mr. Bennet's attitude resulted in so much pressure being brought to bear upon Gov. Gillett as to bring about his declaration that the fight must not take place in California.

MAYOR SAYS FIGHT REMAINS IN CITY

Pat McCarthy Asserts He Is Running San Francisco and Takes No Orders.

HE DEFIES GOV. GILLETT.

Labor Executive, in Chicago, Thinks Somebody Will Be Badly Licked July 4.

"I am running San Francisco. I am taking no orders from Gillett or his attorney general. You can bet your last dollar that the big fight will be pulled off in my town just as advertised."

Mayor Pat McCarthy of San Francisco, skipping from depot to depot to catch a Pacific coast bound flyer, delivered this ultimatum just after scurrying through the sporting extras which had announced that Gov. Gillett of California had issued orders through the attorney general's office that the Jeffries-Johnson battle must be pulled off outside the boundary lines of the golden state.

Mayor McCarthy, who went into office on the union labor ticket as the candidate of the San Francisco organized labor forces, added a few words at this point which are indicated by asterisks.

Thinks "My Town" Independent.

"I would like to ask the governor of that state," he continued, "if he thinks he can step into my town and tell us what we must do and what we shan't do. We know what we want, and we get what we want when we want it.

"The big thing that we want just now is the scrap, which I say to you will be fought in San Francisco on July 4, governors, attorney generals, and all the rest of them to the contrary notwithstanding."

The San Francisco burgomaster had no more than issued this edict of secession from the sovereignty of the state of California when he was asked what he would do if the national guard of California should be ordered out to stop the big mill.

"I tell you we run San Francisco," he replied. "We run it to suit ourselves. We have policemen who do what we tell them to do. The best bet of the day is that somebody will be badly licked in San Francisco on July 4, and by that I mean either Jeffries or Johnson."

Mayor Shows Anger.

Mayor McCarthy evidently was angered by the bulletins that Gov. Gillett had slammed the lid on the fight. He had come from Indianapolis. Four weeks ago he went to the Indiana capital to participate in the dedication of the new building of the carpenters' union. He broke his leg during the festivities and has been recuperating since his accident.

The mayor was in Chicago only an hour. He arrived at the Park row station and went over to the Northwestern depot in an automobile. On the trip across town he learned of the body blow which Gov. Gillett had landed upon the fight promoters.

"Bunk, bunk, bunk. Cold feet for somebody. Just watch me. Will there be a fight? You bet your life, and just as advertised," was the final comment of Mayor McCarthy.

FIGHT EDICT IS DISAPPOINTING TO LOCAL FOLLOWERS OF GAME

Gillett's Announcement Is Not Well Received Here—Reno or Ely to Stage the Battle, Says Lou Houseman.

Keen disappointment was evidenced yesterday at local sporting headquarters over the announcement that Gov. Gillett will not allow the Jeffries-Johnson fight to be held in California. The announcement came as a thunder clap out of a clear sky to those who were banking on making the trip to the coast to witness the sporting event of the century.

In the colored district the topic of conversation last night was the possibility of the fight ever taking place. The colored people almost are united in their belief that Johnson will give Jeffries the first beating of his championship career, and nearly all have been laying by neat little sums to wager on the result.

Among them there was a question of doubt as to whether the mill can be staged at either Reno or Ely, and if the fight is not staged at either one of these places the colored folks believe the bout never will take place and the question of supremacy between Jeffries and Johnson never will be settled. Some of them said that Rickard and Gleason should stage the fight in Australia, where there will be no interference from authorities.

The "kingpins" of the colored belt also were as downcast over the announcement as the others for many of the wealthier class had made arrangements to go to San Francisco to see the fight on a train which was to be known as the "black special."

Lou Houseman, who is looking after the promoters' end in Chicago, last night said he had heard nothing official from either Rickard or Gleason. He asserted he has sold a number of tickets to persons residing in Chicago, and the changing of the location of the fight may cause a conflict. Houseman believes the battle will take place at either Reno or Ely on July 4. In the event the bout is staged in Nevada the attendance will be considerably lower than it would have been in San Francisco, according to Houseman.

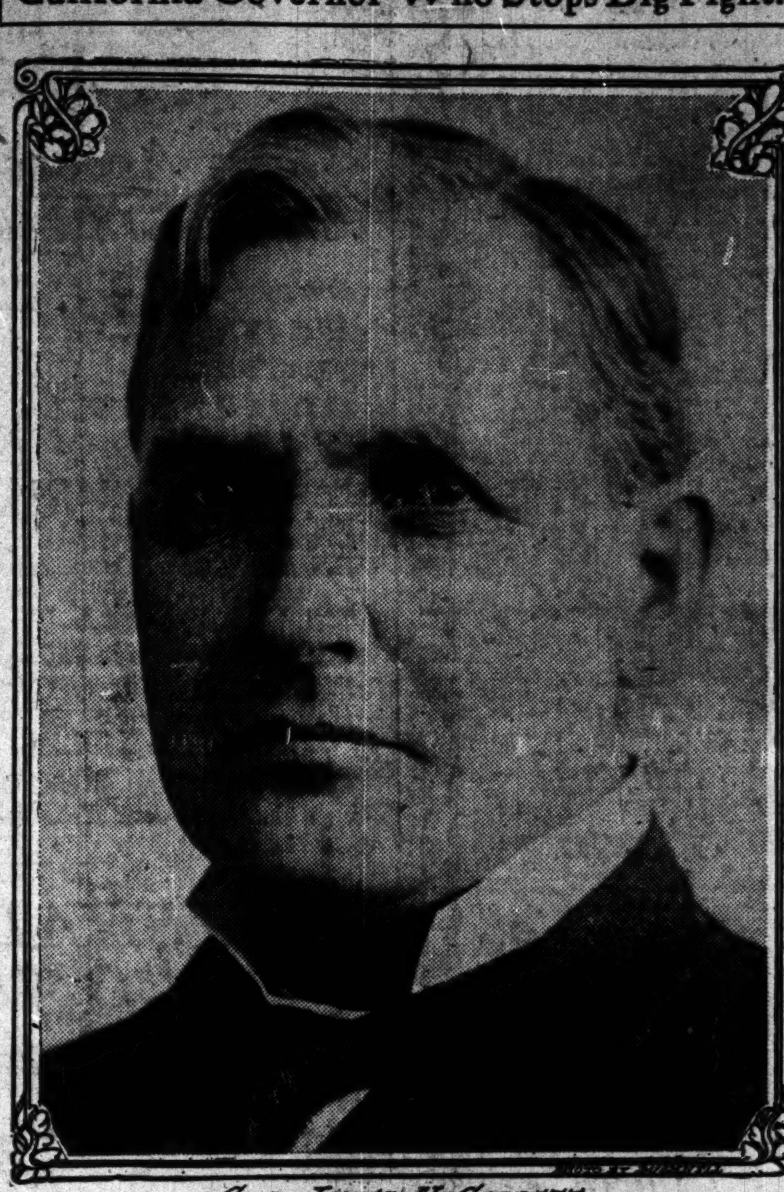
California Governor Who Stops Big Fight.



GOV. JAMES N. GILLETT

FIGHT EDICT UPSETS JEFF

Ex-Champion Quits Work When Governor Strikes Blow.

STORY IS HARD TO BELIEVE.

James J. Corbett Cannot Fathom Gillett's Move at This Late Date.

BY JAMES J. CORBETT.

Jeffries' Training Camp, Rowardennan, Cal., June 15.—[Special]—Well, I'm not at all superstitious, but it's pretty hard to get Jeffries into the ring these days. Sometimes he doesn't feel like doing any work with the gloves, but after his decision yesterday I was elated with the prospect of a big day's boxing.

When the report that the governor was going to stop the fight came along, I at first did not think it would interfere with Jeffries' program from his action when he heard the report, as he took it coolly. But it evidently had its effect, for after giving out his statement to the newspaper boys, he announced that he would not work this afternoon and calmly went to bed and to sleep.

I believe with Jeffries that the governor will not stop the fight. I do not believe he would be so unjust as to let the principals and promoters go to so much trouble and expense and then step in at this late day. If he were going to take any action, I am of the opinion that he should have done so long ago. He should not have enticed us here.

Governor Goes Back on Word.

That is the word that expresses it—enticed—for it is practically what he did. I believe he once said that he would not interfere with the contest, didn't he? I have been fighting for a long time, and I have fought many battles in Frisco. Why weren't those contests interfered with? They are holding fights in Frisco all the time. There's one scheduled for Saturday. I cannot and will not believe that the governor could possibly have been so cruel as to stop the big contest.

But to get back to the big fellow. Of course the report stirred up the whole camp and while Jeff didn't show any outward signs of excitement, still it had its effect on him. I could see that it jarred him as much as he allows anything to jar him.

The layoff may not hurt him. In fact I do not think it will set him back materially in his training, for Jeffries is now in good condition. Still I do not like it and I know that it is not what I would advise.

Jeff Is His Own Boss.

However, Jeff always will do exactly as he pleases, and always has gone into the ring in the right shape when the time came. Boxing—and lots of it—that's all he needs now. I've told him again and again that a man can run a Marathon and yet be all in after a few rounds of boxing. And he realizes it.

I'm so anxious to get Jim in the ring that it's almost a mania with me. I really and truly think Jim is almost as anxious to do some boxing as I. He certainly was prepared for it until he changed his mind suddenly, after hearing the report of the governor's threatened action. It must be that he wants to think things over. Jeff hasn't so much time in which to train and there is absolutely no chance of his being overtrained.

July 4 is not so far off now, and he can't crowd too much boxing into the period that remains. I expect to see him get up full of life and vigor tomorrow. Just now nearly everything is kind of gloomy about the camp, but tomorrow may bring more cheerfulness and with it Jeff will get busy.

Jim took a sun bath and outdoor rub for the first time in his life, and he enjoyed it immensely. He told me that it is as good as any amount of exercise and he will make it a daily part of his training.

His hands are like cannon balls and his face, while the skin is clear as crystal, is as tough as leather. This is the result of the pickling process through which Roger Cornell is putting him. After two weeks of boxing daily he ought to be better than he ever was.

LITTLE PLAYS LAW TO THE LIMIT

Procures Attachment Preventing Johnson from Selling $15,000 Home in Wabash Avenue.

George W. Little, former manager of Jack Johnson, the colored fighter, yesterday procured an attachment in the Municipal court through his attorney, Adolph Marks, preventing the negro from selling his $15,000 home at 3344 Wabash avenue. Little alleges he posted at $10,000 forfeit for the Jeffries-Johnson fight and said the colored champion refused to pay him back.

Phillip May, 351 Bowen avenue, gave bond for Little and scheduled real estate valued at $50,000. The attachment was given to a bailiff to serve on Johnson's sister, Lucy, who at the present time is occupying the house.

Attorney Marks received a telegram from Little yesterday morning saying that Johnson was about to dispose of all of his property so that he would not have to pay the alleged $10,000 debt and asked the attorney to obtain an attachment.

Attorney Gustav Beerly, representing Johnson, said he received a telegram from the fighter yesterday and said that he would start for California Saturday to straighten up some affairs of the boxer.

GRAVESEND RACE RESULTS.

First race, 2 year olds, 11-16 mile—War Jig, 106 [McGee], 5 to 1, won; Ladasette, 103 [Garner], 8 to 5, second; Fair Miss, 99 [Ural], 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:08 1-5. Whin, Crash, Warwick, Valerie, Ugo, Isabel Casse, Hermetic, and Flying Feet ran.

Second race, 1 3-16 miles—Fashion Plate, 111 [Shilling], 1 to 2, won; Fauntleroy, 93 [McCahey], 8 to 1, second; Pretend, 99 [Garner], 12 to 5, third. Time, 2:00. Only three starters.

Third race, 1⅛ miles—Petronius, 98 [Reid], 2 to 5, won; Pins and Needles, 108 [Dugan], 9 to 5, second. Time, 1:55. Only two starters.

Fourth race, Tremont stakes, 2 year olds, $6,500, about ¾ mile—Footprint, 115 [Dugan], 13 to 20, won; Blackfoot, 115 [Shilling], 5 to 2, second; Babbler, 126 [Creevy], 13 to 20, third. Time, 1:11 1-5. Doncaster ran. Meridian fell. Footprint and Babbler coupled in straight betting only.

Fifth race, 1 1-16 miles—Quantico, 110 [Powers], 5 to 2, won; Lad of Langden, 105 [Davis], 8 to 1, second; Sir Cleges, 105 [Dugan], 9 to 5, third. Time, 1:48 1-5. Lord Stanhope, Galley Slave, Imitator, Aunt Jule, Jupiter Joe, County Fair, Balbek, Cowdin, and Critic ran.

Sixth race, about ¾ mile—Sir John Johnson, 122 [Powers], even, won; Restigouche, 118 [Shilling], 8 to 5, second; Shannon, 90 [Ural], 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:10. Tim Pippin ran.

KEYES VICTOR ON EDGEWATER LINKS

Glen View Golfer Beats M. A. Carroll 1 Up in Invitation Tourney.

EVANS OUT IN SEMI-FINAL

Western Champion Loses 1 Up in Eleven Holes, Missing Short Putt for a Halve.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

By running down a ten foot putt on the home green Rollin W. Keyes of the Glen View club defeated M. A. Carroll of Jackson Park 1 up in the final of the one day invitation tournament of the Edgewater club yesterday.

When Keyes defeated Western Champion Charles Evans Jr. 1 up in 11 holes in the nine hole semi-final it was thought he had removed the biggest bunker in his path, but he had to play at top speed to dispose of Carroll, whose medal play card was 77 to 76 by the big Glen View player. Carroll defeated Dr. W. E. Code of Westward Ho 2 up in the semi-finals, getting a 40 as against 43 by the doctor.

Over Thirty in Tourney.

The annual tournament, which probably will be the last played over the course, brought out a field of over thirty players. Weather conditions were perfect and Professional Harry Turpie had the course in splendid condition.

"Chick" Evans led the field in the qualifying round with 70, eleven strokes better than the score of Keyes, who finished second, Dr. Code and M. A. Carroll, the other two qualifiers, each taking 82.

On this form it looked a sure thing for Evans, but when he met Keyes he was off in his iron game, while the Glen View man developed a penchant for finding the tin from long range. Keyes won the first hole, but lost the second. The third was halved and Evans won the fourth. The next four were halved, Keyes squaring the match at the ninth green, where Evans missed a short putt. Evans missed another short putt in the eleventh hole and lost.

Keyes and Carroll both played fine golf. The former was stymied at the eighth and ninth holes and was 2 down at the end of the first round. He squared at the next two holes.

Square at Sixteenth Hole.

Carroll won the fourteenth but lost the sixteenth, making the match all square. On the home green Keyes made his ten foot putt and Carroll missed one of six feet. The cards:

Keyes—
First round........4 5 4 4 5 5 4 5 4—40
Second round......4 4 4 4 5 3 4 4 4—36—76
Carroll—
First round........4 5 3 5 5 4 5 4 3—38
Second round......5 5 4 5 5 3 3 4 5—39—77

Qualifying scores were as follows:

C. Evans Jr., Edgewater—
First round........4 5 4 3 6 3 3 4 3—35
Second round......5 5 4 4 4 3 3 4 3—35—70

BIG FIELD FOR MORRIS CUP.

Over Seventy Clubs Have Entered Second Annual Event to Be Played Today Over Home Courses.

Over seventy clubs of the Western Golf association are expected to take part in the second annual competition for the Tom Morris memorial trophy to be held today over the home courses.

The trophy, donated last year by Peter Dawson of Glasgow, Scotland, in honor of the grand old man of golf, is one of the nest in the golfing world. Last year it was won by the Denver Country club team, which finished 16 down to par, the Annandale club of Los Angeles being second, 17 down. The Exmoor Country club led the Chicago teams, finishing fifth, 25 down.

Up to last night Secretary Willard of the Western Golf association had received the entries of sixty-two clubs, but at least a dozen more are expected in this morning's mail. Only thirteen clubs from Chicago have sent in their nominations and the local representation should not be less than twenty. The entries to date are as follows:

Annandale C. C., Pasadena, Cal.; Arlington C. C., Columbus, O.; Audubon C. C., New Orleans, La.; Avondale G. C., Cincinnati, O.; Beverly C. Special Showing of Summer Frocks in Lawns, Dimity, Cotton Voile and Foulard Silk

They are ideal for summer wear, these simply made, pretty little frocks of the fresh dimities, lawns and voiles. It's their simplicity and the revival of those pretty old-fashioned materials that make them so charming; with the collarless necks, short sleeves and flat shoulder effects that are so becoming and youthful.

Dainty Dimity Dresses, $10

Narrow and medium stripes in different shades, plaited skirt with clusters of tucks, and waist part trimmed with real Irish lace. Price, $10.

Sheer Lawn Dresses, $15

With tiny dots and borders, trimmed with lace, and bands of messaline in self color. In a variety of shades and navy blue and black.

Cotton Voile Dresses, $16.50

Made of the fashionable striped voiles. Styles suitable for afternoon affairs and for dinner wear. Designed with the Peasant sleeve and with overskirt; in medium and narrow stripes.

Cotton Voile Dresses, $35. Made of dainty cotton voile, in white, pale pink and blue; the overskirt and waist are of eyelet work, with trimming of lace.

Silk Dresses, $25, $30 and $35

Of foulard and motora silk. The cut represents one of our $25 models in foulard. Nothing seems to "fit in" everywhere as a foulard does, and they are quite indispensable for the short trip, as they can be tucked away in a corner of the bag, won't wrinkle, and when donned the wearer feels well dressed for almost any occasion.

UNITED WIRELESS OFFICES RAIDED

President and Two Others Are Arrested on Charge of Alleged Fraud.

FILED BY POSTOFFICEMEN

Leaders Are Accused of Having Gained Millions by Fictitious Valuations.

New York, June 15.—Postoffice inspectors raided the Broadway office of the United Wireless Telegraph company today and caused the arrest of Christopher C. Wilson, president; Samuel S. Bogart, first vice president, and William W. Thompkins, president of the New York Selling agency, which officers of the wireless company say was formerly their fiscal agent, but has ceased to represent them.

Chief Inspector Mayer subsequently gave out a long formal statement in which he charges that, although the company has been running at a loss, the price of its shares has been advanced by manipulation to fictitious values and that individual officers of the company have sold their stock at a profit estimated at between five and ten million per cent.

Wilson was released in $25,000 bail, and Bogart in $10,000 bail for appearance on July 12, when a further hearing will be held before a federal commissioner. Thompkins was arrested at his farm near Mahopac Falls and brought here for arraignment.

Charges of Postal Inspector.

The complaint on which the warrants were issued is drawn under the federal criminal code, on information of Carter B. Keene, a postoffice inspector, who deposes that "the grounds of his belief are official investigations made by him, information obtained by him from the books of the said United Wireless Telegraph company and the inspection of letters and envelopes through the United States mails."

The specific instance of alleged fraudulent use of the mails is given as the mailing of a letter on March 3, 1910, to Michael O'Brien of Waterbury Conn.

"There are 28,000 shareholders of the company throughout the country," said Inspector Mayer in his statement, "many of whom have placed their savings in the stock of the company through false representations made by its officers. The real assets of the company, consisting of land, stations, patents, manufacturing plants, and real estate of all kinds appear to be worth at a conservative estimate $400,000, or an actual worth of 2 cents a share at par value."

Two million shares have been issued at a par value of $10 a share, but the stock has recently been put up to $50 a share. Thus, argues the inspector in his statement, "by taking the last amount quoted ($400,000 of actual assets) at $50 a share, the stock is really worth as $400,000 is to $1 000,000,000, or $.0004 a share."

Gives History of Company.

The inspector says the company was originally incorporated under the laws of Maine in 1904 as the Amalgamated Wireless Securities company, and that it had merely a legal existence until it changed its name in 1906 to its present title and took over the assets and business of the defunct American Deforest Wireless Telegraph company, which was then running at a loss and in default in interest on its bonds, exchanging therefor its own securities on a 10 for 1 basis.

At this time, says the statement, "when officers of the De Forest company were secretly conniving to abandon it, and leave the stockholders a mass of worthless securities, its stock had been forced to an alleged value of $12.50 a share, or $2.50 above the par. In the statement issued to the stockholders (of the United) there appeared as an asset stocks and bonds in other companies, $14,148,610. This refers to the defunct American De Forest wireless stock. . . . Yet to those persons who ask for exchange of De Forest for United Wireless the answer is sent out that the De Forest is absolutely worthless.

"Another item in the statement sent out to stockholders was patents and patent rights, $5,520,233. The affairs of the company were recently audited by a firm of licensed accountants who placed the book value of all patents at $20,233.

Says Officers Reaped Harvest.

"The officers of the company have sold to the public thousands of shares, claiming that they were holding their own shares and putting the money received from the public into the plants of the company. One of the officers is believed to have cleaned up $5,000,000 at $10 a share and possibly $10,000,000 at the ranging prices of $10 and $50. The other officers of lesser degree have profited in proportion."

None of the men arrested today had any explanations to make, but a statement was given out by C. C. Galbraith, general manager of the United, in which he says:

"The action of the federal authorities will in no way affect the commercial business of the company. The difficulties in which stock salesmen may involve any stock company through unauthorized statements are well known to every one who has ever been engaged in building up a business in which the sale of stock is a factor."

Arthur M. King, counsel for the United, said tonight that for several months the postoffice department had been harassing the company here and elsewhere. He attributed the present prosecution to the discontent of certain stockholders who might have been unfairly treated by other stockholders. These latter stockholders had, however, no connection, he said, with the management of the company.

He disowned responsibility for advertisements of stock which he said had been put out by the New York Selling agency, now defunct, over the protest of the United management.

Christopher Columbus Wilson, president of the United, is a financier of the self-made school. He was born in Mississippi in 1845, of Irish descent, and never had more than three months of schooling. He became successively a cotton farmer, a banker in Denver, a miner, and finally a promoter of wireless securities. He lives at the Waldorf-Astoria when in New York.

NO INQUIRY IN CHICAGO.

District Attorney Sims and James E. Stuart, postoffice inspector in charge in Chicago, said yesterday that no investigation of the United Wireless company had been made in Chicago, where a branch office of the concern is maintained.

"The allegations of fraud are ridiculous," said E. C. Newton, manager of the Chicago branch of the business. "It is absolutely false, the statement that our company has not been making expenses. In fact, it has been making money and the business is developing wonderfully. Seventy-two boats on Lake Michigan are equipped with our service and we are maintaining twenty-six wireless stations on land.

New Electric Line to Use Third Rail.

Lansing, Mich., June 15.—[Special.]—Work will be begun next Monday on an electric railway to run from here to Grand Ledge. It will use third rail power. J. S. Mudge and J. W. Ewing of Grand Ledge promoted the road and R. E. Olds of this city is said to be interested with them in the company.

President United Wireless Company Charged with Fraud in Sales of Stock.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS WILSON

Christopher Columbus Wilson, president of the United Wireless company, is the chief of the officials of the company who were arrested yesterday by the postoffice authorities, charged with selling shares in the company on fraudulent statements in regard to the company's assets.

HARVESTER CO. ADDS TO PLANT

Structural Work on Chicago Tractor Factory Completed.

MEANS MUCH LARGER FORCE.

Manager Tells New Policy Adopted in State Investigation.

The practical completion of structural work on one of the main buildings of the International Harvester company's $1,500,000 tractor engine factory was announced yesterday by C. S. Funk, general manager of the company. The new factory, which will be in operation by Jan. 1, employing about 1,000 men, is to form a new industry at the Chicago plant.

The factory will occupy a tract of about twenty-five acres at the west of the main plant, fronting on Marshall boulevard and the tracks of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway. It will be made up of two main buildings and a number of smaller ones. Construction has been under way for several weeks, but was delayed by a strike of structural steel workers.

Milwaukee Works Still Used.

At present the manufacture of tractor engines has been carried on at the Milwaukee factory, where about ten engines of fifteen and twenty horse power have been turned out daily. The operations at Milwaukee will not be stopped but the local plant will be given over to the manufacture of heavier engines of twenty to forty horse power. The productive capacity will reach, it is claimed, between 2,000 and 4,000 a year.

The engines are used mostly for dragging many bladed plows and carting on highways.

Mr. Funk commented at length on the new policy of the company as shown by the brief filed in answer to the charges made in 1907 by Gov. Hadley of Missouri, then attorney general. The brief denies altogether the charges of Attorney General Hadley that the Harvester company has attempted to operate in restraint of trade or to the disadvantage of the public.

Officers and Books in Evidence.

The unusual feature of the case, the latest development of which is the forwarding of the brief to former Judge Theodore Brace, the appointed commissioner, is that last year the company sent its officers and books to Missouri to present all evidence desired.

"This is a policy that we have adopted," said Mr. Funk, in explaining the affair. "The 'trust' policy of hindering the state in every possible way, refusing even to admit its own existence and resorting to all legal technicalities, is notorious. Instead of following this we have done all in our power to make this a free investigation, and I think a dismissal of the charges will show the wisdom of the policy."

ESTABLISH NEW FIRE AGENCY TO OPERATE IN THIS FIELD.

Herrick, Auerbach & Vastine Enter Into Partnership—New Secretary Named for Federal Life of Chicago.

Announcement was made yesterday of the establishment of a new fire insurance agency, Herrick, Auerbach & Vastine. Herrick & Auerbach are western managers of the Pittsburg Fire, German Fire of Wheeling, Lumbermens and Mechanics' of Philadelphia. Sedgwick S. Vastine has been in the fire insurance business in the city for twenty-five years, now being connected with Moore, Case, Lyman & Hubbard. He will be the managing partner.

The new firm will open an office in the National Life building July 1, taking part of the quarters now occupied by A. Loeb & Sons.

The agency will represent the four companies already mentioned and also the Humboldt Fire of Pittsburg. The Herrick & Auerbach companies are now represented by Moore, Case, Lyman & Hubbard, who will continue in the same relationship with these institutions. Willis S. Herrick of Herrick & Auerbach has had a long connection in La Salle street local fire offices. First he was a member of the firm of R. S. Critchell & Co., then of Lyman & Herrick, and later of Moore, Case, Lyman & Herrick. Mr. Auerbach has devoted his time to general agency work.

Announcement was made during the day by President Isaac Miller Hamilton of the Federal Life of Chicago that T. W. Appleby, secretary of the Central Life of Ottawa, Ill., has been appointed secretary and actuary of the Federal Life. He will assume his new position July 1 or soon thereafter.

DENIES LIVING IS COSTLY.

Speaker Says Americans Have Easy Time Compared to Others.

Aurora, Ill., June 15.—[Special.]—Corruption in the Illinois legislature was denounced today in resolutions adopted by "Group 4" of the Illinois Bankers' association, which takes in Cook, Kane, Dupage, Kendall, Will, Lake, and McHenry counties. The resolutions say:

"We deplore the placing of inefficient and misfit men to represent the citizens in our state legislature, men who are not competent to give advice in the ordinary affairs of every day business and who do not command the confidences of their fellow citizens, and we demand that the bankers of this state take an active interest in the selection of better men."

Denies High Living Cost.

Prof. Cyril Hopkins of Illinois university, declared in an address that the people of the United States are being "hoodwinked" when they are told the cost of living is high. The educator said that the cost of living here is low when compared to that in Russia, China, and other large countries of the old world.

"We people in the United States are not rightfully informed when told that the cost of living is high," said the educator. "Instead of yelling hard times and looking to some one else for aid, the people should stop and devise a way to head off high cost in the future.

"The trouble is that we are allowing our land to decrease in value while the population is increasing so fast that the land is becoming crowded. Over in Russia, China, and India, where the men are not paid near as well as they are in the United States, they have reason to yell hard. We never hear of famines in the United States."

Officers for Next Year.

The following officers of group 4 were elected for the coming year:

Chairman—W. G. Adams, Chicago.
Secretary—William Hurst, Chicago.
Treasurer—Charles S. Backus, Hampshire.
Executive committee—W. D. Steward, Plano.
G. A. Dayton, West Chicago.
D. H. Jackson, Lake Forest.
Frank Leiss, Mokena.
C. B. Whittemore, Marengo.

The visitors were entertained at an old fashioned barbecue of roast lamb and pork.

LOSE MONEY HAULING COAL; HIGHER RATES ARE ASKED.

Illinois Central Railroad and Other Carriers Present Statistics to Illinois Commission.

The principal coal carrying railroads running into Chicago are sending the Illinois railroad and warehouse commission many statistical exhibits in support of their contention that the freight rates on coal ought to be advanced from the Illinois mines an average of 10 cents a ton.

This is in accordance with the agreement by which the commission is making an investigation of the reasonableness of the proposed advances without oral evidence. The railroad exhibits will be submitted to the attorneys for the Illinois Manufacturers' association and other complainants who have asked the commission to prescribe a reduced schedule of rates and who will reply with exhibits of their own in contradiction.

The tables of figures in the railroad exhibits were prepared to show that the rates from Illinois mines to Chicago on coal are lower than from other points, and on other commodities. In the case of the Illinois Central it is claimed that in many instances coal is actually carried at a loss, including the expenses of the return haul of an empty coal car.

Comparisons of coal rates with other rates and citations of increased prices for wages and materials are largely relied on by the roads.

For three of the principal coal carrying roads, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Big Four, and Illinois Central, a table is introduced showing that while the average rate per ton mile on all freight is 4.76, 5.44 and 5.96 mills, respectively, the average rate on coal is but 3.60, 3.28, and 3.50, and on other freight is 6.42, 6.49, and 7.46.

U. S. LAGS IN LAWS, MITCHELL CLAIMS

Former Head of Mineworkers Urges Legislation Protecting Toilers.

DEATH TOLL TOO LARGE.

Cherry Mine Superintendent, Who Also Speaks, Weeps as He Talks of Horror.

Workmen's compensation laws and better protective legislation for industrial workers of the country were urged by John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers of America, in a talk before state mine inspectors at a banquet held last evening at the Chicago Automobile club.

He declared that the United States is far behind European nations in the matter of industrial legislation and the use of safety devices for the protection of life and limb of workmen in hazardous occupations.

"The terrible mine catastrophe at Cherry suggests to our minds remedies for the prevention of similar occurrences," said Mr. Mitchell. "No body of men has done more in the way of making mines safer than the state mine inspectors.

Huge Death Toll No Credit.

"It is no credit, however, to the United States that a larger number is killed in industry than if two great nations were continually at war. I want to say with that great man, Theodore Roosevelt, who soon will be received with acclaim by his countrymen, that this country is far behind European nations in industrial legislation.

"It seems to me it is high time that our country takes its place among the most advanced. The United States is now the only place where the antiquated system of assumed risk and other legal doctrines still obtain. Isn't it much better to have an automatic compensation system for the workers?

"But the real problem is to preserve the life and limb of our wage earners. It is more valuable to society that the workers save their limbs and preserve their health. As Americans we should be ashamed to confess that our country is the most backward nation in the world in industrial legislation.

"To you men who are charged with great responsibility belongs part of the task of developing a uniform system of legislation for the protection of miners. I submit that the conservation of our human resources is vastly more important than the conservation of all the material resources on earth. I urge upon you to do your part in making the United States the safest and best protected nation in the world, instead of the worst."

Weeps as He Tells of Horror.

Mr. Mitchell was preceded by William W. Taylor, general superintendent of the Cherry mine and other coal mine properties of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, who related incidents that led up to the disaster at Cherry. Mr. Taylor's voice grew husky and his eyes were filled with tears several times during his recital of incidents connected with the mine horror.

Other speakers were F. Cushing Moore, state mine inspector of Idaho, and Clarence Hall, explosive engineer at the United States testing station, Pittsburg.

A list of seventeen suggestions for better safety measures in mines was suggested by a committee on mining legislation at the morning session at the Grand Pacific hotel. One of the suggestions was that a department of mines be established in each coal producing state, with a chief inspector in charge. Suggestions on timbering, ventilation, electric signal systems, and other technical subjects were discussed.

In the afternoon the delegates went on automobile rides through the parks and boulevards. The convention will close tomorrow.

"WALL STREET SAVES A DOLLAR, WE DON'T NEED TO"—HILL.

President of Great Northern Says It Is Absurd for Western Roads to Cut Expenses.

St. Paul, Minn., June 16.—President L. W. Hill of the Great Northern railway company today denied the report that the Great Northern railway had begun retrenchment by laying off men engaged in construction work.

"I have not seen an order laying off any men on our line," he said. "We are going ahead with the work just as we did before."

"Are any of the other railroads laying off men, particularly the Northern Pacific?" he was asked.

"O, that is a New York institution," he replied. "Wall street saves a dollar wherever it can. The Great Northern is a St. Paul institution. Things are different here. There is every indication that we will have an excellent crop in the northwest, so why should we curtail expenses?"

Lovett Confirms Traffic Agreement.

New York, June 15.—President Lovett of the Union and Southern Pacific railroads today officially confirmed the reports of a traffic agreement between the Southern Pacific and the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, stating that the agreement went into effect today and would continue for ten years.

Rehearing in Pullman Case?

Washington, D. C., June 15.—Application has been made to the interstate commerce commission by the Pullman and the Great Northern railroad for a rehearing of the cases in which the commission ordered a reduction of sleeping car rates. The commission has notified all parties that it will hear oral arguments next Friday afternoon.

New Head of Texas Central.

Waco, Tex., June 15.—Directors of the Texas Central railroad met today and R. H. Baker, who purchased the Texas Central last week in New York, was elected president, and Charles Hamilton was retained as vice president and general manager.

B. & O. MEN IN CHICAGO.

Freight traffic officers of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to the number of approximately 100 from every section of the country came in a body to Chicago yesterday for the annual "roundup" of the freight department at the Congress hotel, and will spend two days in making a careful inspection and study of the Chicago terminal situation.

At a business session in the afternoon details of the freight department work were discussed by various officers, and President Daniel Willard made a brief talk urging cooperation between departments and courteous consideration in all dealings with the public.

NEW PLEA ON INSURANCE LAWS.

Iowa Underwriters Suggest That Proposed Changes Be Presented to Legislature by State Auditor.

Des Moines, Ia., June 15.—[Special.]—On the theory that state senators and representatives do not know what kind of insurance laws are needed, the Iowa Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents today adopted resolutions suggesting that all proposed laws relating to insurance be presented to the legislature by the state auditor.

NEWS NOTES OF FINANCIAL WORLD.

Jones Bros.' company of New York has been incorporated, with a capital of $10,000,000, to deal in coffees, teas, and spices, with a directorate made up of William J. Burke, Newark; Arthur A. Jones, Harry L. Jones, Clarence F. Westein, and Edward D. Freeman of Brooklyn. Jones Bros.' Importing company of New York, with a capital of $250,000 and the same directors, was also incorporated to do a general commercial business.

A St. Paul syndicate is planning the establishment of a steel plant and smelter near Cowley, Alberta, and has already secured large coal and iron deposits in the region, with an option on iron deposits for $250,000. The ore is magnetile, adapted for steel manufacture. The St. Paul men have also secured a charter for a railway from Butte to Calgary and contracts for construction will be let this month.

Total earnings of the Casein Company of America for the year ended Dec. 31 were $128,700, a slight decrease from 1908 and 1907, net earnings showing a slight increase over those of 1909, and allowing a continuation of the regular 8 per cent annual dividend on the $1,000,000 preferred stock.

Exploitation of $20,000,000 coal properties in southern Colorado, owned by J. P. Morgan, B. V. Cheney, and J. A. Owenby, is being planned, according to a Denver report. Mr. Morgan has given authority to expend $1,000,000, if necessary, to develop the mines.

May passenger receipts of the United Railroads of San Francisco aggregated about $848,000, which compares with less than $653,000 for May, 1908, when thousands of visitors attended the fleet celebration in the city.

The port of New York's May statement of foreign commerce during May shows a decrease of about $1,000,000 in imports and a gain of over $4,000,000 as compared with May, 1909. Figures on duties collected are $11,013,000, as compared with $12,795,000 for May, 1909.

The International Aviation association, limited, the first Canadian enterprise for the manufacture of aviating devices, has been incorporated for $100,000 by the dominion government, with headquarters at Montreal.

The $4,000,000 Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway 4 per cent consolidated mortgage bonds, purchased a few days ago by Speyer & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., have all been sold.

The Interborough Rapid Transit company of New York reports a surplus over dividends of $2,814,333 for the eleven months ended May 31, an increase of $1,467,894 over the same period a year ago.

Virginia railway company's coke tonnage for the first week of June is given as 58,664 tons, while 284,741 is given as the tonnage for 1910.

The Ohio Fuel Supply company reports gross earnings of $2,928,282 for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1910. This is an increase of $359,313, and a surplus after dividends of $659,748.

The Bank of Montreal is issuing in London $1,400,000 of the 4½ per cent debentures of the city of Edmonton at 103.

LATE WALL STREET NEWS AND GOSSIP.

New York, June 15.—[Special.]—Judge Lacombe has authorized Adrian H. Joline and Douglas Robinson, receivers of the Metropolitan Street railway company, and William W. Ladd, receiver for the New York City railway company, to issue $3,500,000 replacement receivers' certificates, which shall be a first lien, to run one year and pay 6 per cent. These and $3,000,000 special franchise tax certificates authorized on Monday have been sold to a syndicate consisting of the Central Trust company, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the Guaranty Trust company, and the Farmers' Loan and Trust company.

Stockholders of the United States Motor company at a special meeting today authorized an increase in the preferred stock of the company from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000 and an increase in the common stock from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000. An official of the company states this increase in capital is for the purpose of acquiring other companies. On Jan. 27 last the capital stock of the company was increased from $2,000,000 to $16,000,000. The preferred stock pays 1¾ per cent per annum in dividends, and owing to the increasing prosperity of the company it is believed this dividend can be declared notwithstanding that the amount of preferred stock has been doubled.

The profits of the banking group which recently floated $10,000,000 of Baldwin Locomotive company bonds were distributed today to the participants in this transaction without any call having been made upon them for payments on account of their subscriptions to the underwriters of this issue. Bankers were so successful in placing these bonds, which carried 5 per cent interest and a first mortgage on the property of the company, that they realized a profit for their associates without having to call upon them to put up any money. The bonds were purchased from the company by Brown Brothers of Philadelphia and Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

The Wall Street Journal today says:

"Aside from the interest that always attaches to a combination of two great banking institutions, the merging of the Commercial and Continental National banks of Chicago bears more than usual significance. It draws particular attention to the almost phenomenal growth of that city as a banking center within the last few years. Indeed, one might almost say, within the last few months. New York City has for some time been so prominently in the lead in this respect that the progress made by other large reserve cities has been almost ignored. Lately, however, the manner in which the big banks in Chicago have been enlarging their resources has advanced them considerably on the roll of honor and made them dangerous rivals for the laurels now held by some of their eastern correspondents."

It was rumored in Wall street today that negotiations are under way for the issue of a part of the $30,000,000 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates of the New York Central lines which have been in the hands of J. P. Morgan & Co. for some time. The success of the recent offerings of $11,000,000 Pennsylvania equipment trusts on a 4½ per cent basis has been advanced as a reason for a sale of New York Central certificates at this time. Nothing official was to be had.

J. P. Morgan & Co. gave notice today that up to June 20 they would pay par and interest at 4 per cent for Hocking Valley preferred stock in pursuance of the previously announced plan of the road to retire the stock. The injunction which for a time held up the retirement has been modified to permit the carrying out of the company's plan for the paying off of the stock.

The bond market here is not dead. Bankers who bought the $1,000,000 Panhandle bonds have sold them, although it took them a week to do it. Negotiations for the sale of a block of about $11,000,000 New York Central equipment trusts are reported to be nearing completion. Probably, however, most, if not all, of these are placed abroad.

At a special meeting of the Welsbach company at Gloucester, N. J., authority was given the directors today to increase the authorized capital by $2,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock. An immediate issuance of $1,225,000 of the new stock at par to the stockholders is planned.

WILL SPEND $5,000,000 MORE ON BIG STEEL PLANT AT GARY.

Duplicate of Electric Power Station to Be Erected at Cost of $4,500,000 and Present Structure Will Be Improved.

Richmond, Ind., June 15.—[Special.]—By plans that are now being worked out the United States Steel corporation will expend more than $5,000,000 additional in increasing its property holding at Gary.

Chief of the new buildings to be erected is a duplicate of the present electric power station which required an outlay of $4,500,000, and which now operates the steel works and blast furnaces and furnishes current for pumping water and lighting the city of Gary and surrounding towns. It is also intended to expend $1,000,000 in improving the present power station.

The new building will be 105 by 575 feet and power from the new electric station will be utilized to operate the plants of the American Bridge, American Tin Plate, and Sheet Steel and National Tube companies.

O. K. ON INSURANCE MERGER.

State Supt. Potter Withdraws Objections to Union of U. S. and Western Life Companies.

State Insurance Superintendent Fred W. Potter yesterday withdrew his objections to a merger of the United States Life Endowment company with the Western Life Indemnity company. His message was read at a meeting of the policy holders of the United States Life Endowment company, who thereupon reaffirmed the contract by which they will be reinsured.

Mayor Silas Cook of East St. Louis, president of the United States Life Endowment company, presided over the meeting, at which 1,548 votes were cast. Among those present was Gen. George M. Moulton, president of the Western Life Indemnity, to whose efforts the success of the consolidation is largely due.

"Supt. Potter first took the position that we were trying to do something not in accordance with the law," said Gen. Moulton, "but now he sees that his opinion was not warranted by the facts."

CREDIT MEN ELECT OFFICERS.

R. S. White Is Named President of Chicago Association at Its Annual Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Chicago Credit Men's association at the Midday club last night officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—R. S. White, American Steel and Wire company.
First vice president—M. S. Green, Armour & Co.
Second vice president—John L. Pfaff, S. H. Castle company.
Treasurer—W. J. Lawlor, First National bank.
Directors for two years—F. H. McAdow, Staver Carriage company; S. J. Whitlock, Belding Bros. & Co.; D. E. Humphrey, Cluett, Peabody & Co.; Henry W. Hardy, Libby, McNeill & Libby; Charles F. Hoerr, West Side Trust and Savings bank; Charles B. Miller, Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

In the reports is was stated that the organization in Chicago has increased its membership by 300, bringing it to a total of 904 in Chicago during the last year.

SAYS J. T. HARAHAN HIRED HIM TO EXPOSE ALL OF GRAFTERS.

Detective Declares President of Illinois Central Was Eager to Push Prosecution of Thieving Employes.

New York, June 15.—[Special.]—"President J. T. Harahan of the Illinois Central railroad never countenanced grafting in the car repairs. I know because he hired me to run down the crooks and get evidence of their wrongdoing for presentment to the Chicago grand jury," said William J. Burns, the investigator who uncovered the $2,000,000 frauds.

"An effort was made by some of the grafters to convey the impression that they were backed by Harahan," said Burns, "but this is known to be absurd by those who have been conducting the investigation.

"Several of the company's superintendents of machinery and transportation have been discharged at Harahan's orders and the criminal prosecution of the wrongdoers is being carried forward."

I. C. MEN BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Activity of the federal grand jury in its investigation of charges of discriminatory practices by the Illinois Central railroad was resumed yesterday afternoon when employes of the local freight department of the road were summoned to appear with records of transactions with Chicago shippers and consignees of vegetables and produce.

One witness, A. H. Davies, assistant chief clerk in the freight office of the railroad, was before the grand jury nearly all of the afternoon and he will be recalled today to tell of $8,000 uncollected charges for unloading vegetables shipped to Chicago produce consignees.

The government is seeking evidence that the Illinois Central has been guilty of discriminating against certain Chicago produce men in charging them for the service of unloading shipments while certain favored consignees have been given the unloading service free of charge.

Davies, who, however, is not a relative of Edward G. Davies, the commission merchant who made the original allegations against the Illinois Central, took into the grand jury room a truck load of books which had been taken by the government from the Illinois Central freight office for use before the grand jury. In the books transactions with local consignees were traced by Davies and the entries in the books explained by him.

It is expected that within a few days Edward G. Davies will be called to tell what he knows of the alleged discriminations against himself as a consignee and other local dealers in vegetables and produce.

Mr. Davies alleges that it has been the practice of the Illinois Central road for several years to exact payment from certain consignees for the service given in unloading shipments and at the same time furnishing the service free to favored shippers.

KANSAS NEEDS 40,000 HANDS.

Wheat Harvest This Year Will Demand a Large Army of Field Workers.

Topeka, Kas., June 15.—Basing his estimate on recent reports from the wheat belt of the state, Charles Harris, director of the state free employment bureau, states that Kansas will need about 40,000 harvest hands this year. His earlier estimate was 20,000. ward J. Ryan.

HOUSE TO MOVE ON STEEL TRUST

Committee Favors Resolution Asking Information to Show Conspiracy.

OTHERS MAY BE INVOLVED

Representative Stanley to Speak on Floor Unless Attorney General Acts.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—The judiciary committee of the house today made a move against the "steel trust" by reporting favorably a resolution by Representative Stanley of Kentucky calling upon the attorney general for all information which would tend to show that there exists an unlawful conspiracy in restraint of trade in that industry.

The resolution will be reported to the house tomorrow by Chairman Parker of New Jersey, who said that he had no doubt the house would pass it without opposition.

Representative Stanley declared he was in possession of a large amount of data and evidence upon this subject which he was prepared to offer. He added that if the attorney general reported to the house that such an unlawful trust existed he would turn his evidence over to the department of justice.

Will Air Information on Floor.

If the attorney general's report is to the contrary, Mr. Stanley says he will take the floor and give to the country the information in his possession.

Mr. Stanley's resolution inquires if the Carnegie Steel company, Federal Steel company, American Tin Plate company, National Tube company, American Bridge company, American Steel and Wire company, and the American Steel Hoop company are not in a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

It asks also if competition in these lines has not been injured by the "trust," the cost of their products increased to consumers, the quality deteriorated, or the wages of labor reduced.

The resolution inquires further if coal companies, railroad companies, banks and insurance companies, or directors of those institutions, have not conspired and confederated with the United States Steel company to cause the above results.

Convicts Roads of Rebating.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 15.—The Philadelphia and Reading railway, the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, and the Bethlehem Steel company were found guilty by a jury in the United States District court today of violating the Elkins law against granting and receiving illegal rebates.

The jury recommended that the court extend leniency to the defendants in imposing fines. Sentences will be imposed tomorrow. From April to October, 1907, the government alleged demurrage charges aggregating $55,000 had accrued against the steel company, but that the two railroads had canceled them without any compensation.

Oklahoma Begins Oil Suit.

Enid, Okla., June 15.—The trial of the Waters-Pierce Oil company on the charge of violating the anti-trust laws began before Judge Garber here today. Attorney General Charles West is prosecuting the company.

Complaint by Fruit Men.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—Compaint was made today to the interstate commerce commission by the Georgia Fruit exchange of Atlanta, Ga., against the Southern railway and other carriers regarding carload weights on fruit. The roads now require that a carload of fruit shall weigh 22,500 pounds as a minmum. This weight, the shippers allege, is excessive, and should be not to exceed 19,000 pounds, on account of the difficulty of proper handling and refrigeration.

ACTION BY BOARD OF TRADE ON INDEMNITIES IS DELAYED.

Members Decide to Postpone Action Until Further Legal Advice Can Be Secured—Sentiment Is Divided.

Members of the Chicago board of trade are rapidly taking sides on the question of indemnity trading and sentiment is by no means unanimous in favor of abolishing this system.

At a meeting of the members held yesterday afternoon to discuss the question it was decided to postpone action until further legal advice could be secured.

A large number of the members undoubtedly are in favor of continuing some form of trade in indemnities, and it is a question whether any amendment abolishing them entirely would carry.

The meeting of the day was addressed by President A. S. White, J. C. F. Merrill, and A. O. Mason, and the proposed new plan originated by George Nichols was given consideration.

SEEK UNIFORM TAX SYSTEM FOR THE ENTIRE COUNTRY.

Real Estate Men, Meeting at St. Paul, Pledge Aid to National Movement for Change.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 15.—[Special.]—A national movement for the proper fixing of tax rates throughout the country, to keep them at a standard that will protect the interests of wage earners and home builders, was adopted by the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, which opened its convention this morning for a three days' session.

The movement was launched in the opening address of President William W. Hannan, who placed the matter of civic duty before the delegates and every one will boost for a betterment in every corner of the nation.

The report of the treasurer Albert H. Weston of Chicago, showed $1,480 in the treasury. Edward A. Halsey of Chicago, the executive secretary, showed that the mayors of every city of over 300,000 inhabitants had been communicated with in the scheme to establish local chapters of the association.

MARQUETTE HAS NEAR RIOT FOR RIDE WITH BOOSTERS.

Thirty-five Hundred Board Theodore Roosevelt with Association of Commerce, Leaving Like Number on Dock.

Marquette, Mich., June 15.—[Special.]—A struggle to board the Theodore Roosevelt, amounting nearly to a riot, took place here tonight when the Chicago Association of Commerce Boosters were hosts on a moonlight ride on the lake.

Three thousand five hundred visitors, the capacity of the boat, crowded on, leaving an even larger crowd on the docks, many trying to pay admissions.

Thus far the Boosters have entertained 20,000 guests, as follows: Ludington, public inspection and afternoon ride, 4,500; Manistee, afternoon inspection and evening ride, 8,000; the Soo, eveing ride only, 3,000; Marquette, evening ride, 3,500.

ANTI-TRUST SUIT AGAINST GROCERS

Southern Wholesale Association Accused of Violating the Sherman Act.

MANY FIRMS DEFENDANTS

Coercion by Means of So-Called "Green Book" Charged in Government Petition.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—The department of justice today began suit at Birmingham, Ala., against the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association on the charge that it constitutes a combination in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The suit includes also the officers and members of the association. It is made up of firms and corporations engaged in the wholesale grocery business in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indian Territory, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

Coercion Is Alleged.

The petition alleges that the combination was authorized for the purpose, and has resulted in coercing and preventing manufacturers from selling the actual necessaries of life direct to the retail dealer or consumer or to any wholesale grocer in the southern states unless he was listed in a so-called "green book" published by the association. It also alleges that manufacturers are persuaded, urged, and coerced by the association to fix limited prices at which staple articles of food are to be sold and to refuse to sell such commodities to any wholesale grocer who does not maintain the prices so fixed and listed. Many other allegations are made.

Many complaints have come from the people of the south because of the alleged operations of the association. United States Attorney Street of Birmingham has been in Washington several days on the case, which will be pushed to a speedy trial.

Would Punish Ice Trust.

The prosecution under the Sherman anti-trust law of the Atlanta Coal and Ice company, a corporation formed to operate chiefly in the southern states, is directed by a resolution introduced by Representative Clark of Florida. It was referred to the judiciary committee.

CANNED FRUIT PRICES GO UP.

Reports received from California in the Chicago market yesterday were to the effect that packers of canned fruits had advanced their prices 10c per dozen over the opening price for 2½s and 25c on gallon can No. 10s. This is an advance over the quotations on futures given to jobbers two months ago on the better grades, which so far are the only ones affected.

The new prices are not expected to be felt by the retail trade for a short time—until the jobbers are compelled to place additional orders with the packers—but there is a gradual firming up on prices on account of indications of a short pack.

There is a tendency upward on all lines of canned goods and dried fruits, with prospects of an advance any day.

Advance in Alaska Salmon.

Canned red Alaska salmons, talls, went up 10c per dozen cans in the local market during the day, being practically out of the market. The new pack of salmon will not be in before early October.

Flour remains weak, but there has been no change in quotations to the retailer, as the stock of the jobbers is not yet exhausted.

Dried fruits continue to feel a firm demand, with apricots more cleaned up than any other line.

Quotations are being made as follows to the retail trade:

New crop [1910] b. f. Japan teas, 32@38c per lb; new crop sun dried Japan teas, 31@37c.

LOW SHOES BOUGHT FREELY

Advent of Hot Weather Brings Liberal Trade in Shops.

FALL DEMAND IS HEAVY.

Gunmetals and Tans to Be Popular Autumn Sellers.

The prediction of one Chicago manufacturer last week that a demand for low shoes would become active with good warm weather has come true.

"Wait until the warm breezes blow and many persons will seek the oxfords no matter whether it is in May or July," the manufacturer had said as an encouragement to dealers who had stocked up with low shoes and were fearful lest they would remain on their hands on account of continued cool weather.

Retail merchants report that they sold more low shoes on last Saturday than on any other day this season and general business has improved immediately under the stimulating influence of seasonable weather.

Quick evidence of the heavy Saturday buying of oxfords was received by the manufacturers in orders to fill broken lots, a condition, which, as a rule, does not obtain until low shoes have been in demand for some time.

Fall Orders Are Satisfactory.

Orders for fall shoes received by letter are satisfactory to the manufacturers and other wholesalers, while favorable reports are being received from salesmen in the field. Indications point to merchants stocking up as heavy as usual for the fall trade.

Gun metals will be popular next fall and, judging from advance orders, there will be a considerable demand for tans. In the low cuts now being sold by retailers, gun metals and tans run about even in popularity.

Among the pronounced changes in fall shoes will be the introduction of what is known as the high toe last for both men and women.

The high toe last consists of a toe built up by forming a box or roof of sole leather to take the place of the ordinary toe. In the extremes the shoe, presents the appearance of the prow of a gunboat, but in the mediums, or more conservative styles, it is not unattractive and is said to be comfortable in that it gives the toes plenty of room for play. In this way the cramping sometimes noticed in the existing style of shoe is avoided. That is the purpose of the newcomer.

The high toe is for the northern trade. For the southern market there is an extremely thin toe, which looks as though it had been flattened out. This is said to be popular south of the Mason and Dixon line.

High Arch Last an Innovation.

A last that is expected to appeal especially to the particular trade and is one of the season's innovations is called the high arch last.

Gun metals and tans in the high arch and with heels ranging from 1½ inches to 1⅞ inches in height are proving good sellers.

The military heel continues in popularity, with a range of heights such as 1¼, 1½, and 1⅞ inches.

In men's shoes there will be more laces than buttons, but button shoes are meeting with a heavy demand. Short vamps are popular.

Raised eyelets are an extreme that will appeal to young men looking for novelties.

Women's Styles More Conservative.

There is less of the freakish and more of the conservative in the fall styles of shoes for women. In point of last the high toe effect, giving a decidedly graceful appearance to the foot, is a new thing and is meeting with favor.

Cloth tops and gun metals will be popular. Cloth tops come in both the patent calf and gun metal. Besides there are dull kid tops. Button shoes will be worn principally. The shield or wing tip is a new thing in women's shoes that is being widely sold to retailers.

NEW YORK DRY GOODS MARKET CONTINUES TO DRAG ALONG.

Selling Agents Not Worrying, as They Are Carrying Smallest Stocks in Years —Print Cloth Buyers Holding Back.

New York, June 15.—[Special.]—While business in the staple cotton goods market continues to drag as badly as ever, selling agents are feeling more comfortable as they are carrying the smallest stocks in years. During the last two or three months stocks have been steadily worked down, and with curtailment now in force at the mills, stocks are not likely to increase rapidly.

The purchase of five large mills at Spray, N. C., by Marshall Field & Co. created considerable talk in the market here today and led to all sorts of surmises, and predictions. The latest reports received were to the effect that the Chicago concern intends to manufacture the goods it now handles and enlarge the plants so other lines can be turned out. While future plans have not been announced, it is a step in the direction of manufacturers and distributers being combined to meet the gradually changing conditions in the marketing of merchandise. Stocks have reached such a point that clearance sales are not necessary to clean up, prior to the opening of fall lines. What few goods jobbers have on hand they are likely to hold at full prices until the present situation shows more signs of cleaning up.

The print cloth market shows few signs of improvement. Buyers are evidently awaiting further developments or something that will stimulate trade. Small sales are reported in one or two quarters, mostly at slight concessions from open market values. Buyers are making some offers for forward contracts at spot prices, but have failed to place these offers. Business will hardly quicken before conditions improve in the market for finished goods.

The features of the market are the growth in the demand for popular price broadcloths and the interest that is being manifested by the manufacturers in heavy cloakings have plaid backs. Jobbers increased their initial orders on broadcloths substantially and the leading makers of goods that can be retailed at $1.00 a yard have notified their customers that further engagements cannot be accepted except for August delivery. The assortments given show that a large variety of shades is wanted, but the leader is black, and on the latter the manufacturers are behind with their shipments. The cloaking at present most highly regarded is a plain face material with a fancy back. This cloth looks much like a steamer rug in piece goods and has jumped into almost instant popularity. The sales as yet have not assumed large proportions and the mills making the best qualities doubt whether a great deal can be said to meet the demands of the trade. In some parts of the market an overproduction of cheap cloakings of this character is being predicted already.

Woolen piece dyes in fancy basket weaves were in fairly good request from both the jobbers and the cutters and the latter also asked the leading producers to increase their first orders placed on cotton warp goods. The interest shown by the jobbers in worsteds has not expanded materially during the recent past.

Whether or not a large amount of dress goods stands between the looms and the consumer is a question often discussed on the primary market and the consensus of opinion is that there is a good yardage available. The surplus, however, is said to be made up of material for which it would be difficult to find a quick outlet even under favorable conditions, and that the holders find it hard to interest purchasers even when low prices are named is shown by the results of the efforts that are being made in this direction.

Buyers for retail dress goods departments, it seems, are not being permitted to increase their stocks; the jobbers are not disposed to increase their obligations excepting on dress fabrics for which there is a demand and the cutters are confining their purchases to materials outside of which they do not care to go.

PLANS TO ENJOIN TRACTION MERGER

J. H. Lewis Tells Stand of Holders of Chicago Railways Certificates.

OPPOSED TO NEW BONDS.

Despite New Move, Also Cicero and Proviso Obstacle, Declared Deal Will Go Through.

Notice was served yesterday upon the Chicago Railways company and members of the subcommittee appointed Tuesday that if any attempt is made to carry out the plan of purchasing the Consolidated Traction lines application will be made to enjoin them. This notice was served by James Hamilton Lewis, acting for holders of participation certificates of the Chicago Railways company.

What with this legal fight pending and the declination of the Cicero and Proviso bondholders to accept the terms offered them it looks like breakers ahead for the consolidation of all the north and west side lines. Nevertheless the traction officials continued to take an optimistic view of the situation during the day and united in declaring that the deal was sure to go through.

"The position which my clients take is just this," said Attorney Lewis at night. "When the Chicago Railways secured the old Chicago Union Traction company's property, it was to assume the obligations of that company, and there was a specific agreement that certain bonds and participation certificates were to be issued in payment for the securities outstanding. This matter was all carefully worked out at the time.

Objection to New Bonds.

"Now it appears that the Chicago Railways company proposes to issue certain other bonds which will take precedence in the division of the income over these participation certificates. Some of these bonds are to be issued to pay for the Consolidated Traction bonds, which Judge Ball has held is one of the obligations of the Chicago Railways company, and which was therefore assumed by them originally.

"Our contention is that in order to pay the interest on these new bonds, the company will have to take the money which should go to the holders of the participation certificates under the original agreement, and therefore we have served notice on them that if any attempt is made to carry out such a plan, as outlined in the newspapers, we will enjoin them."

Favor Independent Operation.

Meanwhile the committee representing the holders of the $2,000,000 bonds of the Cicero and Proviso railway are disinclined to accept the offer made by the Chicago Railways company for their property.

While no definite decision has been reached, independent operation of the road is being seriously considered by the committee, which believes that the price offered for the bonds is not equal to their worth, and that more money can be made by operating independently.

As the reorganization committee of the Consolidated Traction company contemplated that some such decision would be reached by the Cicero and Proviso bondholders, and is ready to go ahead with the plans for consolidating the balance of the lines with the Chicago Railways company, independent of the Cicero and Proviso, it is not believed that there will be any hitch in the carrying out of the plans on this account.

Point Out Franchise Problems.

On the other hand, it is pointed out by city traction experts that the Madison street franchise and some of the other franchises within the city limits of the Cicero and Proviso have expired, that the bondholders, if they conclude to operate independently, will have to procure new franchises.

"The policy of the city has already been determined as to the terms on which it will grant a franchise to a street railway company," said one of the city officials.

"Franchises will be granted only where there is a working agreement at least with the other city traction lines for the interchange of transfers and through routes and a 5 cent fare within the city limits. Unless these terms are agree to by the Cicero and Proviso, and unless they can make an operating agreement with the Chicago Railways company, I don't believe there is a chance for them to get a franchise."

The holders of the bonds declare that they have made a definite offer to the Chicago Railways company to turn over their property on the same basis as the Ogden street railway, but that this offer has been rejected.

MONEY IS STEADY AT FIVE PER CENT

Chicago Bankers Hope for Easier Cash, but Hesitate to Loan Freely.

METROPOLITAN TO ACT.

Early Decision on Proposition to Merge "L" Roads Expected of the Directors.

Money rates in Chicago continue to hold steady with the commercial banks at a minimum of 5 per cent. It is not denied that for desirable maturities this rate may be shaded, but it is the going one. While believing that easier money must follow a little later, the banks are unwilling to lend freely. They are under the impression that the present is one of uncertainty, and until there shall develop a pronounced change it will be well to foster their reserves.

Balances of country banks hold steady, as a rule. If there should be an increase here in country deposits, the change would be almost immediately reflected in the money market. But instead of the volume of deposits growing, there is an early scattered demand from the west and southwest.

The local bond market, in sympathy with the money situation, shows but slight change. There has been some improvement in sentiment as it relates to higher priced bonds. The trouble into which some irrigation projects have fallen has halted the buying of 6 per cent bonds. There is of course always a fair demand for good municipal issues.

Metropolitan Will Act Soon.

There was some activity in local elevated shares yesterday. It is probable directors of the Metropolitan elevated will shortly act on the merger proposition, which has been informally under discussion by them for some time. A majority of the directors of the South Side elevated and a controlling interest in the Northwestern elevated have agreed to terms which will be submitted to the stockholders in due course.

Inasmuch as the plans for financing the offers to the different boards of directors as outlined here some time ago are being completed, the Metropolitan interests may be expected to formally pass upon the matter within the next week. There is no doubt that favorable action will be taken. This is the view of some of the leading interests in the property.

There has been street talk to the effect that the board of directors has agreed to recommend to the stockholders the sale of their property on a basis of 80 for the preferred and 30 for the common, and that the offer had been accepted.

No such price has been accepted by the Blair syndicate, nor will such a price be offered.

Situation in Mississippi Valley.

From replies to several hundred letters sent to many points in the Mississippi valley inquiring about the business and financial condition in each section, W. H. Colvin & Co. have made a synopsis which in a few words covers the general situation as reported by various interests in that territory. The synopsis follows:

1. There is an enormous demand for money for investment in southern, western, and Canadian lands, amounting in some localities to a craze.

2. There is great extravagance in all directions in the purchase of luxuries, particularly automobiles.

3. Deposits in country banks are shrinking notwithstanding heavy withdrawals from the centers, and interest rates are rising.

4. The country banks are not loaning on easily converted security. In other words, the loans must be liquidated by hard work and economy, the opposite of present tendencies.

5. A fair winter wheat crop seems assured. The northwest and Canada are badly deficient in moisture. The corn crop is three weeks late. The oat crop prospects are enormous. The hay crop is short.

6. The decline in grain prices is deplored and attributed to preconcerted efforts to depress farm products below their legitimate value.

7. No reference is made to politics nor to the uplifting efforts of legislation.

8. The vacillating policy in Washington has not affected affairs outside of the large cities.

9. The west and south are expecting a continuation of present activity and wholly unprepared for a slowing down in business, lower prices of commodities, or a period of high money rates.

Diamond Match Plans.

The proposition of the directors of the Diamond Match company to segregate the lumber from the match business will remain in abeyance, it is probable, for some little time. E. A. Potter, president of the American Trust and Savings bank, has coöperated with President E. R. Stettinius of the Diamond Match company in the important policies of the company. These have included the reduction of the dividend from a 10 to a 6 per cent basis, and gradual building up of the surplus and in consequence the establishment of the stock on a sound income basis. Both Mr. Stettinius and Mr. Potter are understood to regard it as being too early to work out the segregation plan.

Trust Company Charters.

The National Bank of the Republic has applied for a charter to organize the Trust and Savings Bank of the Republic. It is not intended to organize the trust company at once, but the directors of the bank will be prepared to do so whenever it is deemed expedient. The capital will be $1,000,000, owned by the stockholders of the National Bank of the Republic. This is in accordance with what has become the custom with national banks taking out trust company charters.

Directors of the National City bank have also under advisement the organization of a trust company and may at any time take out a charter.

The Commercial National bank was forestalled in the matter of a trust company charter bearing its name and in consequence was forced to buy out some enterprising individuals who had secured such a charter.

The Fort Dearborn National bank has a trust company charter secured several years ago. All the larger national banks have been stirred by the consolidation of the Continental and Commercial and each has figured on a way to increase its prestige.

Continental-Commercial Merger.

Owing to the many legal phases to be considered, the notices calling a special meeting of stockholders to vote on the merger of the Continental National bank and the Commercial National bank will not be sent out until Saturday or early next week. Levy Mayer is handling this matter and declared that the notices would be sent out at the earliest possible date.

Increase in Motor Capital.

Stockholders of the United States Motor company at a special meeting yesterday authorized an increase in the preferred stock of the company from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000 and an increase in common stock from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000. An official of the company states that this increase in the capital is for the purpose of acquiring other companies. On Jan. 27, 1910, the capital stock was increased from $2,000,000 to $16,000,000. The preferred stock is paying 1¾ per cent per annum in dividends.

Stock Exchange Committee Action.

Walter B. Smith, a son of Byron Smith and partner in the firm of John H. Wrenn & Co., was elected a member of the governing committee of the Chicago Stock exchange at the regular meeting yesterday afternoon. The election was to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles C. Adsit. Frank H. Scott was reëlected counsel for the exchange for the ensuing year.

The governing committee voted to adjourn from Friday, July 1 until Tuesday morning, July 5, pending a similar decision by the New York exchange.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., June 15.—[Special.]—After a firm opening and show of activity today business quieted down and prices eased off fractionally. Important news was the cut in the Old Dominion dividend to 25 cents a share, which was the result of a cut in the operating company's rate yesterday to 50c. There was little doing in the stock, though it lost 2¼ points on the day's trading. The feature of the afternoon market was an advance in North Lake to 12 on a report that the No. 8 drill had struck a lode supposed to be the Indian lode. Superior was also strong, advancing three points to 43. Elsewhere prices were inclined to sag, although there were no marked recessions. Call money, 3@4 per cent; time loans, short dates, 4@4½ per cent; time loans, six months, 4½@5 per cent; time loans, year, 4½@5 per cent.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, June 15.—Money was plentiful today and calls for £1,500,000 were easily met. Discount rates were easy. The stock market opened uncertain. Paris sold Rio Tintos and local traders realized in the rubber section, but the continent bought its favorites. In the afternoon better reports from the crude rubber auctions helped rubber shares, and the markets closed more cheerful but dull. Public orders were meager. Consols closed ⅛ lower. American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. During the first hour prices advanced under the lead of the Erie issues and other low priced shares which were bought by the continent. The sale of Southern Pacific bonds helped the market in the afternoon; prices were sustained by New York buying. The closing was steady. India council bills were allotted at 1s 3 15-16d.

BERLIN, June 15.—Trading was quiet, but prices were somewhat stronger on the boerse today. Exchange on London, 20 marks 49 pfennigs for checks. Money, 2¾ per cent. Private discount rate, 3⅝ per cent.

PARIS, June 15.—A firm tone prevailed on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 98 francs 97½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 23½ centimes for checks.

Profits in Tobacco Manufacture.

Sir Edward Payson Wills, who died in England recently, left an estate which is valued for probate at $12,500,000. He was the most important partner in the great English tobacco firm of W. D. & H. O. Wills, the dominating influence in the British tobacco combination, which is known as the Imperial Tobacco company. Since 1898 five tobacco manufacturers have died, leaving an aggregate probably in excess of $40,000,000. The brother of the late Sir Edward Wills, Sir Frederick Wills, last year died leaving $16,500,000. The Hatfield, Hignett, and Cope estates were proved at $6,500,000, $2,200,000, and $1,800,000, respectively.

Two New Banks Chartered.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.—[Special.]—Certificates have been issued authorizing the following national banks to commence business:

The First National bank of Lynch, Neb.; capital, $25,000. C. F. Roe, president; Dan Melaha, cashier; J. A. Hodge, assistant cashier. This is a conversion of the Ponca Valley bank, Lynch, Neb.

The First National bank of Sandoval, Ill.; capital, $25,000. H. R. Hall, president; Adolph Thomas, vice president; B. F. Holmes, cashier.

CLOSING IS HEAVY IN STOCK MARKET

Fractional Losses Predominate as Result of Developments in New York.

TRADE RETURNS FEATURE

Substantial Reduction in Imports and Increase in Exports Favorable Situation.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

New York, June 15.—[Special.]—After moving forward smartly in the forenoon session the stock market turned heavy today, closing with fractional losses predominating upon a volume of business slightly larger than the restricted trading on Tuesday.

The morning demand for stocks seemed to come for the most part from speculators anxious to cover short contracts, owing to increasing narrowness. The only features of trading were the strength of Erie issues and weakness of copper stocks in connection with the further reduction in the price of metal and the small demand even at the low level now obtaining.

By all odds the important development of the day was the publication of foreign trade returns for the month of May, showing a substantial reduction in imports, an actual increase in exports, and consequently a fairly satisfactory balance on the right side of the account. Imports fell $14,000,000 under April figures and $43,000,000 under the March total, while exports rose $7,800,000 over shipments for May, although they still were $12,000,000 and more under those for March.

Largest for May in Decade.

A point of interest in connection with the export figures was the fact that with the single exception of May, 1907, the present total is the largest for that month in the last decade. It is also true that the import showing is with the exception of figures for May, 1907, the greatest in the same period, but the amount represents, nevertheless, the smallest buying abroad which this country has done for a great many months, and may, therefore, be accepted as a sign of growing economy on the part of the people generally. If the tendency here disclosed holds, and in the recent reduction in commodities, prices, and slowing up of business there is a promise that it will do so—correction of our long continued adverse trade position is assured.

Among other matters more or less discussed in the financial district were the further developments connected with the "railroad bill," which now seems certain of passage in congress with a number of objectionable features intact; the day's weather report, disclosing little or no improvement in conditions existing in wheat and corn territory, where sunshine is much needed, and the usual weekly reviews of iron and steel trades by leading journals in these lines, noting improvement in demand since the opening of the present month, but not in sufficient volume to take care of current capacity, a fact which seems to point to some further curtailment.

Demand Sterling Sags Again.

In the foreign exchange market demand sterling sagged again, and an altogether natural movement in view of better foreign trade figures was the announcement of the sale of $25,000,000 Southern Pacific securities to foreign bankers and the news of negotiations in the same quarters for other blocks of American bonds. Smaller receipts of funds from the interior are noted, and at the same time a lessening of demand from trade quarters. The dullness in stock markets will serve to keep call money easy.

Money on call, steady, 2¾@3 per cent; ruling rate, 2¾; closing bid, 2¾; offered at 2¾. Time loans, easy and dull; sixty days, 3@3¼ per cent, and ninety days, 3¾@3¾; six months, 4@4¼. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 4¾@5¼ per cent. Sterling exchange, steady at recovery, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8425@4.8435 for sixty day bills and at 4.8660 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.83⅝@4.84¼. Bar silver, 53⅜. Mexican dollars, 44. Government bonds, steady. Railroad bonds, irregular.

COTTON CONTINUES QUIET; CLOSING EASY AT SMALL LOSS

Support Does Not Become General and Realizing Develops Later in Day—Spot Steady in New Orleans Market.

New York, June 15.—The cotton market continued quiet today, with fluctuations irregular within a range of 8 or 9 points, and the close easy at a net loss of 2 to 9 points. The opening was steady at a decline of 3@6 points in response to disappointing cables. There was not a great deal of cotton for sale, however, and during the middle of the day prices steadied up to a net gain of about 1@4 points on the general list as a result of the scattered covering and a little bull support, which appeared to be encouraged by reports of rain in the eastern belt and apprehensions that the wet weather would lead to a less bearish July bureau than anticipated.

Support did not become at all general, however, and late in the day the market eased off under realizing with last prices at practically the lowest. Private cables attributed the indifference of the showing of the Liverpool market to less satisfactory trade conditions and said that short time was being resorted to in manufacturing circles. The reports of curtailment abroad in connection with the increasing curtailment among domestic mills is having some influence in the direction of offsetting the strong statistical position, while views as to the outlook for the new crop are confused by the favorable reports from western and central sections of the belt, as contrasted with the talk of too much rain in the eastern belt and numerous advices reporting the presence of boll weevil in all the districts infested last year. A week from next Tuesday will be the first July notice day in the local market and there has been nothing in recent trading to indicate any big speculative short interest still outstanding, but views as to this are almost as much confused as on other phases of the situation and some suggest that the July interest may be waiting for the July condition report before evening up either way.

Southern spot markets were generally unchanged. Receipts at the ports today, 2,289 bales, against 5,105 bales last week and 3,916 last year. For the week, 30,000 bales, against 27,519 last week and 35,786 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 684 bales, against 1,447 last year, and at Houston, 484 bales, against 201 last year.

Spot closed quiet 5 points lower; middling uplands, 15.25c; middling gulf, 15.50c. Sales, 1,246 bales. Quotations on futures:

Why Stagger Under This Unnecessary Burden?

Manufacturers sometimes come to regard their power plant as being the actual power itself. And when they do, then they get the fixed idea that it is really necessary to surrender all the space occupied by engines, boilers, coal, etc., in order to have the power itself. They lose sight of the fact that the plant and the power are not one and the same thing. Power is only directed energy. We know it only by its manifestations. It requires no space other than that occupied by the wires, belt or shafting along which it is transmitted.

Let Central Station Deliver Power Direct To Your Machines

Central Station takes all your power problems off your hands—carries the heavy power plant investment—bears the depreciation charge—looks out for the coal supply—salaries of engineers and firemen—provides emergency equipment and men—reduces your fire and explosion risk—gives you more space—gives you all the power you need, any minute, day and night—the year around. Yet the cost is actually less than to operate your private plant.

WHEAT FUTURES AGAIN OVERSOLD

December and May Show Strength on Big Buying by Outside Investors.

DRY WEATHER IS FEARED

Southwest News Bearish; Shorts Cover in Corn and Oats; Product Easy.

Strength in the deferred futures was the feature of the Chicago wheat market yesterday, and there appeared to be good basis for the belief that some of the larger interests who have been working on the bear side were closing out spreads and evening up trades generally.

Armour brokers were sellers of the July and September on the swells, but there was an absence of heavy pressure, and values rallied easily whenever there was any buying demand. December and May closed ⅝c and 1c higher respectively, while the July was unchanged and September only ⅜c higher.

Trade in the far off months is by no means general, and the moderate buying was enough to give values a sharp boost. Outside trade was light and the market was choppy and nervous throughout the day.

Armour Sells on Bulge.

Early prices were lower, due to the easy cables and better weather in all directions. Private reports of rain at a number of points in the three northwest states gave bears an opportunity and there was quite general selling.

Later the wheat was absorbed by commission houses and a brisk advance was scored, which was in turn largely wiped out by heavy selling on the bulge by Armour and Logan-Bryan. Buying early was headed by Wagner and O'Brien. Later Chapin, Updike, Rankin, Bloom, and Peavey were on the buying side, the latter, however, turning seller on the advance. Hulburd-Warren-Chandler were on the buying side.

Commission houses are more friendly to the bull side as a rule and are sending out advices in many instances to the effect that the selling has been overdone for a time.

Northwest Needs Rain Again.

Weather conditions in the northwest are creating some concern owing to the fact that there has been a deficiency of moisture so far this year. Within the last ten days there have been fair rains in most sections, and at some places the last day or so, but fair weather is predicted, and drought talk was current more than any time yet.

The northwestern markets did not show much snap, but nevertheless there was considerable buying here on the strength of these reports. The season is now approaching when the spring wheat crop is usually reported killed several times before maturity and crop scares are in order.

Across the line in Canada the prospects are excellent, and there have been general rains. Some reports of lack of vigor were current, but most reliable advices say the outlook is fine. The big increase in acreage, with generally favorable conditions otherwise, is depended on to make a big crop.

Oklahoma Grain for Chicago.

Oklahoma wheat was bought to arrive in Chicago for 1½ over the Chicago July, and the southwest reported liberal purchases to arrive for first half July shipment in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas. Local sales were moderate, about 20,000 bu. Primary receipts were 239,000 bu, against 200,000 bu a year ago. Local run was 15 cars, with only 3 cars expected today.

Liverpool finished ⅜@⅞d lower, being affected by larger offerings of spot wheat and the reported more favorable conditions in Germany and on the continent. Other European markets closed as follows: Berlin, ⅝c lower; Budapest, 1¼c up; Antwerp, ⅝c higher, and Paris, ½c up to ¼c off. Reports from Kansas indicate the greatest demand for laborers for harvesting in the history of the state.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 350,000 bu for four days, about half the decrease of a year ago. Clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 149,000 bu.

Corn Offerings Are Light.

Offerings of corn were light, and shorts who sold corn a few days ago on the prospects of warmer weather found that this had been discounted when it arrived and were obliged to cover. Bartlett-Patten were credited with covering short corn and there was buying credited to Comstock and Champlin, who were also supposed to have been short.

Selling was scattered. Prices at the finish were ⅝@½c to ⅜c higher. The cash market was steady to ½c higher, with sales of 110,000 bu. Country offerings were still moderate and in some sections farmers are selling little corn.

Weather conditions were favorable all over the belt, and corn should make rapid progress from now on. Country advices were mixed, but there were more of an optimistic character. Primary receipts were 565,000 bu, against 578,000 bu a year ago. Local receipts, 198 cars; estimate for today, 157 cars.

Oats Are Moved Up Sharply.

Reports from different sections that oats did not look right started this cereal on the up grade, and there was a decidedly strong tone to the market. At the finish prices were close to the best level of the day and showed net gains of ⅜@⅞c. The cash demand was fair, with sales of 255,000 bu. Primary receipts were 377,000 bu, against 439,000 bu a year ago. Local run, 83 cars, with 123 cars expected today.

Hog Products Lose Advance.

Provisions were much higher early, but later there was free realizing and at the close prices were steady to a little lower. Packers were credited with selling a little product on the advance, but the buying power was not so urgent. The cash demand was a little better.

Western hog receipts were 70,600, against 75,400 a year ago. The local run was counted at 22,000, with 17,000 expected today. The demand for fresh meats is making cured product scarce, and having a bullish effect on prices. Liverpool lard was 1s higher and Cumberland sides 6d up. Receipts of product 47 cars and shipments were 81 cars.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 15.—WHEAT—Nervous and erratic, but firmer. The lack of sufficient rain in the northwest was the principal factor in the advance. No damage has been done as yet, but unless showers fall soon it is anticipated. July opened ⅛c lower than yesterday, and after fluctuating in a range of 1¾c closed 1⅛c higher. September closed ⅜@½c higher and December ⅝c higher. Local elevator stocks decreased 350,000 bu for four days. Wheat and flour shipments so far this week were 343,491 bu in excess of the wheat receipts. Minneapolis today received 122 cars of wheat, against 90 cars a year ago; Duluth, 26 cars, against 4 cars; and Winnipeg, 52 cars, against 60 cars; July opened, $1.02⅛; high, $1.03⅛; low, $1.01⅛; close, $1.03⅛; September opened, 91⅝c; high, 92⅝c; low, 91⅜@91½c; close, 92⅜c; December opened, 90c; high, 90⅝c; low, 89⅞c; close, 90⅜c. Cash wheat, firmer. Demand was good for all grades, especially choice milling offerings, and the lower quality showed improved sales. No. 1 northern sold for 1@3½c above the July, and some sales of extra choice were made at 3¾c over. Closing prices: No. 1 northern, $1.05⅛@1.07⅛; to arrive, $1.04⅝@1.07⅛; No. 2 northern, $1.03⅛@1.05⅛; to arrive, $1.02⅝@1.05⅛; No. 3 wheat, $1.00⅛@1.03⅛. CORN—No. 3 yellow, 53½@54c. OATS—No. 3 white, 35⅛@35⅝c. RYE—No. 2, 65@70c. FLAX—Receipts, 3 cars; year ago, 11 cars; shipments, 2 cars; closing price, $1.97. BARLEY—Receipts, 29 cars; a year ago, 35 cars; shipments, 64 cars; demand ruled slow and there was a falling off in the outside inquiry; closing range, 50@58c. MILLSTUFF—Shipments, 1,308 tons. BRAN—In 100 lb sacks, $16.00@16.25. FLOUR—Sales were reported heavier today; demand was generally quoted fair; shipments continued in excess of a year ago and prices held firm; shipments, 42,266 brls; first patents [in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis], $5.00@5.20; second patents, $4.80@5.00; first clears, $3.85@3.95; second clears, $2.60@2.90.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Reports covering the state of Kansas on wheat, received June 15 by Logan Bros. & Co. of Kansas City, show a wonderful improvement in the crop as compared to three months ago. Almost without exception the same people making the reports say there has been an improvement in condition and prospects of big proportions.

In counties where three months ago there was a prospect of as large a crop as a year ago it is now placed at from 10 to 40 per cent more, and points three months ago reporting a promise of from 10 to 50 per cent less than last year now state that the outlook is for the same to 20 per cent less.

Hill City Kas., reports the crop will be a record breaker. Ellis reports 25 per cent more than last year, and Osborne 150,000 bu more than a year ago. Ellinwood and Concordia now claim 10 per cent less compared to estimates of 35 and 30 per cent less in the early spring. Belle Plaine reports 20 per cent less than last year, Mitchell 75 per cent less. Some points in the western part of the state report prospects for two to five times as much as a year ago.

C. W. Buckley is friendly to the bull side of cereals, and believes that all prices are close to the bottom. "Our reports on wheat are not good," said Mr. Buckley, "and the outlook for the other crops is not so bright as a few weeks ago. The weather is the main consideration, and one extreme promises to follow another.

"The northwest is deficient in moisture, and a few weeks of drought in the northwest would be a serious proposition, as there would be no reserve moisture to draw on. With a shortage of wheat in the principal winter wheat states, and the well known holding ability of the farmer, a big upturn is not out of the question.

"Shorts in July wheat, corn, and oats could easily be placed in an awkward position if the harvest is as late as is promised now. Corn is late, and farmers are not selling much, while oats do not look nearly so healthy as two weeks ago."

New crop Oklahoma wheat was bought to come to Chicago yesterday on a basis of 1½c over July here. Kansas City wired that about 100,000 bu new wheat had been bought on overnight bids to arrive first half of July. Reports from Texas were of the same kind and it is expected there will be a free movement in the next few weeks.

The fact that the farmers were willing to sell at present prices was regarded as a bearish indication. In parts of Missouri farmers were said to be inclined to hold for $1.00 a bu for their new wheat, but this kind of reports was not general.

The milling demand here and in the southwest is slow, and it is the general opinion that mills have supplied their needs for the time being, and will be inclined to wait for new wheat.

Crop conditions in the Canadian northwest provinces are excellent according to Winnipeg advices to Walter Beaven. Rain can be dispensed with until July without serious injury to the crop, and outside of sections of Alberta, where some of the wheat was killed there are no complaints of importance. It was stated that "crop killers" would have trouble in picking fault with the crops this year. B. W. Snow wired that oats and barley were fairly jumping, but that wheat showed signs of a lack of full vigor owing to early freezing.

At a meeting of the creditors of W. H. Merritt & Co. held yesterday it was decided to settle with the Bank of Montreal on the basis, it is understood, of a cash payment of 38 per cent in full, and to petition the court to allow the trustee to permit the board of trade creditors to settle among themselves. A creditors' protective committee was appointed as follows: H. A. Rumsey, W. A. Frazer, Robert McDougal, William Dillon, and J. P. Griffin.

The following table gives the exports of grain from the United States for the month of May and for eleven months, with comparisons:

	May, 1910.	May, 1909.
Flour, brls	562,610	525,268
Wheat, bu	2,112,475	2,206,318
Wheat and flour	4,566,520	4,571,906
Corn	1,904,704	1,075,073
Oats	330,744	90,154
For 11 months.	1910.	1909.
Flour, brls	8,406,720	10,007,971
Wheat, bu	43,744,739	64,793,246
Wheat and flour, bu	81,979,979	109,829,117
Corn	32,673,963	34,577,085
Oats	1,469,926	1,416,776

Cash wheat was in moderate demand and prices relatively were about steady. No. 2 hard sold at 1c over the July in store, but the general demand was slow. St. Louis prices were again a little lower, and Minneapolis prices were quoted a shade off relative to the future. Cash corn was steady to ½c up and oats were about ½c better. The market was fairly active, and offerings were moderate.

Grain stored in regular warehouses prior to July 1, 1910, takes the old rate of ¾c per bu for the first ten days, and beginning July 1 the per diem rate will be 1-30c per bu. Grain stored on and after July will be subject to the elevation charge of 1c per bu, including the first ten days, and 1-30c per bu per diem thereafter.

Closing prices in foreign markets show Liverpool spot wheat unchanged to ⅛d lower and futures ⅜@⅞d lower. Paris wheat ½c higher to ¼c lower; flour ⅜@1c lower. Antwerp wheat ⅝c higher; Berlin ⅝c lower, and Budapest 1¼c higher.

J. J. Stream had samples of wheat from Ashland, Ill., showing that the heads are not filling. The wheat was nearly four feet tall, but only a few of the heads had anything in them, and were as dry as husks.

Private reports from the northwest said there had been fair rains at a number of points not showing on the weather map. This caused some selling of wheat early.

Walter C. Hately was on the floor for the first time in several weeks during the day having been laid up at his residence as the result of a bad fall.

Bid prices on the call showed wheat ¼c lower to 1½c higher; corn ½c lower to ⅜c higher; oats steady to ½c higher, and rye unchanged.

Stocks of wheat in Minneapolis decreased 350,000 bu for four days, against a decrease of 675,000 bu for the corresponding time a year ago.

Estimated receipts: Wheat, 8 cars; corn, 157 cars; oats, 123 cars; rye, 2 cars; barley, 34 cars; hogs, 17,000 head.

Joseph E. Thompson and John A. Seymour Jr. have made application for membership on the board of trade.

Winnipeg receipts of wheat were 52 cars, compared with 76 cars a week ago and 60 cars a year ago.

ADVANCE IN HOGS CONTINUES HERE

Porkers Recover All of the Loss Sustained Monday and Top Market at $9.70.

SHEEP VALUES TUMBLE.

Trade Badly Shattered and Closing Transactions Made at a Loss of 75 Cents or More.

What remained of the loss suffered by Chicago hog prices on Monday was recovered yesterday, when an advance of 10@20c brought quotations to the highest point of the week thus far. Outsiders opened the market at the advance, and big packers were compelled to follow on the same basis, amassing their droves of packing hogs at a net gain of 15c for the day. Commission men unloaded their holdings on the speculators at the maximum gain, and the latter resold their supplies to the packers and made a good profit.

An almost complete collapse of the price range took place in the market for sheep and lambs. Early sales of sheep were made at a decline of 50c from the preceding day's figures, but the market lost ground steadily, and closing transactions were made at a loss of 75c or more. Lambs opened at a decline of 50@75c, and looked $1.00 off at the finish.

Good to choice fat beeves were supported on a steady basis, but everything else in the cattle line was lower. Plain to medium steers suffered a loss of 10c, while cows and heifers were off 15@25c, and bulls were largely 20c lower. Calves dropped from $9.00 to $8.50 for assorted vealers, and were slow sale at the break.

CATTLE.

Posting of receipts at 13,000 head sent steer buyers out looking for reductions in prices all along the line. A later summing up of the supply resulted in a reduction of 1,000 head being made in the estimated arrivals, however, and when this cut was followed by the appearance of more generous eastern shipping orders than had been expected the market strengthened materially.

Medium and plain light steers were not benefited by the eastern demand and had to sell at a decline of 10c, but all steers good enough to sell at $7.50 and better held fully steady and cleared with a fair amount of alacrity on local and outside orders. The general quality of the offerings fell far short of Monday's standard, although a two load bunch of 1,581 lb beeves was good enough to bring $8.75, which was as high as was secured on the opening day.

Fair steers valued at $6.50@7.25 had to be sold to packers almost exclusively, as there was scarcely any shipping demand for them and they were disposed of at a disadvantage, as the local killers had around 2,000 Texas cattle and were not in urgent need of additional supplies of plain natives.

Bulls were hit for a loss of 10@20c and a strictly good grade of bolognas had to sell at $4.50, while only a few selected heavy offerings reached $4.75. Prime butcher bulls stopped at $5.75, although there were instances where sales of extra fancy fat offerings were made at $6.00 and higher. Light canner and stocker bulls sold at $3.75@4.00, and the in between grades were a drug on the market.

Country buyers continued to neglect the market for stockers and feeders and sellers were compelled to lower prices another 10c before they could dispose of their holdings. Fresh arrivals were not heavy, but there was a liberal sprinkling of stale stock held by dealers and the demand was not broad enough to support the market on a steady basis. Quotations:

- Beef steers, good to choice .... $7.25@8.75
- Beef steers, plain to good .... 5.75@7.25
- Beef cows, good to choice .... 5.25@6.00

Cattle at six western markets, 35,300, against 29,900 a week ago, 31,100 a year ago, and 40,300 two years ago. Total for 1910 to date, 3,180,000, against 3,181,000 the same period in 1909.

HOGS.

Speculators and the smaller packers opened the market paying 10@20c higher than on the preceding day for all grades of hogs and the big packers were forced to fall in line on the same basis, as salesmen felt that the advance was coming to them and they would not let go of a single drove until bids had been raised that much from the preceding day.

After the first hour practically all the buyers were bidding $9.60@9.65 and commission men unloaded on this basis. Late in the day, when nearly all the hogs left on the market were in the hands of speculators, packers tried to get supplies at lower figures, but they had a hard time weakening the scalpers' stand, and were finally compelled to pay the full advance to round out their orders.

Independent butchers and small packers were generous buyers at the upturn and made up droves that were relatively larger than those secured by the leaders. The latter were not small buyers, however, and the total droves aggregated 15,320 head, which, with the 2,000 head taken by shippers took up all of the fresh receipts and some of the hogs left over from earlier in the week.

Pigs and light hogs sold to better advantage than the heavy weight offerings and topped at $9.70, against $9.55 the preceding day. Stags sold slowly and were seldom taken out of full loads, although the good lightweights were quotable at up to $10.00 and higher. Quotations:

- Bulk of sales .... $9.55@9.65
- Common to good mixed .... 9.45@9.60
- Fair to choice medium weight .... 9.50@9.70
- Select 200@300 lb packing .... 9.60@9.70

- Boars, according to weight .... 4.00@5.00
- Stags, according to weight .... 9.30@10.25

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $9.61, against $9.45 Tuesday, $9.51 a week ago, $7.82 a year ago, and $5.71 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 75,000 hogs, against 62,000 a week ago, 81,100 a year ago, and 108,300 two years ago. Total for 1910 to date, 9,297,000, against 12,262,000 the same period in 1909.

Hog purchases for the day follow: Armour & Co., 5,000; Swift & Co., 3,800; Anglo-American, 700; Boore & Co., 720; Boyd-Lunham, 750; Roberts & Oake, 750; Hammond, 1,000; Independent Packing company, 1,000; Morris & Co., 1,500; Western Packing company, 900; Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, 2,700; butchers, 500; shippers, 2,000; total, 21,320; left over, 6,000.

SHEEP.

There were more sheep and lambs on the Chicago market than there were at all six western points combined a week ago. Besides the heavy supply offered for sale here, packers, who had to be depended upon to furnish an outlet for practically all of the stock, had about 4,000 spring lambs in direct from Louisville. Salesmen realized that lower prices were inevitable, but during first rounds they made a strong effort to keep the break within reasonable bounds.

Sheep had first call, and as a result of salesmen's early jockeying, a few sales were made at the outset at prices which did not show quite 50c loss from the preceding day. It was not long before the market had definitely settled on a flat 50c lower basis, however, and from that level gradual recessions were made until practically all matured muttons were quoted 75c lower for the day.

The lamb trade did not get a start until values had been shaded 50@75c and the downward movement of prices did not stop there. The unsatisfactory condition of the market was intensified by the hesitancy displayed by buyers. Prices were sliding down so fast that they hardly knew when to close a deal and sellers found it almost impossible to get rid of large bands of sheep or lambs, although they had little difficulty in selling small lots when they were willing to make the concessions demanded.

Several of the commission men held stock off the market entirely. They did not do this because they were confident of a higher market later in the week, but rather because they felt that conditions could not be worse and that while there might not be anything to gain there was nothing to lose by holding off.

- Shorn wethers .... $5.00@6.00
- Native ewes .... 4.00@5.50
- Bucks and stags .... 3.25@4.50

Receipts for June 16 were estimated at 5,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 19,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 281 cattle, 16,539 hogs, and 11,552 sheep for Thursday, June 17, 1909.

STOCKYARDS GOSSIP.

Sheep salesmen said that they would have lowered prices with pleasure if packers had shown more disposition to take hold after reductions were made. Buyers, on the other hand, wanted to wait until sure that the downward movement of values was checked before filling orders, and the few who didn't wait wished they had after they saw a 50c decline enlarged to a 75c break.

Packers had 1,100 hogs in direct, one lot of 500 head coming from St. Paul, while 600 head were received from St. Louis. These hogs were purchased on Monday, which indicates that packers had anticipated a bulge in prices here.

Choice yearling steers and heifers met with an urgent demand from local packers, who want small cuts of prime beef for the summer trade. Mossy Levi paid $7.50 for a load of yearling heifers which weighed only 713 lbs.

Native sheep were back in the $5.00 notch at the close of business, which showed that only two days were needed for the buyers to knock off all of the advance which it took sellers two weeks to add to prices.

Sheep receipts here were posted at 36,000 head late in the day. A week ago six western markets, including Chicago, received 27,700 head, while a year ago arrivals at six points were only 24,900 head.

The Farmers and Drovers' Journal's British cablegram quoted American beeves at Liverpool at 15c, or ¼c higher than on last Monday. There were no offerings at London.

Two loads of hogs left from Monday were sold for $125.00 more than the owner could have secured for them on Monday, and other lots showed a proportional gain.

Charley Campbell paid $8.75, the top of the market, for two loads of prime heavy beeves for Schwarzschild & Sulzberger.

Hogs left unsold from Tuesday's market were officially counted at 6,565 head, most of them being held for higher prices.

Chicago Horse Market.

Reports of reduced prices attracted a number of fair sized orders for horses and business had a livelier tone, although no rally from the low summer level was made in quotations. Sales of good heavy commercial horses were made at $190.00@215.00 and there was a fair call for medium weight drafters for service on ice wagons at $165.00@210.00. Light delivery wagon classes sold at $140.00@200.00, with the bulk making $150.00@175.00. Warm, dry weather attracted more orders for desirable drivers and saddlers and sales were made at $150.00@300.00. Receipts for three days this week were placed at 865 head, against actual arrivals of 1,082 a week ago and 1,154 a year ago.

STEEL TRADE IS MORE ACTIVE; JUNE BUSINESS INCREASES.

Demand for Structural Materials Reflects Further Evidences of Concessions—Sheets Not So Strong.

New York, June 15.—[Special.]—The Iron Age will say tomorrow:

"The first half of June has brought more new business to the books of the large producers of finished steel than the corresponding period in May, but the failure of demand to measure up to the capacity is still the commanding feature of the situation. Pig iron has touched new low levels in the last week and that market is paying little attention to the periodic announcements that costs of certain producers have been reached on the way down. The surprising thing in this connection is that the furnaces which cannot stand the pace are not blowing out.

"Competition for the few large pig iron orders that have come out in the last week has been particularly sharp among northern furnaces. Most southern sellers seem to be holding to $12 Birmingham for fourth quarter iron, while $11.50 is the market for June and third quarter delivery. Sales of foundry iron in New England have attracted attention for the low level reached, one 10,000 ton lot bringing out a cut of 50 cents below recent prices. In the Pittsburg district a purchase of 15,000 tons of No. 2 foundry and forge by one interest was at the lowest price of the year, and for the forge iron the lowest price in twelve months. Of steel making iron 15,000 tons was bought by a Shenango valley steel foundry on a sliding scale. A producer of crucible steel is in the market for 15,000 to 20,000 tons of basic for the year beginning July 1.

Concessions Are Being Made.

Cleveland, O., June 15.—The Iron Trade Review in its issue tomorrow will say:

"The iron and steel market has not been characterized by any positive developments. There is considerable softness in pig iron and concessions are being more freely made on some finished products. The attitude of the railroads in regard to buying is still uncertain, but a fair number of orders for structural material and cars have been placed within a few days. The Pennsylvania road is in the market for 5,000 to 7,000 tons of foundry iron and the Baltimore & Ohio road is inquiring for 1,000 tons, but in most parts of the country the inquiry is not heavy. In the valleys low quotations are being made on No. 2 foundry and on malleable. It is estimated that the structural contracts for the first half of the year will amount to 750,000 tons.

"The American Bridge company has taken a large tonnage of bridge material, including 10,000 tons for the Canadian Pacific bridge across the St. Lawrence river and 15,000 tons for the Kentucky and Indiana bridge at Louisville."

STRUTCTURAL DEMAND STRONG.

The pig iron situation remains unchanged in the Chicago district, this week so far being but a repetition of last week as far as trade is concerned—and that means a dull market.

Structural interests have a much more encouraging outlook as well as a busy present. In addition to the contracts mentioned yesterday as being awarded last week and on the first two days of this week, the Milwaukee Bridge company received the contract for erecting new works for the Mineral Point Zinc company at Mineral Point, Wis., requiring several hundred tons of steel, and the north works of the Illinois Steel company was awarded the contract for a 300 ton addition to the shops of the Rock Island Plow company. Besides there are many projects under consideration.

A large contract that went outside the district was received by Milliken Bros. of New York, the fabricating of the new Olympic club at San Francisco, which will require 1,500 tons of steel.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25, 1910.—SALE OF SEGREGATED LANDS and the PINE TIMBER thereon IN the CHOCTAW NATION, OKLAHOMA, under the PROVISIONS of SECTION 7 of the ACT OF CONGRESS, APPROVED APRIL 26, 1906 (34 STAT. L. 137). Sealed proposals, each envelope to be marked "Proposal for purchase of segregated land, and the timber thereon in Choctaw Nation, Oklahoma," and directed to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., will be received until 12 o'clock noon, central time, Tuesday, July 12, 1910, at the office of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., for the purchase of any one or more of the following subdivisions of the lands segregated under the provisions of the act of April 26, 1906 (34 Stat. L. 137), and of the timber thereon. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. The amount of pine timber upon the areas herein specified has been estimated and appraised at a value of $4.00 per thousand, B. M. The estimated value of the hardwoods has been included in the value of the land. The hardwood timber is considered a part of the land, and all proposals shall be made for both the land and the pine timber thereon. Every bidder must inclose with his bid, as a guaranty of good faith, a duly certified check on some solvent National Bank, payable to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for ten per cent of the amount offered for each and every subdivision bid upon. Successful bidders will be required to pay to the Superintendent of the Union Agency at Muskogee, Oklahoma, the full amount of their respective bids within thirty days after the date of the acceptance of their bids by the Secretary of the Interior. The deposit made as a guaranty of good faith shall be accepted as a payment of ten per cent of the full amount of the bid. If any successful bidder shall fail, neglect, or refuse to comply with the terms of his bid within the thirty days specified, the deposit made as a guaranty of good faith will be forfeited to the use of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations. The certified checks deposited as evidences of good faith will be returned to depositors whose bids are not accepted. The subdivisions offered are designated below as Subdivisions A, B, and C. Subdivision A, consists of the unallotted, appraised land and timber, in Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 15, 16 and the west ½ of Section 14, Township 9 South, Range 26 E. The pine upon this subdivision was appraised at a value of $74,660.00, and the total value of the land, hardwoods and pine, was appraised at $85,324.65. Subdivision B, consists of the unallotted, appraised land and timber in Sections 1, 2, 11, 12, 13 and the East ½ of Section 14, Township 9 South, Range 26 E. The pine upon this subdivision was appraised at a value of $66,804.00, and the total value of the land, hardwoods and pine, was appraised at $75,558.00. Subdivision C, consists of the unallotted, appraised land and timber in Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 16, 17 and 18, Township 9 South, Range 27 E. The pine upon this subdivision was appraised at a value of $50,860.00, and the total value of the land, hardwoods and pine, was appraised at $59,980.72. Since the above appraisement was made a cyclone has passed over the eastern part of the segregated territory, and about four million feet B. M. of damaged timber has been removed. However, no rebate from the amount bid upon any subdivision shall be allowed because of the removal of or the deterioration of any timber since the appraisement was made. Lands traversed by railroads will be sold subject to the railroad rights of way. For further information application should be made to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes at Muskogee, Oklahoma, from whom detailed appraisement lists and blank forms of proposals may be secured.

Approved April 25, 1910.
R. A. BALLINGER, Secretary.
R. G. VALENTINE, Commissioner.

OLD TATTERSALL'S BEING TORN DOWN

Building, Scene of Many Athletic Encounters, Has Outlived Usefulness.

PERIL TO PEDESTRIANS.

South Side Flat Property Exchanged for Strawn (Ill.) Farm Lands.

Having outlived its usefulness, Tattersall's, at the southeast corner of Dearborn and Sixteenth streets, for many years one of the most prominent of the large structures of the city, is being torn down. The great glass roof is nearly all removed, and the work of demolishing the walls is about to begin.

President Harrison B. Riley of the Chicago Title and Trust company, which has charge of the property, stated yesterday that the determination to wreck the building was due to its dangerous condition and the fear that passing people might be injured, as its walls are bulging and roof sagging. It had been found, he said, that it would cost about $30,000 to repair the building, which cost, it was thought by the owners, could hardly be justified by any prospective use of the building.

"The building has just outlived its usefulness," said Mr. Riley, "and it was thought best to avoid a disaster it was best to demolish it."

The building occupies the entire block on the east side of Dearborn street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, with a frontage of 362 feet and a depth of 161 feet to an alley. It was erected in 1891 at a cost of nearly $300,000 by the Chicago American Horse exchange, representing English capital for the greater part, and the purpose was to make it a great horse exchange, similar to Tattersall's in London, after which it was named.

Scene of Athletic Events.

This purpose, however, was realized only to a limited extent, and while in its early days it was the scene of several horse shows, it subsequently was used for several other purposes where a large amount of space was required, including political conventions, athletic events, circuses, and also for armory purposes.

It never was a paying venture, and with the erection of the Coliseum on Wabash avenue it came to be used only occasionally.

The American horse exchange, which erected it, purchased the ground in 1890 and in 1893 leased it for a term of ninety-nine years to Tattersall's, a corporation of Illinois. This lease, however, was cancelled in 1897 owing to trouble in connection with the ground rent, and the exchange conveyed it to Edward Courage of London, one of the largest stockholders in the enterprise. Later Mr. Courage conveyed the property to Bertram M. Winston, who in 1903 conveyed it to Attorney Henry A. Ritter.

In 1905 the property was purchased by Joy Morton, who later sold it to the Chicago Title and Trust company for the syndicate, which was acquiring much land in that immediate vicinity for reported warehouse purposes.

It is said that the present demolition of the building has nothing to do with any plan of the syndicate for going ahead with its project and that the latter practically has been abandoned. The property is said to have been on the market some time ago, but it has since been withdrawn, although this is declared to have no significance.

Deals in Flat Property.

A big transaction in south side flat property involving an exchange with Illinois farm lands has just been closed. N. W. Salisbury of Strawn, Ill., has sold to James M. Clark of Peoria the apartment building with 114x170 feet of ground at 6024-6032 South Park avenue for $100,000, subject to an incumbrance of $57,600. In exchange Mr. Clark conveyed to Mr. Salisbury a tract of 1,051 acres in Adams county, Ill., valued at $90,000, and subject to an incumbrance of $30,000.

James M. Ball has sold to W. Worth Bean, the flat property with 75x161 feet of ground, west front, in Michigan avenue, 223 feet north of Fifty-sixth street. The consideration is $1, subject to an incumbrance of $16,000.

The apartment house property at the southeast corner of Oakdale and Evanston avenues, with 125x197 feet of ground, has been sold by Charles E. Gildersleeve Jr. to Lawrence Williams. A consideration of $10 is given in the deed, but the sale is subject to an incumbrance of $23,500. In part payment the seller took the property at the southwest corner of Eighty-fourth street and Springfield avenue, 457x125 feet, and other property valued at $16,000.

In another transaction Mr. Gildersleeve appears as selling to Richard Mates 232x125 feet at the northwest corner of Eighty-fourth place and Springfield avenue, the consideration being withheld.

Grand Avenue Building Sold.

Leon T. Wilson of Evanston has purchased from M. Laroceo and R. Angerola the premises 947-949 Grand avenue for $17,250. The improvements, consisting of a four story store and flat building, are said to have been given little value in the transaction, making the sale at the rate of about $400 a front foot. The property adjoins the Chicago Commons on the east. Peabody, Houghteling & Co. represented both parties to the transaction.

The International Chemical company, by Anton Myers, vice president, conveyed to Mrs. Elizabeth Lawrence the property in Canal street, 249 feet north of Thirty-second street, 50x124 feet, east front, with factory improvements for $1, subject to an incumbrance of $11,000 assumed. Mrs. Lawrence subsequently conveyed the property to Benjamin R. Mowery for $25,000, subject to an incumbrance of $11,000.

The property at 809-811 Michigan avenue, Evanston, consisting of a three story and basement six flat building, has been sold by William Zimmerman to Doris E. Grossberg. The consideration is nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $16,500. Alphеus B. Stickney has conveyed by quitclaim to the Chicago Title and Trust company 80 acres in the town of Stickney, no consideration being given.

This completes practically the conveyance of all the Stickney property to the trust company.

Max and Simon Klee have given a trust deed to Jacob C. Simon to secure a loan of $60,000 ten years at 5 per cent. This is in connection with their recent purchase of $85,000 in Milwaukee avenue between Division street and Ashland avenue.

TRADE IS BRISK IN WATERMELONS

Receipts of Nine Cars in Chicago Market Meet with Hot Weather Demand.

POTATO PRICES LOWER.

Prices of New Crop Continue to Fall; Close 2 Cents Weaker for the Day.

Nine cars of watermelons were received at Chicago yesterday. They met with a brisk hot weather demand, and sold more freely than on any previous day this season. Gem melons were also in more liberal supply than previously, and this enabled buyers to supply their wants at unchanged prices, in spite of the fact that orders were much more numerous. Berries and other fruits showed little change in value, and were only moderately active.

New potato prices continued on their downward slide, and closed 2c lower for the day. Old crop potatoes were slow sale but unchanged in prices. Dairy products met with a moderately active call at old quotations, and a slight decline in the price of spring chickens was the only change reported in poultry values.

EGGS.

A fair local consumptive demand, moderate outside shipping orders, and a falling off in arrivals enabled dealers to support the egg market on a steady basis. Prices were not changed, but the trade did not have the buoyant undertone of a few days ago and heavy buyers were anticipating reductions in the near future. Receipts were 13,842 cases, against 22,223 cases for the same day last week. Quotations:

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 15.—EGGS—Steady, 17c.

BUTTER.

Demand for butter favored the extreme qualities, and while a prompt clearance was made of all fancy, high scoring creameries, and of cheap seconds there was scarcely any call for the intermediate grades. Buyers who wanted stock for cold storage wanted the fancy qualities and were ready to pay the price. Dealers who considered values too high, on the other hand, purchased cheap stock rather than take off color creameries at concessions. This left the intermediate qualities with no reliable outlet. Receipts for the day were 16,240 tubs:

Extra creamery	27c	Do seconds	24½c
Extra firsts	26½c	Packing	20½@21c
Do firsts	25½c	Dairies, extras	25c

NEW YORK, June 15.—BUTTER—Easy; receipts, 15,636 tubs; creamery specials, 27¾@28c; extras, 27¼c; third to first, 25@26½c; state dairy, common to finest, 23@27c; process, second to special, 22½@25½c.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 15.—BUTTER—Steady; extra western creamery, 29c; do nearby prints, 30c.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 15.—BUTTER—Steady; creamery, 23@27c.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 15.—BUTTER—Market unchanged; creamery extras, 26c; firsts, 24c; seconds, 22c; packing stock, 20½c.

CHEESE.

Swiss and limburger cheese sold at firm prices, with scarcely any of the old Swiss stock left on the market. American makes were easier, however, and dealers were apprehensive lest the heavy arrivals, which are expected to follow the rise in temperatures, result in a break in prices. The local consumptive demand for cheese was only moderately active. Quotations:

Western twins	13½c	Swiss, new	17@17½c
Daisies	14½c	Limburger	13½c
Young Americas	15c	Brick	13½c
Longhorns	15c

APPLETON, Wis., June 15.—CHEESE—Nineteen factories offered 1,358 boxes of cheese on the call board. Sales were made of 169 boxes of cheddars and 755 boxes of twins at 14⅝c and of 314 boxes of twins at 14⅝c, while 120 boxes were withdrawn.

NEW YORK, June 15.—CHEESE—Steady. Receipts, 9,383 boxes. State, whole milk, new, average prime, 13¾c.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 15.—CHEESE—Steady; New York full creams, choice, 14½c; do fair to good, 13¾@14¼c.

POULTRY.

Spring chickens were lowered 1c, while other descriptions of live and iced poultry were supported on a steady basis. The market for broilers was weakened by heavy accumulations from earlier in the week and when more liberal express runs were received sellers were compelled to shade prices. Retailers and dressers were the principal buyers of live offerings, and there was a moderate call for supplies from outside shippers. Quotations:

Live—		Iced—
Fowls	15½c	Chickens	16c
Springs	23@25c	Roosters	12c
Roosters	10½c	Turkeys	18@20c
Turkeys	15c	Ducks	13@15c
Ducks	14c	Geese	7@10c

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 15.—POULTRY—Slow; chickens, 14½c; springs, 19@21c; turkeys, 16½c; ducks, 12c; geese, 7c.

NEW YORK, June 15.—POULTRY—Dressed dull; western broilers, 25@28c; fowls, 15@20c; turkeys, 15@18c.

VEGETABLES.

Railroads reported 28 cars of green vegetables, 18 cars of old crop potatoes, and 40 cars of new potatoes received. The latter sold at $1.03 for the best red stock, being 2c off for the day. The supply of green vegetables showed a big decrease, but the demand was correspondingly contracted and sellers reported the trade quiet and easy. Shippers did not appear to hold many large sized orders, while retailers, anticipating a half day holiday Thursday, confined their purchases to most pressing needs. Peddlers operated on a liberal scale, but held their bids at a low level. Quotations:

Asparagus, Ottawa	$1.75@2.00	Pieplant, bunch	6@10c
Cucumbers, doz.	25@40c	Turnips, new, box	40@65c
Carrots, new, boxes	40@65c	Radishes, 100 bunches	50@75c

Beets, new, box	40@65c	Sweet corn, brls	$3.00@4.00
Green peas, bu basket	$1.00@1.75
Cabbage, crates	75c@$1.25

FRUITS.

Warm weather had a stimulating influence on the demand for watermelons, gems, and lemons, and they sold more briskly than on any previous day in a long time. Receipts of watermelons were 9 cars and prices ranged from $325.00@675.00 per car, according to size. California gem melons made $2.50@3.00 for standard crates and met with favor at the prices. Lemons were in moderate supply and fancy offerings sold at an advance of 25c. Only one car of peaches was received. This proved sufficient for the requirements of the trade and values held at a steady level. Receipts of Michigan strawberries were 6,000 cases. Higher prices were secured for sound ripe berries, but there was no improvement in the market for common, soft offerings, of which there were heavy accumulations. Quotations:

Apples—		Oranges, box	$3.00@3.75
Ben Davis, brl	$4.00@5.00	Strawberries, Mich., qts.	$1.50@1.60
Do box	$2.00@2.50	Blackberries, 24 qts.	$2.00@3.00

PERSONAL PROPERTY LOANS.

IF YOU WANT MONEY

Come and get our figures on the deal.
The best rates and the best terms are what we'll offer you.
Small or large amounts as you may want. We're not particular.
We act as bankers to those who have no real estate and who do not wish to ask favors of friends.
No indorser required either. The fact that you are located in the city and have good prospects will satisfy us, and you can borrow here. We make loans quickly and confidentially.
We're modern and businesslike in our methods and are known as the "most reliable" money lending firm. If you want money for any purpose call personally and talk it over with us. The cost is small—the convenience great.
Try us today. For 30 years the most reliable firm, the most reasonable firm.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or incomes from other sources] who wants large or small sums confidentially with or without security. My location [30 minutes from loop district] and my being the president of a large wholesale vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing] and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings where money lenders congregate. My customer's name and address are known only to me; my employes know accounts only by serial number. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that exorbitant charges for any time are burdensome. My average price, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, often less, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care the Englewood Co., 1101-1105 E. 63d-st., corner Greenwood-av. Telephone Hyde Park 4338.

QUICK LOANS ON INCOMES—IF YOU WANT money you can come to us with positive assurance of courteous, confidential treatment, as we deal only with the BETTER CLASS OF MEN and WOMEN and on terms and conditions that meet with their approval. LA SALLE FINANCE CO., 905 Tacoma Bldg., Madison and La Salle-sts.

MASON FINANCIAL CO.,

SALARY LOANS. SALARY LOANS.
Money to loan to better class of salaried employes and to the honest workingman, no matter what his position, on your plain note.
NO INDORSEMENT NECESSARY.
We will give you the fairest rates you can get in Chicago. You can pay us back in either weekly or monthly payments to suit yourself.
Our dealings are confidential, and we give a written guarantee not to enforce payment through your firm.
LONG ESTABLISHED AND RELIABLE.
Come and see us when you want a loan.
MASON FINANCIAL CO.,

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE—
YOU CAN borrow money of us in small sums as well as large. Men and women employed—business men, too—we give you the fairest terms in Chicago. LADIES of reputable family may EASILY BORROW on their own name and promise. Twelve years established. Close to State-st. stores. Our interest is 6 per cent per year. All our charges included are within the very MINIMUM WHICH YOUR PERSONALITY FIXES and consistent with justice. Straightforward and courteously we offer money to any MAN or WOMAN of honorable intention of repayment, with or without security. Tel. Central 7054 or call. Private office [also ladies' room] connected with banking room.
